CEILING ESTABLISHED ON 1942 ONION SETS

Temporary sixty day ceilings have been placed on the 1942 crop of onion sets by OPA, at the highest levels at which sales were made by growers or merchandisers during the five days between February 10 and 14, 1943. Both commercial growers and "Victory gardeners" will benefit by the regulation. The new ceilings reflect an average price to the grower of about $5 a bushel and are more than double the price paid during the 1937-1941 seasons.

It is said the word "tip" comes from the initials of the phrase "to insure promptness."

MINNESOTA READY TO OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR HELP ON FARM

Paul Miller, Head of Extension Work, Is Chairman of New Group

Under the leadership of Paul E. Miller, chief of the Agricultural Extension Service, Minnesota this week was set to begin an "all out" drive to mobilize every available farm worker, as a major part of the government's sustained effort to obtain maximum food production in 1943.

More and more, it is becoming evident that food, feeds, and fibres constitute the state's major contribution to the nation's war effort, and observers are agreed that the excellent start now made, with respect to providing farmers with needed help, was February's most important development on the home front.

"The first thing that must be accomplished," Miller said, "is to give farmers definite assurance that everything possible that is worthwhile will be done to provide them with the help that they will need so urgently."

"We recognize," said Miller, "that tremendous problems lie ahead and that all our resources will be taxed to the utmost, if a serious shortage of farm hands is to be avoided. While our plans have not yet been fully developed, we appreciate that there will have to be a mobilization of townspeople somewhat along the line of the 'Goodhue Plan' and other local efforts that were so effective last year. But that is little more than a start. Youths 16 and 17 years old will have to be trained. The womanpower of the state will prove invaluable.

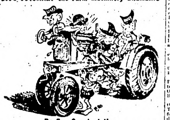
"Arrangements will have to be made to use some of the manpower in state institutions, particularly persons who are incarcerated for non-violence crimes. We know that we have to 'scrape the bottom of the barrel' and that we will have to use young people, old people, and womenfolk, and that training will constitute an important part of our effort. There just isn't any single pool of labor upon which we can call. Hence our purpose is to investigate of which heretofore have not been considered at all."

Perfection of the federal-state set-up, Miller explained, will give producers in every part of the state the full benefit of the several county agents' services as well as the widely distributed full-time and volunteer offices of the U. S. Employment Service.

OLD RUG YIELDS 197 SILK STOCKINGS

Stillwater. -- Some years ago, back in the days of "silk stockings aplenty," Mrs. Harry Palmer made a fine rug from discarded hose. Eager to do her bit in the war effort in every possible way, she has recently unraveled her rug, washed and sorted the stockings and turned over 197 silk stockings to the government.

Let's OUTSMART the Farm Machinery GREMLINS



Be Our Guest at the

FARM COMMANDO TRACTOR SCHOOL

In Charge of Factory-Trained Men

Sat., Mar. 6, Thief River Falls

at 2:00 P. M.

You are cordially invited to be our guest at the Farm Commando tractor school, dedicated to the boys in the service from this community.

Let's get our farm equipment Ready to Roll and keep it that way. That's the theme of the Farm Commando School. Food is a vital weapon; our boys and their allies on the fighting fronts need every pound we can send them. To do it, we've got to lick the "gremlins," those little snipers that threaten to sabotage overworked farm equipment. Factory-trained men at the Farm Commando School can show you how to head them off, how to get more work out of your A-C tractor and keep it rolling on to Victory.

Everyone interested is welcome. We suggest that you bring several from your neighborhood in your car — save gas and tires. It will be a golden opportunity to get together . . . perhaps locate the help or machine you have been looking for.

We hope you will accept our special invitation to attend. It will be interesting, entertaining and you will enjoy every minute of it!

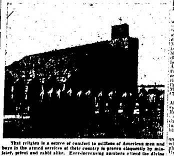
Americans Everywhere Prepare for Lent



That religion is a source of comfort to millions of American men and boys in the armed services of their country is proven eloquently by minister, priest and rabbi alike. Ever-increasing numbers attend the divine services conducted by chaplains of all faiths. The beginning of the Lenten season, on March 10, will see even more soldiers, sailors and marines turn to Heaven for spiritual guidance. Above: a platoon of marines enters the new chapel at the Parris Island, S. C., marine base. The chapel has a seating capacity of 700 and is used by both Protestant and Catholic faiths.

State Road Patrolmen Jail 797, Help 3,030 Drivers in Past Month

State highway patrolmen arrested 797 traffic law violators during the first month of 1943, according to the January report submitted this week by Chief Elden Rowe to M. J. Hoffmann, state highway commissioner.

During the same month "do not repeat" warning tickets were issued to 610 drivers and 3,779 motorists were given verbal warnings for less serious traffic offenses. Patrolmen during the month gave aid to 3,030 motorists of which 1,724 required minor adjustments or repairs to cars stranded on the highway.

Five hundred twenty-seven cars, an extraordinarily large number, were pulled out of ditches during the month by highway patrolmen and garages were called for 88 other motorists who required assistance the patrolmen with their light equipment were unable to render.

Of the traffic law violators arrested 287 went to court for failure to have obtained their 1943 registration plates. Excessive speed was cause for the arrest of 153 drivers; going through stop signs for 78; improper passing, 38; careless driving, 51; improper passing, 38; and driving while drunk, 21.

Driving with improper equipment caused 72 arrests and other violations included driving in the wrong lane, improper parking on the roadway, exceeding legal gross load weights, and driving without proper drivers licenses. Fines imposed totalled $5,611.

Forfeiture of Drivers Licenses Shows Marked Drop in the Past Month

Minnesota motorists got off to a law-abiding start for the first month of 1943, according to the January report of the drivers license bureau to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. Driver's license revocations and suspensions for traffic law violations during the opening month of the year dropped far below those of January, 1942. Last month's revocations were 48 per cent below those of the corresponding month of the previous year, and suspensions dropped off more than 45 per cent.

Total driver's license revocations for January were 166 as compared with 310 in the previous January and last month's suspensions were 242 as compared with the previous January figure of 486.

Of the revocations, 120 were for driving while drunk, ten for repeated speeding offenses, five for reckless driving, six for habitual inebriacy and 14 for driving a car without the owner's permission. Only one woman driver was among the victims.

Speeding again held the lead among traffic offenses which caused drivers to lose their permits. Of the 242 suspensions, 70 were for speeding, 35 for reckless driving, 18 for running through "stop" signs and signals and 32 for failure to establish financial responsibility after an accident.

"TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE"

Triumph.—There is a force greater than ourselves. This was evidenced by the following letter received from a California friend by a local store keeper last week: "Twenty some years ago I took a bar of candy from your store and today I find I must make retribution, so I am sending you a dime. I don't want anything between my soul and the Saviour."

TAXPAYERS SEEK STATE TAX SLASH AS WAR MEASURE

New Booklet Reveals Large Increases in State Revenue

Confronted with financing a global war, the federal government will require all the money the citizens can pay, and it is no time for the Minnesota Legislature to make unnecessary expenditures.

This is the theme of an informative booklet of the Minnesota Taxpayers association, prepared for attention of state legislators.

It reveals that state revenues have grown from about 45½ million dollars in 1934 to 82 millions in 1941—that income tax collections soared from a little more than a million dollars in 1934 to nearly eighteen millions (estimated) in 1943.

Commending the policy that has cut state property tax levies from 16½ millions in 1934 to 9½ millions in 1942, the taxpayers' booklet suggests that the state could continue this policy until it eliminates entirely its levies of real and personal property taxes. If this were done, the booklet points out, local communities would be better able to meet their own needs without constant appeal to the state.

Money and credits taxes were called unfair because it is paid by some persons while others do not pay it. This is unjust to many taxpayers, and calls for drastic modifications of this tax.

It is pointed out also that while the tax rate of $3 per $1,000 has never been changed, money values have changed. Income on $1,000 now amounts only to $15 or $20 yearly, while at one time such income would yield about $50 yearly. The tax, therefore, has increased about two and one-half times.

The taxpayers' booklet calls attention to the fact that 1,800 local municipalities in the state have held down tax levies to help the citizen in wartime, and it asks: "Can the Minnesota Legislature do less?"

Crop Improvement Assn. Offers Suggestions on Seed Barley Varieties

The great importance of selecting proper seed in order to produce premium malting barley has been revealed to the press by Henry O. Putnam, executive secretary of the Northwest Crop Improvement Association, Minneapolis, formed to help improve agricultural income through scientific diversification on Northwest farms.

"Many farmers do not realize that barley must meet rigid specifications to classify as malting and be eligible for the premiums gladpaid by maltsters. Many varieties of barley cannot meet these specifications," said Mr. Putnam. "Farmers who continue the growing of undesirable varieties must be content with stock-feed prices for their barley surplus."

Mr. Putnam has made definite recommendations of varieties that have proven satisfactory to the maltster. These varieties include Wisconsin 38, Velvet, Manchuria, Odessa and Oderbrucker. They are all six-rowed varieties. Wisconsin 38 is most generally grown while Odessa is chiefly grown in South Dakota.

Two rowed varieties are usually unsuitable for malting and a mixture of over 5 per cent of them in a malting type barley will remove it from the malting class.

Mr. Putnam suggests that producers consult their county agricultural agent or experiment station for local varital and fertilizer information.

Eating Establishments Warned on Frozen Meats

Theodore T. Wold, director of the state hotel and restaurant inspection division, cautioned operators of restaurants and other eating establishments throughout the state about the storing and sale of frozen meats to the public.

It is common practice in many restaurants to store meats in sheds and cabinets and to depend on natural freezing methods for refrigeration. With rising and changing temperatures such food products are subject to decomposition and rapidly become unfit for human consumption.

State hotel inspectors are vigilantly watching for such offenders and will not tolerate practices of this sort, said Mr. Wold.

BROTHERS CONTACT AFTER 50 YEARS

Goodhue.—Not infrequent are instances of brothers meeting after periods of 30 or 40 years, but a 50-year separation and then reunion is rare. Christ Raasch, age 87, convalescing in a local hospital was probably the happiest man in the country last week when he received a letter from his brother Gust Raasch from whom he had not heard since Gust left Goodhue county 50 years ago.

Plant your victory garden right. Every seed wasted deprives our nation of needed food.

FARM FOR VICTORY BY KEEPING SAFE

Adjusting and clearing farm machinery in motion is an invitation to death and injury.

Accidents resulting from carelessness, failure to keep guards or shields securely in place or to stop machines before tampering with them, costs 200 lives and thousands of hands, arms and legs each year.

As many man-days are lost through farm accidents annually as would be required to produce two-and-a-quarter times the entire wheat crop of the United States.

Governor Stassen has called upon the farmers of Minnesota to enlist in the campaign of the National Safety Council's War Production Fund to Conserve Manpower—to reduce needless accidents by preventing them.

YOUR INCOME TAX

By Bureau of Internal Revenue

Income of Farmers

Farmers, which include livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, poultry raisers, and operators of plantations and ranches, are liable for Federal income tax returns provided their income is sufficient to require the filing of returns. Primarily, due to the reduction in the credit for personal exemption, many farmers will be liable for returns and to the tax for the first time for the year 1942.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040. Use of Form 1040F is optional in the case of farmers who report income on the accrual basis. A farmer who reports income on the cash receipts and disbursements basis (in which no inventories to determine profits are used) must include in gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash or the value of merchandise or other property received during the taxable year from the sale of livestock or produce which were raised, regardless of when raised; (2) the profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased; and (3) gross income from all other sources.

Under the accrual basis in which inventories are used to determine the profits, farmers' gross profits are ascertained by adding to the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the end of the year the amount received from the sale of livestock and produce, and miscellaneous receipts of income during the year, and deducting from this sum the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the beginning of the year and the cost of livestock and produce purchased during the year. All livestock, be included in inventory at their whether purchased or raised, must proper valuation. Livestock acquired for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes and not for sale, may be included in the inventory instead of being treated as capital assets subject to depreciation, provided such practice is consistently followed.

If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries, or the like, the market value of the articles received in exchange is to be included in gross income. The value of farm products which are produced by a farmer and consumed by his family does not constitute taxable income. Rents received in crop shares are to be returned as income as of the year in which the crop shares are reduced to money or the equivalent of money. Proceeds of insurance, such as hail and fire insurance on growing crops, are required to be included in gross income.

Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation may, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered as income and included in gross income for the taxable year in which received. The election once made is binding for all subsequent years unless the Commissioner approves a change to a different method of accounting. Amounts received under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the Price Adjustment Act of 1938, section 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and the Sugar Act of 1937 constitute taxable income to the recipients for federal income tax purposes.

Montgomery Ward's Statement TO THE NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

February 27, 1943

National War Labor Board
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:

A National War Labor Board panel has recommended that the Board issue another order against Montgomery Ward and Co. imposing upon Wards' six large stores in Denver, Detroit and New York City:

1. A form of closed shop, called "maintenance of membership," together with a check-off of union dues from wages.
2. Compulsory arbitration of any question the union wishes to raise.

Wards objects to the proposed order for these reasons:

1. The War Labor Board is without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the Constitution, has not empowered the Board to order any employer to adopt these requirements.
2. The War Labor Board, by ordering a closed shop in this case, will be furthering disrespect for constitutional authority. The Board is attempting to assume a power to make rules and laws by executive fiat alone. The public is being deceived into believing that the Board's orders have the force of law, when in fact they have no such effect. Employees are being confused and deceived into believing that their government desires them to join labor unions when in fact the national policy as declared by Congress is that employees are free to join or not, as they wish. Thus the Board is destroying the very essence of democracy, the right of the people to make laws through those whom the people elect for that purpose.
3. The War Labor Board, by promiscuously granting some form of the closed shop, is destroying the laws constitutionally enacted by Congress. The National Labor Relations Act endorses, guarantees and encourages the process of collective bargaining. The orders of this Board, however, have led the unions to abandon collective bargaining. The union in this case has rushed to the War Labor Board in the conviction that the Board will grant more than it could obtain through collective bargaining, the procedure which Congress has sought to protect and encourage. Other unions are following the same course. Thus the Board, by this proceeding and by its policies as proclaimed in other proceedings of this nature, is nullifying the public policy of the nation as declared by Congress and set forth in the National Labor Relations Act. Laws passed by Congress, the only law-making authority under our Constitution, can not legally be repealed by executive decree.
4. The proposed order would require Wards to violate the law. It would require Wards, first, to interfere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union by a check-off of union dues; and third, to discriminate against employees if they resign their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations Act.
5. Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition. If the retail industry is to be subjected to the closed shop and arbitration requirements, they should be legislated by Congress and applied uniformly against all retail establishments.
6. The proposed order would require Wards to surrender to outside arbitrators the final decision on all matters which the union may wish to treat as grievances. Thus Wards' sixty thousand shareholders would be deprived of the right to direct, through the management they select, the affairs of the corporation they own.
7. Under this "maintenance of membership" form of closed shop, employees are not free to resign from the union without losing their jobs. Wards is compelled to discharge every union member who fails to maintain his union membership in good standing (non-payment of dues, etc.). "Maintenance of membership" is the starting phase which inevitably leads to the full closed shop and a labor monopoly.
8. The proposed order violates the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join, to refuse to join, or to resign from a union without losing his job. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.
9. Wards has consistently defended these principles of liberty. In times of peace, Wards successfully denied all demands for the closed shop in any form. Two years ago the Teamsters' Union, in an effort to force a closed shop, maintained a vicious seven months strike against Wards' retail stores and mail order houses on the Pacific Coast. Two mail order houses and six retail stores were forced to close, forty-three other stores were picketed, and Wards suffered damages exceeding two million dollars. Employees were slugged, customers abused, and property destroyed. The railroads, the express companies, the truckers and finally the United States Post Office obeyed the demands of the union and, with total disregard for their obligations to the public and in violation of law, refused service to Wards and its customers. Nevertheless, Wards, while announcing its willingness to bargain and to contract with the union, refused to compromise the principles it was defending. The strike did not end until the union, in writing, withdrew its demand for a closed shop.

   Even if the War Labor Board had the authority which it lacks, it should not, in time of war, when sacrifices are demanded of all, grant to any union a privilege it could not have obtained in time of peace.

Wards has no quarrel with legitimate union practices. However, Wards strongly opposes the War Labor Board's illegitimate attempts to sabotage our laws and to socialize all industry, ostensibly as a part of the war effort.

Wards desires to continue to obey the law, to preserve constitutional government, to maintain management by ownership, to remain competitive, and to leave its employees free to belong or not to belong to a union as they wish.

In accordance with these principles Wards must reject any proposals which require it to enter into contracts which it believes to be illegal, or to surrender principles which it considers to be fundamental. In so doing, Wards is taking the course which good citizenship requires.

MONTGOMERY WARD AND COMPANY
(Signed) SEWELL AVERY
President

U. S. INCOME TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED BY MAR. 15

No Extension of Time to be Granted, Collector Declares

Arthur D. Reynolds, collector of internal revenue, today said that the number of income tax returns filed by individuals is below the number which could be reasonably be expected at this time. He again pointed out that an income tax return must be filed by every single person whose gross income from all sources was $500 or more for 1942, and that an income tax return must be filed by every married person living with husband or wife if their combined gross income was $1,200 or more for the year 1942.

The collector said that possibly the delay in filing returns may be attributed in part to an erroneous impression that legislative proposals before Congress, commonly known as "pay-as-you-go" plans will relieve taxpayers from filing their income tax returns for 1942 and paying the first quarterly installment on or before March 15.

He referred to a recent broadcast in which Secretary Morgenthau, Chairman Doughton of the House ways and means committee, and Chairman George of the Senate finance committee made it clear that there is no pending tax plan which will relieve individuals of the necessity of filing income tax returns and paying the first quarterly installment on or before March 15. Chairman Doughton stated the matter succinctly when he said:

"Let me make this fact clear. There has been no cancellation of taxes on 1942 income. There has been no postponement of taxes on 1942 income. There has been no change in the time or place of payment. The first quarterly installment if the income tax is due on or before March 15th."

If You Bake Bread Try the Betty Crocker "Perfect Bread Recipe"

FOR TWO 1-LB. LOAVES*

Serve plenty of bread! Whether you bake it yourself, or serve the fragrant loaves your baker has to sell. Bread is your most economical daily source of healthful food-energy. Be sure you use bread made from enriched flour.

1 cake Compressed Yeast (or 1 pkg. fast granular yeast) . . . 2 cups lukewarm liquid (water, milk, potato water . . . or a mixture) . . . 2 tbsp. Sugar . . . 1 tbsp. Salt . . . about 6¼ cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched FLOUR . . . 2 tbsp. Shortening (melted and cooled)

FOR 8 LOAVES; use 4 times amount in this recipe . . . except yeast (use only 3 times the amount of yeast). For easy measuring use about 6 qt. (6 lb., 12 oz.) flour.*

CRUMBLE yeast into mixing bowl. Add liquid at proper temperature, 80°. Stir in sugar and salt and let stand until thoroughly dissolved, about 5 minutes. Add ½ of the flour. Beat with spoon until almost smooth and very elastic (batter will fall from spoon in "sheets"). Beat in melted and cooled shortening. Add most of remaining flour and work it in with the hand (possibly using the maximum amount) until dough is possible to handle. Mix well.

Turn dough onto lightly floured bare board, cover, let stand 10 min. to tighten up, then knead until smooth and elastic. Round up and set to rise in a greased bowl (covered with damp cloth) at proper temperature (80°) until double in bulk, about 2 hours. Punch down dough. Round up and set to rise again until not quite double in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down dough. Divide for loaves. Round up each part, cover, and let rest 15 min. (to make it easy to handle).

Mold into loaves. Put into greased bread loaf pans, 5¼" x 7¼". In larger pan, use more dough accordingly. The dough should fill pans ½ full. Cover with a damp cloth, and let rise at proper temperature (80°) until sides of dough have reached top of pan and center is well rounded above (1¼ to 2 hours). The dough should feel very light when touched gently with finger.

Bake 35 to 45 minutes . . . using a hot oven (450°) for the first 15 minutes; then reduce heat to moderately hot oven (375°) to finish baking. When baked, bread has a hollow sound when tapped and comes away from sides of pan.

War Stamp Sales Over Half Billion Dollars, Album Drive Opens

SAY YES!

U. S. Treasury photo

Appealing Margaret C. Russell of the War Savings Staff tacks up this new Treasury poster which will be seen from coast to coast. It pictures retailers' slogan, "SAY YES." A drive is underway for Americans to buy additional War Stamps to fill albums and convert them into War Bonds.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The nation's retailers from the tiniest hamlets to the mighty cities are acting as a spearhead in a great Treasury Department campaign to sell the additional War Savings Stamps needed to fill more than 100,000,000 albums now in the hands of the American people.

According to a report released by the Treasury Department today, sales of War Savings Stamps totaled $519,777,170 for the period from May 1, 1941, through November, 1942.

Stamp sales have risen from less than three million dollars per month when they were first introduced to the public to an average of more than fifty million dollars per month at the present time.

The Treasury's slogan, "A half-filled album is like a half-equipped soldier," has been adopted officially by retailers for the campaign.

The importance of the drive is seen in the fact that a War Bond potential of nearly two billion dollars hangs in the balance.

Every War Stamp album, converted into a People's Bond, for which the purchaser pays $18.75 and which matures to $25.00 value when held for 10 years, adds its force to the war effort.

The Treasury Department is counting upon the country's school children to play a powerful role in the success of the SAY YES drive. The volume of stamp and bond sales is at the rate of $250,000,000 for the current school year.

WOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street—she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like, something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

"Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win the war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.

A SHOE TALE FOR RIPLEY

Grand Rapids.—Very often the unusual is encountered in selling shoes to ladies but probably this incident is one of the rarest. Two ladies walked into a local store together to buy shoes. When the salesman measured their feet he found one foot of each lady would require size 5-½ and the other foot of each size 6. The odd sized feet were opposite and two pair of shoes took care of two ladies very nicely, one of each size to each one.

Credit

Dependable credit is the life spring of all enterprise, without which practically all large as well as small development would stop. It was credit that brought the railroads into our northwest empire to make it possible for the pioneer with courage and vision to come in to develope its resources, establish his home, and make it what it is today.

It required courage and a firm faith in the outcome of agriculture in Northwestern Minnesota, and most of all in the character, dependability, and honesty of the farmer for the stockholders of the Northern Credit Company to put $10,000 of their personal money into its capital in the dark business days of 1929 in order to furnish a source of credit to agriculture that was sorely needed.

We are proud today now that our faith in the man on the farm was not misplaced, and to know that conditions have improved far beyond all expectations of sixteen years ago, and that many thousand farmers have established sound credit with us.

CONSIDER TONGUE

Tongue is considered a great delicacy by many. It lends itself to a variety of different methods of preparation, and it is generally well liked.

You all know how good tongue is with spinach. But I think some of you will find the following recipe a little different from any you have used before with tongue—

Beef Tongue Ala Jardiniere

- 1 beef tongue (about 3 lbs.)
- 2 cups diced carrots
- 2 cups diced celery
- 1 cup diced white onion
- 4 cups meat stock
- ½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 4 tbsp. butter

Put tongue in cold water, bring to boiling point and boil gently for 2½ hours. Remove tongue from water, skin and trim, removing bone and gristle from end. Put in roaster and pile vegetables around it. Pour the 4 cups of meat stock in which the tongue was cooked over the tongue and vegetables. Cover and bake. When baked remove tongue and vegetables to platter to keep hot. Brown the flour in a small pan, add the butter and blend. Then thicken the stock in the roaster with flour mixture and cook. Pour some of this gravy over the tongue and vegetables. Serve remaining gravy in gravy dish. Bake 2 hours at 325° F., moderate oven. 8 servings.

Cold tongue makes delicious sandwiches for the lunch box. Or you may like to serve it Glaceed for a Sunday supper or for a luncheon.

Glaceed Tongue

Trim neatly cold slices of tongue. Prepare a stock . . . using liquor from a soup bone or canned consomme or bouillon (from dissolved bouillon cubes, if desired). Add plenty of gelatin to stiffen well . . . 2 tbsp. gelatin to 1 qt. liquid. Let cool until mixture begins to thicken and is almost ready to set. Then dip each slice of cold cooked tongue into it . . . and set slices aside on an oiled platter to become glazed.

Just before serving, arrange slices of tongue attractively on a platter . . . with sprays of watercress and slices or wedges of lemon or tomato. Sprinkle slices of meat with parsley, and place radish roses and olives around and over meat.

FARMERS TO GET GAS FOR PERIOD OF SIX MONTHS

Farmers may obtain gasoline for their tractors, engines, and other non-highway equipment for a period of six months instead of three months under a change in rationing regulations announced by the OPA. The change is being made because of the variability of farming operations which frequently make it difficult for farmers to estimate their requirements for only a three-month period. It will also save the farmers' time.

EVER HEAR OF THE "SHORT SNORTERS?"

Aitkin.—A membership card in the "Short Snorters Club" is the possession of Pete Knopp, resident of this town. As long as he keeps the card he'll never be broke as it is a one dollar bill, inscribed with the autographs of a group of men who together have flown the ocean. The club was organized by U. S. Airmen who have completed a successful trans-oceanic flight. Upon completion of the trip each man in the plane autographs a dollar bill for each of his companions. Members are required to show their "Short Snorter" card at any time another member requests it. If it cannot be produced, a dollar bill must be presented to each member present. At a seaboard airport this requirement has proven to be costly to a member without his card....

DREAMS DO COME TRUE; MAN RECOVERS WATCH

Sleepy Eye.—Robert Runck is no longer wondering, as most folks do, whether or not dreams come true. What he dreamed one night last fall actually was true. While unloading corn on his farm during corn picking Floyd Traver had the misfortune of losing his watch in the corn crib. That night Robert dreamed the watch was in a particular place in the crib and went out early next morning to look for it. He did not find it that morning but just recently Floyd was loading corn from the crib, preparatory to grinding and found his watch in almost the exact spot it had been located in the dream. Except for the fact the leather fob had been chewed by mice, the watch was in good shape.

Kingship? Not For Washington Despite Offers

First President Offered Rule by Discontented Army Officers.

Few Americans know that our country today might be a monarchy but for an act of nobility performed by George Washington on May 22, 1782. The officers of the Revolutionary army had implored Washington to assume royal power, place himself at their head, and rule the country as a king. On May 22, more than a century and a half ago, General Washington refused this invitation in patriotic terms so strong that the idea was dropped.

This incident, which constitutes one of the critical moments in the destiny of America, occurred while General Washington and the Continental army were encamped at Newburgh, on the Hudson. The surrender of Cornwallis had virtually ended the Revolution, but nominally hostilities were still in effect, and Washington was determined to hold the army together against any surprise renewal of the war. As usual his soldiers were poorly clothed and fed, and congress was deeply in arrears in their pay. By then the war had dragged on for seven long years. The struggle had cost many of Washington's officers the loss of their personal fortunes, and the entire enlisted force faced a future of want on being released to civil life.

Discontent High.

Discontent rose to dangerous intensity in all ranks. At length, Col. Lewis Nicola, a respected character on friendly terms with the commander in chief, spoke for the officers as a body when he addressed to Washington a veiled proposal that he take over the government of the country, with the army behind him, and rule it as a king.

The late Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, in his biography of Washington, states that on this occasion Washington was as truly tempted as Caesar, with an offer to make himself king or emperor. The stroke, moreover, would have been easy of accomplishment. The colonies were all beggared by the war. Their governments were slack and weak. The Revolutionary army was the one cohesive, national power in the land. To a man the soldiers worshiped Washington, and with their aid he could have taken over control of the nation. As near as that, at this stage of America's history, was the country to becoming a monarchy.

Not a Temptation.

And yet it was a great distance away. To George Washington the temptation of kingship was no temptation at all. On the contrary he put it aside with far greater and more sincere indignation than did Caesar wave aside the laurel crown. In a letter whose every word should be implanted in the mind of every school child in America, he declined Nicola's offer and rebuked the man who made it. Writing on May 22 1782, he said:

"Sir—With a mixture of great surprise and astonishment, I have read with attention the sentiments you have submitted to my perusal. Be assured, Sir, no occurrence in the course of the war has given me more painful sensations, than your information of there being such ideas existing in the army, as you have expressed, and I must view with abhorrence and reprehend with severity . . .

"I am at a loss to conceive what part of my conduct could have given encouragement to an address, which to me seems big with the greatest mischiefs that can befall my Country. If I am not deceived in the knowledge of myself, you could not have found a person to whom your schemes are more disagreeable . . . Let me conjure you, then, if you have any regard for your Country, concern for yourself or posterity, or respect for me, to banish these thoughts from your mind, and never communicate, as from yourself or anyone else, a sentiment of the like nature."

PANSIES BLOOMING UNDER SNOW BLANKET

Houston.—Noticing green leaves peaking through a snow drift over her last year's bed of pansies one day last week, Mrs. Dolein Virock became curious. Removing the snow and a layer or two of ice she uncovered a portion of the flower bed and to her astonishment found four beautiful full grown pansies. The posies are reposing on the desk of the editor of the local newspaper.

AMERICAN EAGLE RESIDES ON FARM THIRTY YEARS

Princeton.—Some thirty years back Scott Bruce befriended an American Eagle who had the tip of his wing injured by a bullet but was still able to fly. He took him to his farm where the bird has been perfectly content and happy in a shack on the farm all these years. Mr. Bruce named the bird Woodrow, after Woodrow Wilson was was serving his first term as president of the United States. All these years the eagle has been content and happy in a shack on the farm. Several years ago the Rod and Gun club took him to the county fair which made him exceedingly unhappy. When he arrived back home he flew back into his house and used all the expressions in his vocabularly to voice his pleasure. Woodrow passed on to his eternity recently.

WARNS SHIPPERS SPRING HIGHWAY BREAK-UP IS DUE

Highway Commissioner Hoffman Issues Reminder to Truckers

The state highway department this week issued a warning that severe spring breakup conditions in many sections of the state are likely in the very near future to add to war-time transportation problems, already made critical in this region during recent weeks by recurrent snows and ice conditions.

Truckers, shippers and farmers who have been unable to move farm products and other materials because of blocked driveways or other unfavorable transportation conditions were urged to attempt to transport all essential loads before the necessity occurs for restricting load limitations on thousands of miles of unpaved state and local highways. Livestock and other farm products which will be ready for market in the near future should, wherever possible, be transported before road beds are softened by spring thaws, the department asserted. In some sections the breakup may come precipitously with only a few days of warm weather.

Heavy and frequently recurring snows throughout the long winter have added to an excess of soil moisture, and an unusually large amount of heaving, on both paved and unpaved roads has been noted by highway department maintenance engineers throughout many sections of the state.

When the spring thaws come, regardless of the war-time desirability of moving a large volume of material by truck, highways will have to be restricted to definite axle load maximums in order to prevent them from becoming impassable for a long period of time.

Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann pointed out that shippers and truckers who persist in "trying to win the war by overloading" during the spring breakup period will actually, in the long run, be only handicapping the war effort by ultimately bringing about a tieup of all traffic on many sections of road, and prolonging the time necessary to restore the roads to service.

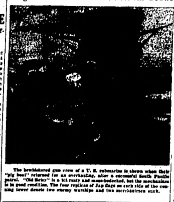
Serious About It

An 18-year-old Detroit youth may be able to fulfill his desire to join the marines instead of serving a jail sentence. The youth, Donald Burns, was convicted of breaking into a gasoline station. His explanation was that he wanted the money to pay for dental work so that he could qualify for enlistment in the marines. A dentist volunteered to repair the youth's teeth. Court attaches told Burns he probably would be released on probation so that he could enlist.

'Pig Boat' Back From Successful Prowl



The bewhiskered gun crew of a U. S. submarine is shown when their "pig boat" returned for an overhauling, after a successful South Pacific patrol. "Old Betsy" is a bit rusty and moss-bedecked, but the mechanism is in good condition. The four replicas of Jap flags on each side of the conning tower denote two enemy warships and two merchantmen sunk.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Mother, What Can I Do?

"What can I do?" "What can I do?" Is there any mother who has not been tormented by this persistent plea on these long cold days when small, energetic children must be indoors and under foot, so it seems, the entire time?

"If my children aren't tearing up the house they're whining around and asking me what they can play till it drives me crazy," one mother writes. It's a good plan to have a few surprises up one's sleeve for days like these. "But we can't keep on buying toys!"

No need to. A mother who is clever in observing her children and taking hints from them as to the things they like to do can supply new "playthings" from time to time without spending a cent.

The trick is in watching Mary and Tommy and catching yourself before you send them scuttling out of the kitchen where they have got ahold of the egg beater and are playing with it on the floor.

"If they like the egg beater, maybe I have an old one down in the basement that I could give to them."

As a matter of fact, one well-known nursery school in the East has incorporated a sturdy sort of egg beater into its regular play equipment for two year olds—not expecting these babies to learn how to beat eggs, to be sure, but simply recognizing the fundamental satisfaction it gives a two year old to handle a thing he can turn—or poke or push or pull or open and shut.

And what about your old pocketbook? (I daresay Mary has more than once found your good pocketbook and distressed you by emptying all of its contents.) An adult-size pocketbook can become one of the most cherished playthings of any little girl from two to six. The two-year-old—girl or boy—is content just to open it (if it opens easily enough), put something into it, snap it shut, open it up again, empty it—endlessly. To the four-year-old it becomes the equivalent of a costume. Mary with the big pocketbook under her arm is a grown-up lady, going shipping, buying the dinner for her children. The pocketbook has launched her off into the constructive, imaginative play that should have a large part in her life.

There are other such "playthings" around any house. If the children like to put on your shoes and clump around in them, can you give them an old pair to dress up in and play shoe store with? Can you provide a few large squares of old cloth that can serve not only as "costumes" but doll blankets, table covers—and more things than our adults minds can guess! And what about other kitchen utensils? A four-year-old I once knew had the time of his life with part of an old meat grinder that his ingenious mother had given him. To Peter it was a "machine" with vast possibilities.

The trick is two-fold. Watch for the things that the children naturally "go for," and provide the ones that they will be able to adapt to many purposes.

Our Freedom Is Priceless

By JOSEPH E. DAVIES

Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "SAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

Hospital Service Assn. Stages Annual Meeting

The Minnesota Hospital Service association used 84.1% of its 1942 income providing necessary hospital care to subscribers who were hospitalized during the year, announced Arthur M. Calvin, executive director of the association, at the annual meeting held Thursday, February 18th at St. Joseph's Hospital, St. Paul.

Approximately 120 out of every 1,000 subscribers, or a total of 58,205 persons received benefits under the plan and used 404,310 days of hospital care in 1942. Ten per cent of the subscribers receiving benefits were hospitalized for injuries and 18% entered hospitals for maternity care.

WAR VETERANS GET ATTENTION IN LEGISLATURE

Bills Introduced to Relieve Financial Burdens of Men in Service

OFFER RELIEF FROM STATE INCOME LEVY

Would Authorize Sharing the Cost of College Fees of Returned Soldiers

Legislation to help men and women in the armed forces get started again in civilian life after they return from the war occupied the spotlight before Minnesota legislators as they reached the half-way mark in their session and prepared for the final stretch.

New developments this week were:

Approval by both houses of a conference committee report extending to persons in the armed forces an exemption of $2,000 from state income tax in addition to other legal deductions and exemptions.

Introduction of a bill authorizing payment by state of tuition, up to $200, for honorably discharged veterans continuing their education in the University of Minnesota or colleges of the state.

Meanwhile committees in both houses began the consideration of another measure, recommended by Governor Stassen, which would set aside a fund of $5,000,000 from the present surplus in the general revenue fund for a war veterans fund on July 1st, to be used to help needy veterans continue their schooling or assist them in other ways to get a start in civilian life. This measure is being sponsored in the senate by Senators Charles N. Orr, Donald O. Wright and J. V. Weber. Authors in the house are Representatives Roy E. Dunn, A. M. Bursap and R. P. Lea.

Under this bill, grants could be made in the form of cash or loans to be used for expenses in attending the University, teachers' colleges, private colleges in the state or trade or business schools. A veteran needing help could get a cash grant of $250, under the bill, or borrow $500, without interest, to be repaid in five years.

The other veterans' school aid bill, introduced this week, would provide for payment of tuition in the University, teachers' colleges or private colleges of the state for men in the armed forces from Minnesota, without restriction as to need. The bill would appropriate $100,000 each year of the next biennium to defray costs.

The two houses in adopting the measure giving men in service an added exemption from the state income tax included another provision, which will allow those in service to defer filing their income tax returns or making payments until six months after the war, if the ability of the individual in question to file a return or make the payments is impaired by his being in service.

300 Books Contributed by Local Citizens for Benefit of Service Men

A total of 300 books, most of them of excellent quality, were contributed by county residents to the campaign for reading matter for the men in the armed services, which came to an end last week-end, it was reported by the committee in charge, including Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian; Robert J. Lund and Ralph Luhman. Of the number, 258 were works of fiction, while the remaining 42 were various types of non-fiction. The books will be shipped from the city late this week, it was announced.

County Agent E. Palmer Addresses Rotary Club

In its business session the club voted a $5 contribution to the Civic Service Organization.

Home Talent Play Here Was Smashing Success

Survives Ship Sinking

CPL. KENTON LIDEN

Now stationed in North Africa, who was one of the survivors of a torpedoed ship in the Atlantic ocean last November, according to word recently received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Liden. Two of his brothers also are overseas, Corporal Orville Liden having been stationed in Ireland for more than a year, and Cpl. Emmett Liden being on an island in the Southwest Pacific.

Tumultuous applause from three jam-packed audiences that witnessed the presentation of "Hip, Hip, Hooray", home talent play in the Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, testified to the outstanding success of the production, staged under the able direction of Mrs. Jeanette Wright.

Those who attended, approximately 3,500 in all, were unanimous in praising the show for its high entertainment value, for the manner in which the various numbers were presented by Kern M. Olson as master of ceremonies and for Mrs. Wright's smooth direction.

Songs beautifully rendered by Miss Constance Stefanik of Winnipeg, featured soloist, contributed largely to the success of the production. Possessed of rich true soprano voice of wide range, Miss Stefanik's pleasing personality quickly won over her audience, and she graciously supplied numerous encores. She concluded each performance with stirring rendition of "The Starspangled Banner".

The dance numbers supplied by the La Conga chorus, specialty chorus and the High Hat girls were all excellently done and reflected intensive drilling. Miss Jewell Warner, attractively attired in white costume, supplied a well executed solo tap dancing number.

Vocal selections were given by numerous groups and individuals, all making a hit with responsive audiences. Worthy of special mention were the solos by Orville Berg and Roy Struble, as well as by Miss Alice Carter, who gave an excellent representation of Carmen Miranda, fiery Brazilian entertainer. Well-rendered duets were given by Kern Olson and Mrs. Rudy Larson and by Harold Hanson and Ardith Thompson.

A hit was scored by the Gay Nineties quartet, which appeared in a pleasing number with the Floradora Sextet, which recalled bygone days to older members of the audience. Also effective was the solo of Mrs. Emma Berg, who sang with a minstrel quartet.

Dr. G. A. Pepney, as interlocutor, presided over the old-fashioned minstrel show which comprised the second act, and the varied array of acts presented provided pleasing entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Harrison rendered with their usual professional skill a group of two-piano numbers. The show closed with a stirring patriotic finale, with the entire cast taking part.

Supt. Morris Bye, who spoke during the intermission, explained that the funds derived from the proceeds of the show by the Civic Service Organization would be used exclusively to finance its activities in connection with the nation's war effort. Also sharing in the proceeds is the Victory Aides organization.

COUNCIL VOTES TO SEEK PRIORITIES ON NEW FIRE SIREN

Votes to Make Deal with the Town of North for Fire Protection

Less than the usual accumulation of business was brought up for consideration at the regular March meeting of the city council Tuesday evening.

It was voted to make application for priority for the purchase of a new fire siren capable of giving more adequate service. Bids are being advertised for, and will be opened April 13.

The council agreed to enter into a contract with officers of the Town of North to supply fire protection to the township on the basis of a charge of $25 per call.

A communication from the library board was read, stating that salary increases had been granted to employes of the library. The council voted to retain the services of Mrs. Camille Dostal in the city recreation department for an additional three-months period ending May 31.

Mayor H. W. Kinghorn announced the appointment of John Jaranson of the street department to the post of city weed inspector.

Civic Groups Hosts to "Hip, Hip, Hooray" Cast Late Tuesday Evening

Members of the cast of "Hip, Hip, Hooray", highly successful home talent show, were entertained at a late supper party in the Palm Garden Cafe Tuesday night, following the final performance. Six local civic groups, as well as the Victory Aides group financed the affair, no part of the cost of the party being taken from the proceeds of the show, sponsors announced. With Dr. E. S. Amesbury, chairman of the CSO, serving as toastmaster, brief talks were given by Mayor H. W. Kinghorn, Mrs. Jeanette Wright, W. W. Prichard, Kern M. Olson and Miss Connie Stefanik of Winnipeg, featured soloist in the show. In behalf of the cast, L. W. Rulien presented Mrs. Wright with a gift in token of appreciation of her efficient work as director of the production.

Tax Collections for 1st Two Months of the Year Show Big Gain over 1942

County Treasurer A. R. Johnsrud reported this week that collections of personal-property and real estate taxes for the first two months of the current year aggregated $71,273.09. This figure represents a marked increase over 1942 collections of $53,477.57 for the same period. The gain is attributed in part to the fact that personal property taxes were higher this year than last, and to the further fact that property owners are paying their real estate taxes earlier than usual this year.

PUBLIC IS WARNED NOT TO PARK CARS ON COUNTY ROADS

Interfere with Operation of Snowplows, Says Engineer

All state aid and county aid roads in Pennington county last night had been covered by snowplows following last Thursday's blizzard and are now open to traffic, altho numerous side roads are still blocked, it was announced today by J. A. Erickson, county highway engineer.

At the same time Mr. Erickson pointed out that efforts of the snow-removal crews had been seriously hampered by the practice of numerous people of parking automobiles on the right-of-way, thus interfering with efficient operation of the snowplows.

He called attention to the fact that a resolution of the county board, adopted in February, 1941, and still in force, provides that "the practice of parking automobiles upon the right-of-way of the Pennington county aid road system is hereby forbidden."

PROWLERS WIN FIRST ROUND IN DIST. TOURNEY

Local Quint Will Meet East G. Forks in Semi-finals This Evening

CLIMAX TO COMPETE AGAINST CROOKSTON

Prowlers Barely Nose Out Red Lake Falls Team Last Night

Climax vs. Crookston and East Grand Forks vs. Thief River Falls. That's the program on the schedule for this evening's semi-final district 31 basketball tournament at the local high school gym. Crookston scored a 33 to 21 win over Oslo in the opening game of the tourney yesterday afternoon. In the second game of the afternoon Climax knocked Warren, one of the district's "big four" teams, out of the meet with a 28 to 19 decision.

The evening games found East Grand Forks with a second half rally, outpointing St. Hilaire, 27 to 14. And in a hair-raising game, the Prowlers held off a rangy Red Lake Falls team to eke out a 28 to 25 win.

Crookston's Bill Reynolds and Bill Youngquist, each collecting 8 points, paced the Pirates to 33 to 21 triumph over Oslo. Oslo trailed by a 10 to 6 score at the half, and were in the game at the third period, trailing by an 18 to 12 score. The Pirates looped in 15 points in the fourth period to win "going away." Rube Ristelgen, with 7 points, led the Oslo scorers.

The nifty Climax team caught a "cold" Warren team and, with Bob Nelson dropping one-handed shots, pulled away to a 15 to 5 lead in the first half, and then matched point for point with the Ponies to win a 28 to 19 decision and enter the semi-finals. Nelson's 11 points won high point honors, with Clyde Culver tallying 7 of Warren's 19 points.

St. Hilaire, after leading by a 7 to 5 score at the end of the first period, could score but 7 points during the balance of the game, while the defending champion East Grand Forks team, with Al Moen marking up 11 points, tallied 22 points, to defeat coach Hud's team, 27 to 14. Harlan Olson turned in a splendid game for the losers, accounting for 7 points. St. Hilaire lost Roy Kratz and Bob Janda on fouls in the second half.

In a ragged but exciting game, the Prowlers barely outfinished Red Lake Falls to win a 28 to 25 decision last night. The Prowlers, with Virg Evenstad replacing ailing Bill McKechnie at forward, held a 5 to 4 lead at the end of the opening period. Evenstad and Berg tossed in field goals and Jack Melby added a free throw. Red Lake Falls notched four gift tosses. The locals increased their lead in the second period, with Berg getting two field goals and Melby and Heiarson one each; while Red Lake Falls added points on LaChance's field goal and free throw and Bob Nielan!

"Information Please" to Feature PTA Monday

Members of the Parent-Teacher association, at their next meeting Monday evening, March 15, in the Lincoln high school auditorium, will be entertained by a novel program in the form of a Thief River Falls version of "Information Please", popular radio feature heard each Monday evening over the NBC network.

Lloyd Bennes, president of the association, will enact the quizmaster role of Clifton Fadiman, while attempts to answer the questions propounded will be made by four guest experts, including Rev. G. S. Thompson, John Lind, L. W. Rulien and Russell "Buck" Olson, sports writer for the Times, who will take the role of his radio prototype, John Kieran.

To vary the proceedings, some of the questions will be presented in the form of charades and pantomime, while others will involve the use of maps and of recorded musical selections. In the event the experts are stumped by the questions, members of the audience will be given a chance to offer answers.

A musical feature of the program will be a group of vocal selections by the Lincoln high school girls sextet.

Services at Crookston for Mrs. Ed Peterson

PETIT JURY CALL IS CANCELED FOR COURT TERM HERE

Only One Case Calling for Action by Jury Left on Calendar

That litigation is at a low ebb in Pennington county is indicated in the announcement late last week that the call for the district court petit jury scheduled to convene here March 8 had been canceled by Judge Oscar R. Knutson for the second successive term.

The only remaining case on the calendar calling for jury consideration is that of Albert Riel vs. Ole J. Wedul, and this action was continued.

Two criminal cases were disposed of during the past week. Clarence Jensen pleaded guilty in paternity proceedings, and Clifford Rye also pleaded guilty to a charge of taking indecent liberties with a minor girl. Sentence was stayed until May 1.

RATIONING BOARD EXPLAINS CEILING PRICES FOR PORK

Retailers May Charge Less Than Maximum Prices, Says Werstlein

In commenting on the dollar-and-cent ceiling prices on pork, George W. Werstlein, chairman of the local war price and rationing board said butchers may cut their selling prices on pork below the new retail ceilings which become effective April 1.

"The new maximum prices are just what their names implies—the top price. Retailers may charge less than the maximum prices but can not charge over that amount", he said. "The dollar-and-cent prices are not minimum prices or base prices. In order to meet local competition conditions, or to sell slow-moving cuts, or for any other reason, a retailer at any time—now or after the regulation becomes effective—may set his actual selling prices below the area-wide ceiling".

The pork ceilings to take effect April 1 are expressed in cents per pound for each of 66 principal cuts and for additional sub-divisions of grade and various other classifications. Ceilings were determined on the basis of retailers' costs of supply and operation and take in account traditional differences in margin between large and small stores, Mr. Werstlein explained.

Until April 1 retail ceilings are governed by highest prices prevailing in March 1942.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH LISTS ITS LENTEN SCHEDULE

First of Series of Mid-week Services Conducted Last Night

With the beginning of the Lenten season yesterday, Ash Wednesday services were held at Trinity Lutheran Church at 8:00 P.M. This was the first of a series of mid-week Lenten services to be held each Wednesday evening during Lent. The general theme of the subsequent Wednesday evening services is derived from the negro spiritual song: "Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" Judas, Peter, Herod, Caiaphas, Soldiers, Pilate, and Jesus will be subjects for examination in these sermons ending on Good Friday night.

Booklets containing daily devotionals were sent out with a general pastoral letter to some 450 family affiliates of the church and banks for a penny-a-meal offering from each member of the family were distributed by workers in the 13 circles of the Ladies Aid.

At the close of Lent these boxes are brought to the church for consecration at the Easter services and the contents sent as a self-denial offering to the Missions and Benevolence work of the synod. Last year this Lenten offering, over and above regular giving, totaled almost $500.00.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare,
University of Minnesota

Who'll Undo It?

"Let Grandma help you put on your gloves, Shirley."

"No!" Two year old Shirley jerked defiantly away from her grandmother, and began tugging at her gloves. They were entirely inappropriate for her short, chubby fingers, but she was very proud of them, because they were just like what the grown-ups had.)

Her grandmother glanced at Shirley's mother with a smile of amusement, which Shirley, on the alert for the effect of her refusal, was quick to catch. "No!" she said again, and stamped her foot for emphasis. Whereupon her mother, half suppressing a giggle, reproved her, and sought to help with the gloves.

Now Shirley began a mad dash around the room, delighted to have two adults giving her their whole attention. Before the game ended, both women were cross, and Shirley was in tears, but was also triumphant, because she had exhausted their patience.

Anyone watching this scene, or one of the many others like it that enliven Shirley's days, might well take a forward look, and imagine a Shirley in her twenties or thirties, not quite so amusing now in her scene-making. For the habit that is being built up by the immense amount of practise she's getting in maneuvering people to get her own way, may easily be permanent. It won't be so funny when she tries to manage her husband by attention-getting antics designed to bring from him the admiration her "cuteness" brought in childhood.

Parents and relatives who lavish amused attention on children's undesirable behavior don't realize what unhappy results may come. How can a child like Shirley be expected to do anything but repeat the negativistic demonstrations that she finds bring such spectacular results? For one very small creature to find that she can send two or three full-grown people into a tizzy is enough to give her an inflated sense of her power.

All thinking parents are eager to equip their children with skills for getting along with other people so that they may make good adjustments in their relations with fellow workers, with family, and with friends. To find a better example than Shirley's case of how not to encourage the gaining of such skills would take some hunting. If we are going to make a fuss about anything, it had better be a child's amiable, desirable responses, rather than those that underline self-centeredness. Of course it's fun to get attention! A child will use any means that he finds brings the desired end. It's the adults who have to watch themselves to see that they are not betrayed by their fondness for a child into being enemies of that child's future adjustment, rather than friends.

Dr. G. H. Mayer-Oakes has received word that two of his nephews, Frank and William Mayer-Oakes, have recently been called into the service. Frank, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. T. RED CROSS NEWS

By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

One particular Red Cross program now operating on a world-wide scale is known simply as "Services to the Armed Forces." And here's the important thing to remember: The American Red Cross is authorized by congressional charter to serve the armed forces.

Communication between fighting sons and their loved ones is maintained by a closely knit team—the field directors in posts here and abroad, and home service workers in 3750 local chapters covering virtually every chapter of the nation. A field director wires a chapter for information for a certain soldier. The chapter dispatches a worker to visit the family, often these workers travel far into the country to carry out their mercy errands. The visit is made immediately, day or night, and the desired information is shot back to the field director who relays it to the service man or his commanding officer.

The network of efficiently-operating teammates spreads even further. Perhaps the family has moved; the chapter sends the query on to the chapter now having jurisdiction. Maybe the service man himself has been transferred, and the field director knows that wherever the man has gone, there will be a Red Cross trouble shooter on the spot who can carry on where he left off.

Still further the network spreads, because both the chapter and the field director have access to the global communication system of the International Red Cross Committee. Centered in Washington, but operating in every chapter, the Red Cross conducts an inquiry service which handles inquiries to and replies from persons in occupied countries, prisoners of war, and interned civilians. These messages are cleared through the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva. During the 14-month period, 104,916 inquiries, messages, and replies were handled.

During that same period ending Feb. 28, more than a million requests for aid were received from men in the armed forces and close to a half million from their families. Field directors went to bat for 70,000 ex-service men or their families, and chapters helped an additional 175,000 veterans or their dependents. And as though this were not enough, the Red Cross helped relieve the distress of 115,000 civilian families, not counting those aided in disasters.

The Red Cross has in operation or practically completed 275 headquarters buildings in Army camps. These buildings are substantial, centrally located, open 24 hours a day, easy to find.

More than 325 moving picture units have been purchased for distribution in the United States and in troop and recreational centers abroad.

The Red Cross has furnished 1765 sunrooms in military hospitals, supplied 1965 radios to patients in wards and recreation halls. The Red Cross furnished 175 hospital recreation buildings.

There are 2780 trained Red Cross workers serving with the armed forces as of Feb. 28, 1943.

In the Local Chapter

Mrs. Geo. Werstlein announced they had finished their February quota of surgical dressings. Their workroom will be closed until the new shipment of gauze has arrived, then the workers will be notified by phone. Mrs. Werstlein and Mrs. L. W. Rulien wish to thank all the ladies who have worked so faithfully all these past months and hope for as good a turnout as soon as the new supplies arrive.

Mrs. Lars Hylden reports her sewing group still have 40 slips to complete. She urges as many women as possible to come and help finish up.

Wednesday afternoon the ladies started working on foreign service kits in the sewing room. Mrs. A. Aase, Mrs. Palmer Anderson and Mrs. Cy Thompson are in charge.

Mrs. Harvey Patten will start another home nursing class Mar. 19th at the Knox school. All those interested are asked to call her. Mrs. Anderson also reported a committee meeting of home nursing was held Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

There is a home nursing program over the radio every Sunday at 11:30 A. M. This is a very interesting program and everyone is urged to tune in.

The early reports of the Red Cross war fund campaign sound very encouraging.

SAYS CUT IN STATE INCOME TAX GIVES BUT SMALL RELIEF

Tax Relief Group Analyzes Measures Now Before Legislature

Reductions in the state income tax proposed in bills recommended for passage by the state senate tax committee, while welcome, will represent a cut of less than 7 per cent in the income tax burdens of most taxpayers, officials of the Citizens' Tax Relief association pointed out today in an analysis of the pending proposals.

The committee has recommended for passage a bill sponsored by Senator W. B. Richardson which would cut all individual income taxes to be paid this year 25 per cent and another sponsored by Senator M. J. Galvin which would reduce state income tax payments next year and thereafter 50 per cent or more for most taxpayers, under a sliding scale with proportionately greater cuts for those in the lower brackets.

"Neither taxpayers nor legislators should take too much cheer from these percentages," John F. Scott, president of the Tax Relief Association, said. "Any relief the legislature can give through cuts in the state income tax will be small compared to what the individual is scheduled to pay in income taxes this year.

"Senator Galvin's bill, if in effect this year, would make a cut of only 4.1 per cent to 7.5 per cent in the combined federal and state income taxes the individual is due to pay this year under present laws. Some would get a cut of less than 2 per cent. Reason for all this, of course, is that for most persons the federal tax is from seven to ten times as much as the state tax.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Bjorkman Toggery has been designated the official Boy Scout distributor. Due to the difficulty in securing the uniforms it is advisable that the boys desiring any article of clothing call at the store and leave an order. It will be impossible to get everything at one time but if orders are placed, there will be more effort to deliver those items than if the order is for inventory stock.

If the Easter vacation will favor us with nice weather the local troops will sprout forth with out door activities. The boys are preparing various arrangements for the three-day holiday, that may take them on hikes and to overnight camps.

Troop 60 has an active Green Bar patrol which is going after the second class requirements. Troop 47 has turned amateur cooks, and the home kitchens are the laboratories.

SEED PROSPECTS ARE DISCUSSED AT SESSION SATURDAY

Limited Supplies of Alfalfa, Sweet Clover, Alsike Are Reported

Fifteen township chairmen along with the members of the Pennington county weed council, seed dealers of Thief River Falls, and County Agent Ernest Palmer met with Miner Helgeson of the state department of agriculture at a meeting in the court rooms in the court house Saturday. The purpose of the meeting was to stress the importance of pure seed and weed control.

Mr. Helgeson stated that farmers were faced this year with considerable shortage of legume seeds especially alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover and alsike. The records show that the supply of alfalfa seed is the smallest in ten years. The supply of red clover seed is 20% below average and sweet clover is the smallest in eight years.

In connection with the flax seeding program, Mr. Helgeson emphasized the importance of having seed tested for germination and purity. Records of testing at the state seed laboratory show that flax is germinated as low as 60%. This means that farmers will be well advised to test their seed in order that they plant enough fertile seed in order to give them a good stand.

In regard to the weed control program in the county, Mr. Helgeson advised all farmers without proper cleaning equipment to see that their grain was cleaned by concerns with good facilities. He stated that records showed that the average seed put in the ground, contained 4% foul seed.

RED LAKE BOARD PICKS SHERIFF TO SUCCEED KANKEL

Appoints Noel Proulx of Marcoux from Field of 18 Aspirants

The Red Lake county board of commissioners at their monthly meeting last week elected Noel Proulx of Marcoux sheriff of Red Lake county to succeed Carl A. Kankel who resigned at the February meeting to enter defense work in Alaska, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Since the announcement of Sheriff Kankel's resignation there were 18 candidates who applied for the job.

The new sheriff is 43 years old and a former resident of Gentilly township. He is married and has a family of six children. Several years ago he and his brother Oliver Proulx bought out Ed Marcoux's filling station at Marcoux which they have since operated.

As soon as he is relieved of his duties Sheriff Kankel will leave for defense work in Alaska and on his return expects to be actively associated with the Terrebonne Milling Co., with which his father C. O. Kankel has been connected for so many years.

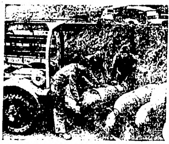
A Senegalese Father Goes to the Front

Except for the color of their skins and the manner in which the mother carries her child, this scene is a duplicate of what goes on at railroad stations all over America and Britain. It took place in Dakar, French West Africa, as a French colonial regiment entrained for the Tunisian front. The child seems big enough to start getting around on its own.

Stacking the Deck on the Axis



At an air operational station in England, an American ordnance crew stacks bombs in one of the scores of ammunition dumps at the station—stacking the deck on the Nazis, as it were. Gray of Export, Pa.; Private Hubert Biersinger of Huntingsburg, Ind.; and Sergt. Alex Balachi of Rochester, N. Y.

Schools Open Drive To Buy 10,000 Jeeps

Battle Flags of the Schools

THE little jeep which is serving so nobly from Guadalcanal to Africa has become the symbol of the gigantic efforts of millions of American school children in their War Savings program.

Thousands of public, private and parochial schools soon will be displaying a certificate of honor from Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., signifying that they have paid for at least one jeep by buying $900 in War Stamps and Bonds.

Countless others will be flying the Schools At War banner awarded to schools with 90 percent pupil participation in War Savings.

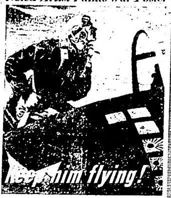
Ten thousand jeeps and a hundred bombers! This is the new goal of America's schools as 30,000,000 children continue their Schools At War program under the auspices of the Treasury Department and the U. S. Office of Education.

Results so far in the program reported by Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Associate Field Director in charge of the education section of the War Savings Staff, are:

More than 7,000,000 elementary and high school students from 30,000 schools have prepared special Schools At War scrapbooks for state and local exhibits.

War Stamp and War Bond purchases may reach a grand total of $300,000,000 for the school year.

Noted Artist Paints War Poster



Keep him flying!

Urging Americans to "keep 'em flying" through the purchase of more War Bonds, the above poster will soon make its appearance in several hundred thousand stores and display spots throughout the country. It was painted by Georges Schreiber, internationally known artist, whose pictures hang in the Metropolitan and Whitney Museums in New York and other museums in various cities.

From the State Capitol

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

A state cannot be sued without its permission, they tell me, and so it is the responsibility of the legislature to act upon many claims of various kinds. As a member of the sub-committee of the Finance committee that conducts the hearings at which these claims are presented I am getting some interesting experience in this phase of the problem of state government. A 70 year old man, who had served several months in Stillwater before he was declared innocent by the pardon board, is asking for damages in the amount of $2,000. Several think they should be reimbursed because they have sustained injuries on state property.

Accidents that are said to have been caused by state operated motor vehicles seem to be a common cause for claims, as are alleged damages caused by dams and wild animals. A large group of Minnesota Valley farmers want permission to go into court to prove that they have been damaged by Minnesota River flood control projects. The state has a lot of headaches.

This business of splashing around with the state's millions is, I am afraid, going to ruin me completely as a manager of my own nickel and dime affairs. After a couple of hours of thinking in terms of hundred thousand dollar appropriations a two-bit expenditure doesn't seem very important. Maybe it won't work out that way however. I've noticed that bankers, who are constantly elbow deep in other people's money, generally keep a pretty close watch on their own pennies. But possibly it is because they manage their own dollars well that they have become bankers. Let's skip it. The due dates of my own obligations still worry me and I will try to worry a little too about how the state is going to make both ends meet.

A few weeks ago I mentioned the problem that is ahead of us of providing for the returning soldiers. At the end of the last war Minnesota was one of the first states to pay a bonus to those who had served in the armed forces. The amount paid was based on the length of service and cost the state 28 million dollars. In the present war we have at least twice as many men in the service and by the time the war ends they will have served at least twice as long. It is apparent, therefore, that if we are to pay on the same basis as we did before the cost will be at least 100 million dollars and possibly even 200 million.

If we were to be fair about this bonus deal we would now be taxing ourselves to build up the reserves necessary to meet the cost. Then the bonus would be paid by our sacrifices and we could say to the boys when they come home, "Take this as a little token of our appreciation for the sacrifices you were making while we were enjoying prosperity." That isn't the way we will do it however. When the soldiers are home in sufficient numbers so that their votes are a factor in winning elections the soap box orators will become suddenly appreciative and generous and we will borrow ourselves into a heavy debt that the soldiers themselves will have to pay back in the form of taxes during the remaining days of their lives. They will receive, but largely at their own expense.

A bill now before the legislature provides for a five million dollar fund to be doled out to returning soldiers either as loans or outright grants. I am opposed to this bill for two reasons, first because it would be but a drop in the bucket and, second, because I think that before we start spending we should adopt a long range program of veteran relief that will be based on a careful study of the entire problem and take into consideration whatever is done along this line by the federal government. This problem is primarily the responsibility of the federal government and federal agencies are now making plans to meet it.

There is reason to believe that soldiers will be returned to civilian life only as they can be absorbed by civilian activities, and the period of their return will be spread over years rather than months. The thing a returning soldier wants more than anything else is a job. Work must be provided, even if at public expense. In recent years we are building up huge reserves in our unemployment compensation funds and I think consideration should be given to the possibility of using some of this money for the purpose of providing employment for returning soldiers rather than limiting it to compensation of unemployment.

I do not know the answer to this problem. I do know, however, that it is going to cost many millions of dollars. I am in favor of starting now to provide the funds that will be needed later but I am not in favor of spending a dime until a careful study has been made and a long range program adopted. Authorization of hasty spending is an invitation to both waste and corruption. Now, before the problem has actually arrived, is a good time to start planning how we will meet it.

This week I exercised my vocal chords a little in objections to a couple of proposed laws that did not appeal to me. One that had considerable support, and possibly some merit, would do away with the service charge for absentee voting. There are some workers and a few who are physically incapacitated who cannot get to the polls on election day and in some of these cases it may be a little unfair to impose a service charge, but if this charge were eliminated the number who would vote in this way would greatly increase, adding considerably to the cost of holding elections. My main objection however is that this method of voting is not secret, lends itself too easily to corruption, and therefore should be discouraged.

The other bill that is pretty well shot to pieces but still hovering between life and death would make it a crime to print or have printed or distributed any form of anonymous matter. Its purpose, presumably, was to reach those who circulate malicious or libelous letters without signing their names to them, but in its original form it was so broad that I know it would have kept me in jail nine months out of the year. And while I have little regard for those who do not have the courage to fight in the open, yet I am not willing to admit that there may not be times when secrecy is justified. In the conquered countries of Europe today brave people are printing and distributing anonymous literature. To make this a crime may not be a serious violation of the rights of freedom of expression but it is a step in that direction and it probably is better that we suffer a few abuses of privilege rather than start drifting away from the beaten path in this respect.

FARMERS ATTENTION—Here is a problem I want your advice on. In response to requests from our territory I am introducing a bill that will provide for the regulation of June grass harvesters and if you have any ideas on the subject I will appreciate hearing from you. The bill provides for the registration of the organizations that come into our territory to harvest this crop. The registration fee is $2.50. Before any field is harvested it must be inspected and declared free of noxious weeds by a weed inspector. There is no charge for this inspection service. The bill further authorizes regulation of the manner in which the crop is handled after it is harvested and is designed particularly to put a stop to the hauling of the seed in open trucks, scattering foul seed along the highways. Noxious weeds that are being spread by present methods of handling are said to be principally Leafy Spurge and Creeping Jenney.

I am introducing the bill now in order to get it advanced so that it can be passed if you want it. The bill will inconvenience operators but will cost the farmers nothing. Weed inspection officials tell me it is a serious problem and I have received some complaints from our territory but it is a thing I know little about and I would like to hear from you. Give me your idea on a post card and I will count the ayes and nays.

Day after day I sit down here listening to the justification for expenditures for every conceivable purpose. We are assured that if these expenditures are not made the state will go to pot. Sometimes I wonder how the human race has managed to survive thruout the dark centuries when people struggled on without guidance from scientific bureaus and boards.

Of course it is only occasionally that I become violent when seized with this kind of a delirium. In my rational moments I agree with Morris Bye that even education is not without its good points. I know, and can prove by statistics, that in another fifty years science will produce an average man two inches taller than those of us who are average today. People at that time will be healthier and will live longer. It will be a good trick but I believe the scientists can do it. Until, however, they concoct a sure-shot hair restorer and perfect a pill that will grow a third crop of teeth I will not favor turning the management of all our affairs over to them. Until then I know that now and again I will lapse into skepticism.

AMERICANS LIKE THE TRUTH

(Detroit Lakes Tribune)

We are told by the Industrial News Review that labor today is the most powerful single group in the nation.

It can make or break the war effort. Labor leaders, by demanding their pound of flesh during the mergency, can bring disastrous inflation which would wipe out a half century of labor gains, together with the savings and standards of living of every man, woman and child in the country.

Is it any wonder that Captain Eddie Rickenbacker has asked labor to make sacrifices along with the rest of us, forego extravagant overtime demands, help to protect the working rights of men returning from war, cease disruptive jurisdictional strife and make-work tactics; are these things too much to ask of labor at a time when the country is fighting for its very life? They most certainly are not.

The public agrees heart and soul with every word that Rickenbacker has uttered. Those who attempt to discredit him as a labor-hater, will hurt labor, because the words he has spoken were born when he was very near to death.

Men near death think and speak the truth. And Americans like to hear the truth, no matter how unpleasant.

MORE VALUE IN NEWSPAPERS

(Marshall Messenger)

Your newspaper is mighty valuable to you these days. Not in a long while, if ever, can we remember when so much needed information has appeared in the press—and similarly not in a long while, if ever, can we recall when the reader needed his newspaper so much. As you read this week's paper, keep this in mind and see if you don't agree with us. Just to mention a few instances where readers would otherwise have trouble and inconvenience in learning about their duties and actions in connection with the war effort, there's the information on how to get your new ration book, there's the story about shoe rationing, there's the word about the next blackout here, there's information on victory books, there's the story on the tin collection, there's the information on the farm machinery meeting, there's a reproduction of the simplified income tax blank, there's the ration calendar for the weeks ahead. Think what a task it would be to get all this needed information if it weren't for your newspaper.—Marshall Messenger.

Inmates on prison farms throughout the country will produce millions of cans of vegetables and fruits during 1943 for delivery to the armed services and export under Lend-Lease agreements.

The 232,158 pounds of silk and nylon stockings turned in by women salvagers between December 15 and January 15 will furnish the Army with over 150,000 smokeless powder bags.

Twenty tons of scrap rubber will go into the production of 720,000 of the new baseballs with rubber-cushioned centers, taking the place of a similar number of cork-cushioned baseballs.

The United States is now consuming and exporting glycerine, made of waste fats at a rate of about 20 million pounds a year above American production.

During the second and third quarters of 1943, the Army's conditional requirements call for 18 million underwear garments and 48 million pairs of socks.

About 10 million pounds of copper will be saved for war production through an order controlling the use and sale of copper textile printing rollers.

A Milwaukee street transportation utility sweeps the streets regularly to pick up tacks, nails, and other metal objects damaging to rubber tires.

It is estimated that one cent added to the price of every barrel of crude oil would add 14 million a year to the nation's fuel bill.

Wonder if we will get our usual Thursday blizzard today.

Rationing programs would work out well if all folks would throw away their chisels.

Red Cross Needs $125,000,000 To Finance Wartime Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Faced with the greatest wartime program in history, the American Red Cross will launch its 1943 War Fund appeal for $125,000,000 on March 1, Chairman Norman H. Davis has announced.

Pointing out that the bulk of the fund will be used to expand Red Cross services to the men of the armed forces and their families, Chairman Davis urged every American man and woman to contribute to the fund.

With the approval of President Roosevelt, who also is President of the American Red Cross, the month of March is being observed as Red Cross Month. Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is chairman of the Red Cross 1943 War Fund.

"Red Cross services to our armed forces and to the needs of distressed civilians on the battle and home fronts can be supplied only by great expenditures and sacrifices," Chairman Davis said. "We are exerting our utmost efforts to accomplish these tasks with the least possible drain upon the resources of the people in funds, time and energy. We must never falter in our determination to meet these definite obligations. The Red Cross is confident that all our people will be generous in their support of the 1943 War Fund."

More than 65 percent of the fund received by the national organization will be devoted to meeting Red Cross responsibilities to the armed forces. These include the Red Cross overseas club program, recreation and hospital program, the stationing of field directors at all foreign and domestic military camps and bases, the huge surgical dressing production program, and the blood plasma project which recently was expanded to a total of 4,000,000 pints at the request of the Army and Navy.

Chairman Davis pointed out that the 1943 program will be vastly greater than the accomplishments of last year, in which the Red Cross aided millions of war victims through its foreign war relief program; gave aid to thousands of prisoners of war; collected 1,300,000 pints of blood for the armed forces; produced 520,000,000 surgical dressings, and aided more than 1,500,000 servicemen and their families.

The $125,000,000 quota, he said, will finance the local, national and international work of the Red Cross for the entire year, barring unforeseen emergencies.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

The other day while sitting close to the kitchen fire enjoying a fresh cup of coffee, my wife asked me if I had sent our contribution to the Red Cross. Guilty of neglect! I said, "No." She said, "Give a five dollar bill and I'll send it to the Red Cross committee." I said, "Wait a minute! Why the whole five dollar bill?" She said, "This is one year we are giving one dollar for each member in our family now at home."

My wife and I spoke at length concerning this year's Red Cross drive. We came to the conclusion that if we did what was right and most cooperative, we would immediately forward our contribution to the Red Cross committee so they wouldn't spend valuable time coming over to beg us for our contribution. Also by sending this money, the committee worker would save gas and tires. Further! By this help to the Red Cross committee worker of our community, we would lend a helping hand in reaching the Red Cross quota set for our community.

If you haven't already given your desired contribution to the Red Cross, why don't you send or give now without delay to your community Red Cross committee worker the sum of money you have made up your mind to give to the 1943 Red Cross drive?

Let this be your invitation to your Red Cross committee worker to call by phone or in person asking you to make your contribution to the greatest charity organization in the world, The American Red Cross!

Yours for a hearty welcome and a helping hand to Red Cross workers in your community.

Paul Engelstad.

Editor the Times:

With your kind permission may I avail myself of your Public Forum column to reach your readers with an important message. This message concerns our Red Lake and Clearwater river project. While we have not been writing much about this subject lately, the project has been making its steady progress. It is now in the hands of the Chief of Army Engineers at Washington. There it is receiving attention as an important factor in our national food production program.

Whether or not such a discussion may lead to carrying this project through even during the "Duration" remains to be seen. But such consideration is in itself a proof of the importance of the project. The project will reclaim a large acreage of good land which now for many years has been lying idle because the flood hazards were too great. It will increase the production of food products from the acres new cultivated in this area by 100%. This is a factor worthy of consideration. The board of directors of our flood control association will be called for a meeting soon.

Sincerely yours,
E. L. Tungseth,
Chairman.

Proper Flag Display

When the Flag of the United States is displayed in the body of a church it should be displayed from a staff placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation as it faces the clergyman. If it is displayed in the chancel or on the platform it should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation.

Not so long ago an oldster of 120 died at Wexford, Canada, named Daniel Atkin. During his life he had contracted seven marriages and had an incredible number of children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, in all about 570, of which 370 were boys and 200 girls.

"It Takes Both"

TAXES
BONDS

It takes both . . . two fingers to give the Victory sign. It takes both . . . War Bonds and Taxes to make that Victory come true. Continue your purchase of War Bonds, at least ten percent of your income. Pay your Victory Tax and your income tax cheerfully and promptly. Both are in lieu of an Occupation Tax to Hitler. U. S. Getting the Most from your Victory Garden

GARDEN SEEDS FOR ALL

"There will be enough seeds of standard vegetables to meet the normal needs of Uncle Sam's vast army of Victory Gardeners in 1943." This confident statement comes from Dexter Ferry of the Ferry-Morse Seed Co., the world's largest seed breeding and growing organization. "Our own home gardeners are provided for," he adds, "even though we are shipping large quantities of seeds to our Allies."

American-grown seeds will indeed plant the gardens of the far corners of the earth this year as well as those of this hemisphere. Certain types of seed are being sent to all the friendly nations because their usual sources of supply have been cut off.

Sharing garden seeds with other countries, as America is doing, is one of the most economical as well as one of the most effective ways of helping needy neighbors in wartime. Seeds take up less room than most food stuffs, thus leaving valuable shipping space for important munitions and other war supplies. From a health standpoint vegetable seeds are a necessity in every land because they are the basis of fresh foods which could not possibly be shipped long distances without deterioration.

"Because there are garden seeds enough for Victory Gardeners does not mean that they can be used carelessly," Mr. Ferry explains. "As a wartime measure, every man, woman, and child who plans a Victory Garden this year should make the most of every seed planted. Determining the right amount of seed for a given space, proper planning and planting so that all seeds will have the best growing chance, caring for crops to avoid waste and spoilage, and making good use of the garden-fresh food produced, will all help to prevent what otherwise might be serious national food shortages."

Although seed supplies in general are sufficient, certain varieties of some kinds of vegetables are rather short this year due to unfavorable growing and harvesting conditions, according to Mr. Ferry.

"That should inconvenience no one," he says. "If you cannot find seed of your pet variety of vegetable at your dealer's, there will be others so nearly like it that you will not miss your favorite."

Identify New Stars

Comparison of photographs has brought out of hiding 21 faint little stars, now identified as members of the Pleiades constellation, Dr. Adrian Van Maanen of Mount Wilson observatory, California, announced recently.

Although the Greeks, who named the constellation, called it the Seven Sisters after the legend of the seven Pleiades sisters and their mother, who escaped the pursuit of Orion by becoming stars, the group contains at least 211 known stars, the astronomer said. The most brilliant, Alcyone, is about 1,000 times as bright as the sun and some of the newly added are 1,000 times as faint.

Dr. Van Maanen compared recent photographs of the Pleiades with plates taken 15 to 19 years ago and identified as Pleiadeians those stars which had changed position in the interval.

Blue Eyes Straightest

A soldier with blue eyes can shoot straighter than his brown-eyed comrades, on the average, according to officers of the United States marine corps. If this is so it might give this nation at least one important advantage in any shooting war with Japan or Italy. A survey shows that some two-thirds of our marines are blue-eyed. A brown-eyed marksman, it is said, is likely to be bothered by shifting lights and shadows or drifting clouds. He may make a fine score under the most favorable conditions, but his aim tends to waver when heat waves make the target dance.

Delivered After 23 Years

A woman's appeal for some doughboy to write to her has reached the army 23 years late, officers from Camp Upton, L. I., revealed. The supply officers frequently receive materials packed during the World war. The tag on one bundle, dated 1918, was signed by a woman inspector who wrote her address on the bag and invited correspondence.

Well Pleased With Tenant

A Seattle couple lived in a rented house for 12 years, and the landlord was so pleased with them as tenants that he willed them the house.

MOORHEAD WHIPS PROWLER QUINT IN TILT ON SATURDAY

Locals Outscore Opponents In Second Half, But Lose 40 to 28

A first-half scoring drive which found the Moorhead Spuds outpointing the Prowlers, 24 to 10, carried coach Cliff Halmrast's team to a 40 to 28 win over the Prowlers in a game played at Moorhead Friday night.

With their big center and captain, Alvin Lund, barreling thru the Prowlers' zone defense to hoist 12 points through the hoop in the first half, the Moorhead Spuds built up a 14-point lead which the Prowlers could not overcome.

Coach Glenn Hanna tacked Bob Wright on Lund in the second half, and the Prowler guard turned in a nifty job, holding the Spud ace to 6 points. The Prowlers, meanwhile, were outplaying their bulky opponents and with Milt Reierson and Bill McKechnie leading the scoring sorties, the locals outscored the Spuds, 18 to 16, in the last half.

The game concluded the Prowlers pre-tournament schedule, and left the Prowlers with a season's record of seven wins and eight losses, but only two of those defeats were absorbed in district competition, Crookston having taken the measure of the locals twice.

Coach Ralph Miller's Climax Vikings held off a rallying St. Hilaire team to win the sub-district championship here Saturday night, defeating coach Harold Rud's plucky team, 28 to 21, in the finals. In the consolation game, Red Lake Falls, after trailing by a 16 to 9 score at the half, battled up-hill to knot the score at 18-all in the third period, and went on to win third place with a 23 to 20 triumph over Oslo.

The championship finals was featured by the fine defensive play of Climax and St. Hilaire, with both teams employing a closely-knit zone defense. Bob Nelson, Climax captain, lofted in three one-handed tosses, and bespectacled Alton Dunes connected with a couple of shots, to give the Vikings a 12 to 6 lead at the half. Harlan Olson, one of the tourney's outstanding players, marked up three of the points credited to St. Hilaire, with Janda's free throw and Wallace Swanson's field goal being the other St. Hilaire point-getters in the first half.

Climax increased its margin in the third period, with Nelson hooping three more goals, and Dunes and Howland notching a field goal apiece. St. Hilaire bounced back into the game in the final period, with Wally Swanson flipping in a pair of goals and Bill Holmes, on set-up shots, pushing in a pair of field goals. Olson's long shot whittled the Climax advantage to 7 points.

In a pair of exciting semi-final games on Friday night, Climax, with Howland and Olen scoring 14 and 11 points, respectively, outfinished a scrappy Oslo five, 34 to 29. Dale Nordling pumped in seven long shots to score 14 points for the losers. In the second game of the evening St. Hilaire furnished an upset when they outplayed Red Lake Falls to mark up a 29 to 22 triumph. Janda, with 11 points, and Olson, with 10 points, were the high scorers for coach Rud's team. Husky Armand LaChance garnered 7 points for coach John Larson's quint.

and John Meyer with free throws. The Prowlers held a 13 to 9 lead at the half.

Reierson, Melby and Berg connected for Prowler points in the third period, giving the locals a 22 to 14 lead as the final period opened. Big Vern Nieland punched in two field goals and brother Bob Nieland looped in a couple of baskets, while Melby was counting a field goal and Milt Reierson a free throw. Red Lake Falls trailed by 2 points, 27 to 25, with a couple of minutes to play, but Reierson dumped in a free throw to give the locals some "insurance."

Jack Melby left the game on personals mid-way in the period and his loss handicapped the locals defensive play during the final minutes. Melby and Berg, with 8 points each, were the Prowlers' high point men; while Vern Nieland, with 9 points, took the game scoring honors.

White Elm Tree

The white elm tree is historically famous in the U. S. because George Washington stood under one at Cambridge, Mass., when he took command of the American army, and William Penn stood under another when he made his treaty with the Indians.

Keeping Score .... With HUCK OLSON

According to Form

If the district basketball tournament, being played here this week, proceeds as smoothly as last week's sub-district meet, there should be very few complaints directed towards the tournament committee. And if Red Wilson and Jolly Erickson, from Bemidji, are as judicious with the whistles as Red Jarrett and Roy Trueblood were last week, there won't be many beefs against the officiating either.

Climax fulfilled pre-tournament predictions by picking off the sub-district championship, but the Vikings were extended plenty before they came through with the title. And the closeness of the scores, 34 to 29 over Oslo, and 28 to 21 over St. Hilaire, wasn't caused by Ralph Miller's team being "off" in its play, but rather because Oslo and St. Hilaire played bang-up ball.

It was the consensus of the fans that Bob Nelson and Duaine Howland of Climax, and Harlan Olson of St. Hilaire, were the outstanding players in the sub-district play. Nelson revealed a nifty brand of ball-handling and showed some fine one-handed shooting, especially in the finals game against St. Hilaire. Howland was the all-round star of the tournament, being equally effective whether playing at guard or center, a good scorer and a first-rate rebound man. Harlan Olson, the St. Hilaire spark, had the finest two-handed set shot in the meet, and he proved to be the pivot for coach "Harold" Rud's team.

One for the Books

Emil Jechort, bowling with the Poppler's Furniture team in the Commercial league, came up with an odd game last Tuesday night. Emil had no errors, no strikes, and no splits; only spares, ten of 'em in a row.

The Name was James Parks

That fellow who put on that pocket billiard exhibition in Gunder Grovum's Club last week was James Parks of St. Cloud, a salesman for the B. F. Nelson Co. Following his exhibition of trick and fancy shots, being particularly deadly on running shots, he engaged in an informal game of straight rail pocket billiards and clicked off one run of 65, which was pretty good considering that he was using a "house" cue and playing on a strange table.

In 1937, while living in Detroit, he won the Michigan state pocket billiards championship and represented that state in the world's championship tournament, which was won by Ralph Greenleaf.

An Upset

It's a certainty that there will be a number of upsets popping around the state this week, but I doubt if any of them will be as stunning as Borup's 31 to 30 win over Ada on Monday. Ada had been beaten only once this year, by Detroit Lakes, and registered victories over such teams as Moorhead and Crookston, so Borup's Monday night win must be called an upset.

Borup will now face Bagley for the 30th district championship and the right to enter the regional tournament, with the odds heavily in favor of Bagley.

A Hot One

If you wish excitement that is excitement, you'd better be at the Arena next Sunday when the River Valley team plays a second broomball hockey game with Bob Petersen's Thieves. The River Valley team, with the six Radniecki's, didn't take very kindly to that 6 to 1 defeat they received a couple of months ago and it is reported that they have been whittling oak broom-stick handles and cooking up deep strategy for Sunday's game.

Broomball All-stars to Meet River Valley Sunday

A broomball hockey game will be played at the Arena on Sunday afternoon, with the River Valley team meeting an all-star aggregation from the local league. In a game between the two teams several weeks ago, and which caused plenty of "fireworks", the locals scored a 6 to 1 win over the River Valley sextet.

WAR BOARD CHIEF CITES NEW SOURCE OF FARMER LOANS

Carl R. Anderson Explains Federal Loan Setup in Pennington Co.

Where the new type of farm credit can be obtained for increasing 1943 farm production was cleared up this week by Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the county war board, who made it plain that the loans are being made at the office of the Pennington county war board in Thief River Falls.

"Evidently there is much interest in this new kind of credit," said Mr. Anderson. "Many inquiries are being made among farmers and others, as to just what this new credit is intended to accomplish and where a farmer should go to make an application.

"The place to make the application is at the county war board office in this county. The loans are made by a representative of the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation, Patrick W. Culkins, acting with the chairman of the county war board. The plan is a very simple one, worked out so as to make credit available to all farmers who are in position to help this country increase the amount of vitally needed farm products.

"There is a special advantage in this setup. It provides a credit source in every county where all the facts concerning a farmer's needs can be considered by local men familiar with local conditions and can be acted upon promptly. That is not to discredit any other credit institution or credit source. The war board, in making Regional Agricultural Credit loans—or RACC loans as they are called—is not trying to compete with other lenders. This is a supplementary service, not a competitive one."

George C. Jones to Take over Duties of State GOP Chairman from Radabaugh

Expressing a desire to devote what time he can spare to Republican activities outside the state, Dr. R. C. Dr. Radabaugh has been state chairman since 1938 and has directed the Republican organization through the three successful campaigns in which Governor Stassen has run.

Son of Edward Rydeen of Clearbrook Is Held Prisoner by Japanese

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Rydeen of Clearbrook received a telegram recently advising them of the fact that their son, Ernest, is a prisoner of war of the Japanese and is now being held on the Philippines, where he was stationed about two years ago. When the Japs took over he was a pursuit pilot in the greatly outnumbered air force there.

Early last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Rydeen received notice that their son was missing in action, and it was not until just now that they received definite word that he is alive but being held prisoner.

The Rydeens are well known to creamery people of the Northwest, as Mr. Rydeen has served as a director of District 17 for a number of years and has been active in Land O'Lakes creamery work.

TIPS ON PLANTING FLAX GIVEN BY 'U' FARM AUTHORITY

Buda Recommended Variety, But Other Kinds Also May be Seeded

Farmers who expect to grow flax for the first time and others who plan to increase flax acreages this year will be interested in pointers for 1943 flax plantings by A. C. Arny, University Farm agronomist. Higher yields may be obtained later by heeding these suggestions now, he says.

White Buda is the recommended variety for northwestern and west central Minnesota where rust has been a serious factor, flax growers are advised to plant other highly rust resistant varieties not on the regular recommended list. If sufficient quantities of Viking, Walsh, or Royal are not obtainable, Arny suggests mixing these with Redwing or Biwing to bring up the needed amount. In the Red River Valley, 30 to 40 pounds of seed per acre is advised.

Redwing and Biwing, both moderately rust resistant varieties, are recommended to growers in other regions of the state where flax rust has not been a serious factor. Seed should be purchased as soon as possible in amounts of 45 pounds per acre of small seeded varieties like Redwing or 55 pounds of the large seeded varieties.

Special cleaning precautions should be taken to eliminate weed seeds and bits of straw which may carry rust spores. Army recommends treating flax seed before planting, by using one-half ounce New Improved Ceresan per bushel or one and one-half ounce old Ceresan.

Time for planting flax should be early as for wheat and oats since there is little danger from temperatures as low as 25 degrees F. Early planted flax will get ahead of weed growth and usually will mature before rust makes headway and hot dry weather sets in.

OPA Announces Ration Dates to be Kept in Mind During Month of March

Two dates during March are of consequence to motorists — the twenty-first and thirty-first. Period 4 stamps in "A" ration books expire the twenty-first, and all "A" drivers must have their tires inspected by the thirty-first. Sugar, coffee and fuel oil stamps also change this month. The following list should be clipped and kept for reference:

March 11—Fuel oil stamps for period 5, good for 11 gallons each, become valid.

March 15—Expiration date for stamp No. 11 from War Ration Book No. 1. It is good for three pounds of sugar.

March 16—Stamp No. 12, good for five pounds of sugar, goes into effect for an 11 week period.

March 21—Expiration date for stamp No. 25 from War Ration Book No. 1. It is good for one pound of coffee.

March 21—No. 4 stamps in "A" mileage ration books, good for four gallons of gasoline each, expire at midnight.

March 31—Deadline for inspection of tires on passenger cars owned by holders of "A" mileage ration coupons.

March 31—Retail food dealers will take their first inventory of the point value of rationed foods on hand.

April 1—Food retailers will start registering with the Office of Price Administration, reporting both the point value of their inventory and of their March sales.

April 10—Deadline for registration by food retailers of point value of their food on hand and their March sales.

Nurses Are Urged to Return Questionnaires Sent to Them Recently

The Minnesota nursing council for war service is issuing an appeal to every registered nurse in the state to complete and mail the nursing survey cards which she has received.

The survey is an effort to locate and list every registered nurse, in order that the fullest use may be made of nurses on the home front as well as military service.

Cards have been sent to 11,490 nurses in Minnesota and 5,200 have been returned. It is important that the remainder be mailed to Caroline Rankiellour, special agent, United States Public Health Service, 2642 University Avenue, Saint Paul, within the next two weeks. The cards require no postage.

NEWFOLDEN

NEWFOLDEN WINS SUB-DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

The sub-district started off at Karlstad on Wednesday evening with Newfolden downing the Middle River quint 51 to 15. The second game between Strandquist and Karlstad was a hard-fought game with neither side being able to connect with the basket very often. Strandquist stopped Karlstad however by a 15 to 11 score.

In the consolation tilt at Newfolden Saturday evening Karlstad topped Middle River 34 to 26 to win the ball. The championship game started off with a bang when Bosn of Strandquist started dropping some long shots to put them temporarily in the lead. However, by the end of the first half the Nordics had begun proving themselves too strong and the score stood Newfolden 19, Strandquist 14. The Nordics held the upper hand throughout the second half and the final whistle found Newfolden out in front 41 to 25.

Lowell Anderson of Newfolden was high point man for the tournament with 24 points for the two games.

The district tournament will be held at Roseau Thursday and Friday, March 11 and 12. Newfolden meets Roseau at 8:00 and Stephen meets Lancaster at 9:15 the first evening. Roseau and Newfolden are undefeated during the season and this should be the deciding game of the tournament. The losers will play at 8:00 and the winners will play at 9:15 Friday evening for the championship and a chance to go to the regional tournament at Bemidji next week.

Lenten Menus in Wartime

Use Attractive Vegetable Combinations for Lent

Your ingenuity meets a real test with the arrival of Lent, especially during wartime, for your meal's mainstay—meat—takes a vacation. But no smart homemaker will despair, for it's amazing what can be done with a bag of rice, a package of macaroni, and a few good vegetable combinations. Add to that list some kinds of fish and cheese, and Lenten tables really take on fine proportions.

It's important to keep yourself nutrition-minded during this season, as you don't want to cheat your family of any important proteins. You see, they build the body, and repair it as needed. One protein food a day is essential and that means cheese or fish worked into the menu.

Those platters should be kept attractive, too! Nothing sells a meal like its good appearance. Work out clever geometrical designs with several different types of vegetables and see how much easier it is to sell them to the family.

Select vegetables with a view to color, texture and flavor, and have a pattern in mind when making up a platter with them. Try some of the following combinations:

GARDEN and TABLE

By
ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

Many a homemaker has felt that so far she's done nothing toward the war effort. From now on every homemaker in the country has a real war job keeping the family healthy with well balanced meals. Under the new rationing system, she'll have to plan ahead pretty wisely so the family won't be short of points by the middle of the month and suffer diet deficiencies for a couple of weeks as a consequence. It's a wise woman, too, who will use as many unrationed foods as possible.

We're going to continue harping on the importance of making a vitamin factory of your victory garden. Tiny amounts of vitamins handle big jobs, and even though amounts are small, they are essential to health. A green and yellow garden, with tomato-red trimming, will not only be attractive, but will give you the vitamins you need.

In planning your vitamin garden, better start off with tomatoes and cabbage. Next summer if you eat plenty of fresh raw cabbage and tomatoes, you'll get all the Vitamin C you need so you won't have to rely on other sources that are more expensive and probably hard to get. If you have the space, you'll be smart to plant enough tomatoes so you'll have plenty for eating and for canning. If you intend to plant cabbage for summer eating and winter storing, plant early and late varieties so you won't harvest it all at one time.

If you're going to have a really big garden, plan to save labor by making the rows long and spacing them far enough apart to allow for use of regular farm machinery. Or you might have a small garden near the house containing the crops necessary for table use and a larger one in the field to produce bulk crops for drying, canning, and storage.

Here is a friendly tip as you do your garden planning. Have a succession of crops throughout the season, and group short-season crops together so as to permit that area to be replanted to other crops later.

If you have room to plant sweet corn, get the yellow variety. The yellower the corn, the higher the food value. And to utilize space, plant yellow squash between the rows of sweet corn. That will give you something for next winter, too.

Have you thought of planting soybeans? Although both field and garden varieties are edible, the garden varieties have a better flavor and are more easily shelled. Soybeans have much the same food value as meat and are chock-full of vitamins. Dry soybeans make many a nutritious and low-cost dish next winter.

Even though you may have decided to buy your transplants from a reliable dealer, you may still want to start a few plants in a small flat or window box. The box should be a convenient size three or four inches deep. About one inch of gravel should be placed in the bottom of the box for drainage. The box should then be nearly filled with soil, the seed sown, and the box put in a warm place in the light. When the plants are from one to two inches tall, they should be planted into other boxes about two inches apart or into individual containers. Some form of hotbed or cold frame is desirable if many plants are required. (See Extension Bulletin 174).

Though the accent is on vegetable gardens this spring, plant a few flowers, too. They need not take much room, and you'll be surprised what they'll do for morale.

ON THE Q.T.

The waiter approached one of the regular diners at the restaurant and asked if he would do him a favor.

"I'm leaving the restaurant, sir," he explained, "and the manager won't give me a reference. I thought perhaps you might say I was honest, sir. I've always served you when you've been here, sir."

"Well, I don't mind saying that," said the diner. "Bring me some notepaper."

He wrote a few words.

"Thank you very much indeed, sir," said the waiter. "I can never repay you sufficiently." Then he bent low and whispered: "Come here tomorrow, and I'll let you have a meal for nothing."

Credit

Dependable credit is the life spring of all enterprise, without which practically all large as well as small development would stop. It was credit that brought the railroads into our northwest empire to make it possible for the pioneer with courage and vision to come in to develope its resources, establish his home, and make it what it is today.

It required courage and a firm faith in the outcome of agriculture in Northwestern Minnesota, and most of all in the character, dependability, and honesty of the farmer for the stockholders of the Northern Credit Company to put $10,000 of their personal money into its capital in the dark business days of 1929 in order to furnish a source of credit to agriculture that was sorely needed.

We are proud today now that our faith in the man on the farm was not misplaced and to know that conditions have improved far beyond all expectations of sixteen years ago, and that many thousand farmers have established sound credit with us.

YOUR INCOME TAX

By Bureau of Internal Revenue

Expenses of Farmers

A farmer who operates a farm for profit is entitled to deduct from gross income as necessary expenses all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in the carrying on of the business of farming. The cost of feeding and raising livestock may be treated as an expense deduction insofar as such costs represent actual outlay, but not including the value of farm produce grown upon the farm or the labor of the taxpayer. Also deductible is the cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer), and small tools used up in the course of a short period.

The cost of fuel and oil used for farm work, as well as repairs and maintenance of farm machinery, is deductible as a business expense; but the cost of farm machinery, equipment, and farm buildings represents a capital investment and is not an allowable deduction. The cost, however, may be recovered by depreciation allowances. In the case of a farmer, the farm dwelling is not depreciable, except such part of it as may be used directly in farming operations. The cost of gasoline, repairs and upkeep of an automobile if used wholly in connection with the taxpayer's farm operations, as well as depreciation thereon, may be deducted, but if an automobile is used partly for business and partly for pleasure or the convenience of the taxpayer or his family, the cost of operation may be apportioned according to the extent of the use for purposes of business and for pleasure or convenience, and the portion attributable to business as a necessary business expense.

The cost of hired laborers and hired machines on a farm and the part of the board which is purchased for hired laborers are deductible. The value of products furnished by the farm and used in the board of hired laborers is not a deductible expense. Rations purchased and furnished to laborers or sharecroppers are deductible as a part of the labor expense. Amounts paid to persons engaged in household work to the extent that their services are used in boarding and otherwise caring for farm laborers are deductible, but amounts paid for services of such employees engaged in caring for the farmer's own household are not a deductible expense.

Amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards, and ranches prior to the time when the productive state is reached may be regarded as investments of capital. The cost of planting trees, as well as the amounts expended by a farmer in the restoration of soil fertility preparatory to actual production of crops and the cost of liming soil to increase productiveness over a period of years are capital expenditures; but the cost of commercial fertilizers, the benefit of which is of short duration and which have to be used every year or so, even after a farm reaches the productive state, is deductible as an expense.

Amounts expended in purchasing work, breeding, or dairy animals are regarded as investments of capital and may be depreciated unless such animals are included in inventory.

Planes soon will fly at heights of eight miles or more—but medical science has come to the aid of men who pilot planes and who will be subject to "bends," cramps induced by such altitudes.

Dr. Walter M. Boothby of the Mayo's aviation medicine research laboratory said that increased precautions for the safety of pilots would be needed.

Medical science already has devised preliminary decompression of all high altitude fliers before they take off. New types of oxygen masks have been developed also, he said.

Trapping of Beaver to be Permitted April 5 to 19

A season for the trapping of beaver will be opened throughout the state excepting in game refuges and state parks for 15 days from April 5 to 19th, inclusive, with a limit of 4 beavers per trapper. A census made by the game research unit of the bureau of game on sample townships in the beaver range showed a population approximately the same as that existing previous to last year's season. Last year's catch, including seizures and permit trapping, was 5,217.

An enterprising New Orleans auto dealer uses the show window where he once displayed auto parts to exhibit his new line of Christmas toys.

Exclusive of beavers 1,250,954 fur animals were taken in Minnesota in 1941. Muskrat pelts constitute 69% of the number and 53% of the value. Mink is second, skunk third, weasel and raccoon. In terms of value, beaver ranks fourth.

Betty Crocker KITCHEN CLINIC

prepared for Your Newspaper by Betty Crocker Home Service Department

HOW SHALL WE "SHARE THE MEAT"?

"Share the meat—so all may eat" is the slogan of the "share the meat" program. It means that we Americans are being asked to voluntarily limit ourselves to 2½ pounds of the restricted meats per week per person. This is because so much meat is going to our armed forces and to "lend-lease" that there will be a little less meat left for us civilians than we normally eat. So we want to make this lesser amount go around—and not have some people eating much more than their share while others can get none. But notice that we have said "restricted" meats. These 2½ pounds per week per person do not include poultry, liver, tongue, kidneys, sweetbreads, hearts, brains, tripe, souse, pork feet, scrapple and such meats. These are called the "unrestricted" meats. They need not be figured into your 2½ pounds a week. However, this may not mean that these unrestricted meats will be plentiful. There may be times you will not find any of them. But it's a good idea to use them when you can get them because—in addition to giving you a little more meat for the week, many of them are excellent sources of important minerals and vitamins. But the roasts, the chops and steaks you've been familiar with—those are the meats you are being called upon to "share."

ALLOWANCE FOR CHILDREN AND INVALIDS

The Government, in estimating this 2½ pounds of meat per person, has taken into consideration the small children and invalids who never under any circumstances would be eating that much meat. They've estimated ¾ pound per week for children under 6 years of age—and 1½ pounds per week for children from 6 to 12 years of age. Half of the 2½ pounds per week has been estimated as sufficient for invalids.

WHEN YOU EAT OUT OR WHEN YOU DRESS YOUR OWN MEAT

You are asked to play fair when you figure your meat allowance. Farmers who dress their own meat, those who maintain food lockers and individuals who eat all their meals at restaurants are asked to share fairly. If you have [illegible] with a friend, figure that meat into your weekly allowance.

SHARE YOUR ALLOWANCE WITH YOUR PETS

If you feed restricted meat to [illegible], it must be included in your weekly allowance.

WHY NO MEATLESS DAYS?

Some may remember the "meatless" days of World War No. 1 and wonder why we have not resorted to that expedient this time. The truth is, meatless days didn't reduce the consumption of meat. It seems that people felt so virtuous over going without meat one day—that on the next day they allowed themselves a reward by eating twice as much.

So, instead of cutting out the meat entirely for a day or two a week, we are urged to make use of the unrestricted meats where we can and make the restricted meats go further by using "extenders"—that is—other foods combined with the meat to help it go further. Meat loaves, meat pies, stews and various casseroles come under this heading.

WHY WE NEED MEAT

That's the story in brief of the why's and wherefore's of the share the meat campaign. It means enough for all—if all will play fair. And it needn't be such a hardship when you consider the unrestricted meats that can be added to the 2½ pounds per week per person. Our Government is recognizing the importance of meat in our diets. It's not only a muscle building protein food that most people enjoy eating but it's an important source of the B Vitamin group. In addition to these B vitamins (thiamine, niacin and riboflavin), liver also is an excellent source of Vitamin A. Meat is likewise rich in such highly important minerals as iron, phosphorus and copper.

So, let's observe this voluntary meat rationing so that every American may enjoy these benefits of meat.

Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chester and family were honored guests Sunday afternoon at their home when a gang of neighbors and relatives gathered there to wish them "bon voyage". The Chesters are leaving in the immediate future to make their home in Wisconsin. They have lived in this community several years and will be greatly missed by their host of friends. The party was arranged by Mrs. John Ranum, Mrs. Mark Olson, and Miss Clara Olson.

A purse of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Chester who responded with a few words of thanks. A huge repast was served.

Robert Wiener, Franklin Vake, and George Homme motored to North Dakota Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Szymanski and son Kenneth of Kratka visited at the Casper Wiener home Friday evening.

High Revenues Permit Reduction in State Tax, Says Taxpayers Group

With several tax-reduction measures before the present session, the Minnesota Legislature has an opportunity to effect some relief to taxpayers in the face of unprecedented federal demands, according to James P. McDonnell, of Buffalo, president of Minnesota Taxpayers association.

"Reduction downward of the state property tax as proposed in H-F No. 1, would reduce property levies by several million dollars. This would offer some relief to the property owner, give more leeway to local government in handling municipal affairs, and improve the tax base in Minnesota," McDonnell said.

Proposed changes in the State income tax—S-F No. 7—would bring it into conformity with the federal system of computing exemptions.

Reductions in the tax also are proposed, and this is considered possible because there is an estimated surplus of seven million dollars in the income tax school fund, and there will be an estimated six million dollar surplus in the State general revenue fund at the end of the next fiscal year, June 30, he said.

It is pointed out these thirteen millions, plus what the income tax will produce, will leave the school fund sufficiently adequate to take care of school aid payments in the next biennium.

HOFFMANN NAMES KIPP ASSISTANT HIGHWAYS CHIEF

Has Been Connected with the Department During the Past 29 Years

Appointment of Mr. Orin L. Kipp as assistant commissioner and chief engineer of the state highway department, succeeding the late J. T. Ellison who died on Christmas day, has been announced by Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann. At the same time the commissioner announced the appointment of Mr. Gordon G. Gladman, who for 14 years has been the highway department's engineer of surveys and design, to the post of engineer of plans and surveys. Both appointments become effective as of March 1.

Mr. Kipp has been connected with the Minnesota highway department since 1914, being appointed first as engineer for the state in Redwood county, and in the fall of 1916 being transferred to the central office and placed in charge of federal aid construction, which was initiated at the time under the Federal Aid Highway Act. When the trunk highway system was established in 1921, Mr. Kipp was appointed construction engineer, having charge of surveys, plans and construction, and continued in this post until early in 1939 when he was appointed acting chief engineer of the department for five months while Mr. Ellison was on leave of absence.

On July 1, 1939, he was appointed assistant chief engineer and planning engineer. He has served since 1928 as chairman of the committee on road design of the American Association of State Highway Officials and was selected as a member of the special committee on administrative design policies of that association. He has also been active in the work of the highway research board.

In assuming their new posts, Mr. Kipp will retain the responsibilities he formerly performed as assistant chief engineer, and Mr. Gladman will assume additional duties in the field of highway planning and at the same time continue to supervise highway surveys and preparation of engineering plans.

Persons on Special Diet Can Obtain Extra Canned Foods Despite Rationing

Person who are on special diets requiring extra amounts of vegetables can obtain these foods despite point rationing through a special procedure explained today by Office Administration officials.

The person needing extra vegetables can apply to his local ration board for the extra supplies by submitting a licensed or registered physician's prescription showing why more processed foods are needed, the amounts and types of foods needed during March and April of this year, and why unrationed foods cannot be used instead of canned.

The individual also will fill out form R-315, to which the prescription will be attached. It can be mailed to the ration board or presented to it by the applicant or someone designated by him. The form was originally prepared for requests for additional sugar and must be adapted to apply for additional points.

Where the board approves the application, it will consider the number of points required for the foods requested and the number of points alloted the applicant for the period. His regular number of points for the period will be deducted from the total needed and a certificate issued to him for the difference, OPA officials said.

New Federal War Bond Group to Undertake Sale of 15 Billion in April

The U. S. treasury department announced today creation of the United States treasury war finance committee which will constitute an amalgamation of the war savings staff and the victory fund Committee. The new committee will direct a drive in April to sell approximately fifteen billion dollars in bonds.

John N. Peyton, president of the Federal Reserve bank in Minneapolis, who has been designated by the treasury to act as chairman of the new war finance committee for the Ninth federal reserve district, expressed keen satisfaction over the welding of the two bond selling organizations.

"Now", said Mr. Peyton, "all volunteers can join efforts in the common cause to accomplish the single purpose of financing the war. This assures the success of the coming drive, which will represent the largest piece of financing ever undertaken. I am confident the goal will be reached."

CONTROVERSIAL BILLS DEBATED IN LEGISLATURE

House Passes Reapportionment Bill Sponsored by Rural Members

LOWER HOUSE KILLS REPEAL OF LIEN LAW

Bills Regulating Sales of Beer Make Progress in Senate

Starting down the stretch on the last half of their session, members of the Minnesota Legislature came to grips this past week on a wide range of controversial measures and made some approach toward a decision on a number of the sharper issues that have agitated the two houses.

Highlighted among activities of the Legislature for the week were:

The house passed a bill sponsored by rural members, providing for submission of a constitutional amendment, which would limit the number of members of each house of the legislature which any county may have to one-sixth of the total membership. The amendment also would direct the legislature to reapportion the legislative districts "on the basis of population and geographical area" instead of "in proportion to population" as the constitution now provides. Minneapolis members made a strong fight against the bill, contending that it would prevent a reapportionment that would be fair to the large cities, but rural members pushed the bill through, 67 to 41.

The house adopted a committee report killing a bill that called for repeal of the old age assistance lien. Representative Roy E. Dunn, majority leader, told members of the house that he wanted to vote for a bill that will increase the maximum allowance for old age assistance from $30 to $40 and that he believed such a measure cannot be passed if the legislature repeals the lien law, which serves as a safeguard to keep off the rolls many whose children are in position to care for them. Legislators must choose between the two proposals, he suggested.

Forces seeking improved regulation of beer sales, led by Senator O. J. Finstad, chairman of the senate liquor control committee, put in a busy week and made some important advances. They defeated two attempts to kill a bill, which would give the state liquor control commissioner power of revocation over 3.2 beer licenses through issuance of a $1 special state license, and had sufficient votes to advance the bill to the calendar. Senator Finstad and others supporting him also defeated an attempt to adopt a committee report killing another bill, which would have prohibited sale of 3.2 beer outside of cities and villages, and saved the bill on a close vote.

First action on mining taxes was taken by the house committee on taxes. It voted to continue the occupation tax and the royalty tax at 10½%, the rates that have prevailed during the last two years.

LOCAL SOLDIER IS REPORTED MISSING ON AFRICAN FRONT

Parents of Private Alvin Dicken Notified by War Department

The first Thief River Falls soldier to be reported missing in action is Private Alvin Dicken, 23, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dicken of this city, received a message to that effect Sunday from the war department.

Serving in North Africa as a radio man in a tank battalion, Private Dicken entered the army January 20, 1942, and went to Ireland last summer, later being transferred to the North African front.

He had attended Lincoln high school here, and was a member of the football squad.

1ST LIEUT. JARVIS PRICHARD SPEAKS AT H. S. ASSEMBLY

Tells of Experiences as Navigator on Bomber over Aleutians

First Lieutenant Jarvis Prichard of the army air force addressed Lincoln high school students at an assembly program Monday afternoon, discussing some of his experiences during the past nine months when he served as a navigator on bombers patrolling the fogbound Aleutian Islands.

Lieutenant Prichard, who was graduated from the local high school in 1934, is in the city for a brief leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Prichard.

In his talk he stated that he had flown approximately 100,000 miles back and forth off the Alaskan coast, but that army regulations did not permit him to go into details on his experiences. He mentioned, however, one surprise attack by a squadron of bombers on the Japanese held island of Kiska.

He said the Aleutian Islands consist of deposits of volcanic rock, with virtually no vegetation, but plentifully supplied with wild game. He added that fogs and stiff gales prevail almost constantly over the chain of islands, rendering air navigation difficult.

MILTON LARSON ELECTED HEAD OF LOCAL GOLF CLUB

Named to Succeed Stanton R. Dahlen at Annual Meeting Tuesday

Despite the prevailing blizzard Tuesday night, thirty members of the Thief River Falls Golf club assembled in the Rex Cafe for the annual meeting and election of officers. Stanton R. Dahlen, retiring president, presided over the session.

Officers named include Milton Larson, president; Dr. H. H. Hedemark, vice president; and Lloyd M. Bennes and J. P. Curtis, who were respectively reelected secretary and treasurer. Elected directors for terms of two years were Mr. Dahlen, H. O. Chommie and Hakon M. Olson, while Ed Carlson and H. A. Brumund were named for one-year terms.

The treasurer's annual report revealed that all bills had been paid before the end of the past year, and that the mortgage debt against the club property had been reduced $300.

Members agreed that the club should operate this year as usual, and decided to retain the present schedule of dues and fees. Lunch was served following the business meeting.

Miss Stefanik and High School Bands Entertain Crowds at Cage Tourney

Proceedings at the district basketball tournament in the Lincoln high school gymnasium last Thursday and Friday were enlivened by music supplied by high school bands from this city, Crookston and Red Lake Falls. Miss Constance Stefanik of Winnipeg, vocal star of the home talent show last week, witnessed her first basketball game Thursday night, and entertained the large audience with the rendition of "There'll Always Be an England" and "God Bless America".

Answering correctly three-quarters of a wide variety of questions propounded by an urbane quizmaster in the person of President Lloyd Bennes, four guest experts impressed a large audience with their erudition in an "Information Please" program presented at the March meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Sharing the honors as experts were Rev. G. S. Thompson, L. W. Rullen, John Lind and Russell "Huck" Olson, Times sports writer. The quartet was stumped by the problem of locating Numedal township in their home county, as well as in defining patella and strabismus. They had no trouble, however, explaining why a barbershop pole is striped, or in identifying the "Four Horsemen" of the Notre Dame football team in the early 1920s.

To lend variety, some of the questions asked by Mr. Bennes involved the use of pantomimes, maps and recorded music.

The musical portion of the program included a group of selections by the high school girls sextet, which was called on to supply an encore. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

In announcing the conference County Agent Ernest Palmer is inviting in all agencies and groups that can be of service in assisting in an improved garden program.

Included among the agencies and individuals invited to cooperate at the conference are war board agencies, farm organizations, schools, civilian defense agencies, labor organizations, county government, civic groups, trade groups, churches, and city officials.

The purpose behind calling such a conference according to Mr. Palmer, is the need for more victory gardens in 1943. America needs six million farm gardens and twelve million city, town and suburban gardens. Vegetables and fruits from these gardens will make a real contribution to the total civilian food supply. It is hoped at this conference that means of encouraging more and better gardens both for farm and town people may be devised.

STORM DELAYS RED CROSS WAR FUND CAMPAIGN

Women Workers in City Are Prevented from Making Their Rounds

DRIVE IN RURAL AREA ALSO AT STANDSTILL

Drive in Downtown District Gets Off Monday to Flying Start

The severe storm this week delayed progress of the Pennington county Red Cross war fund campaign, which opened Monday with a breakfast meeting of men solicitors in the Palm Garden, followed at noon by a luncheon of women workers in the Evelyn hotel.

Solicitation by the women in the residence districts of the city was virtually at a standstill up to Wednesday night, owing to the raging blizzard, which also prevented workers in the rural districts from making their rounds. The work is expected to get under way in full swing within the next few days.

Drive Chairman Stanton R. Dahlen announced, however, that the solicitation in the downtown district had got off to a flying start, with workers turning in a total of $2,278 up to this morning. The LaBree av. team of Andrew Anderson and L. G. Larsen led the field, bringing in $460 to date and expecting to exceed the $500 mark. The quota for the city is $3,700.

Up to this morning a total of $79 had been turned in from the rural areas, making total contributions for the county of $2,357.

Mr. Dahlen emphasized the fact that the current campaign is not for the sole purpose of collecting $1 memberships in the Red Cross, but is combined with the war fund appeal, which calls for additional contributions to finance the invaluable work the organization is performing on the battle fronts as well as elsewhere thruout the United States and the world at large.

RATION BOARD NOW TAKING REQUESTS FOR RATION BOOK 2

County Headquarters Sets Office Hours 9:30 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Residents of Pennington who have not yet received their War Ration Book Two can obtain it now and, at the same time, be brought up to date on other rationing problems by applying at the office of the county war price and rationing board in this city.

At the same time, board officials have been notified by the state OPA headquarters in St. Paul that office hours henceforth will be from 9:30 A. M. to 4 P. M. This does not mean that the boards will not be on the job at other hours, but St. Paul OPA officials explained that the increase in book and mail work made it necessary to limit the hours the boards will be open to the public.

In the new War Book Two registration, OPA officials said that persons who did not get that book during the registration from February 22 to 28 can apply any time now.

Applicants who have no ration books at all will now register for both books—One and Two. By appearing before the local board or its representatives, the applicant can fill out the necessary form to obtain Book One. This will be tailored to fit his needs from this point on so far as sugar and coffee are concerned.

Then, the applicant must fill out a consumer declaration form, listing the number of containers of processed foods that are rationed he had on hand February 21 minus five. If the applicant is registering for his entire family, the containers for all members of the family, minus five for each member, must be listed. Also to be listed are the number of pounds of coffee, minus one, the family had on hand November 28, 1942 and the number of persons in the family whose age now is over 15.

RATIONING OF MEAT TO START ON MARCH 29TH

Cheese, Butter and Oils Are Also Included in New Program

PRICE CHIEF BROWN ANNOUNCES DETAILS

Estimated 2 Pounds of Meat Per Person Will be Available

The new meat-cheese-butter-oils rationing will start March 29, the government announced Friday, and there will be no sales "freeze" beforehand as there was on other rationing programs.

Price Administrator Brown followed up with details Friday the order of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard for rationing meat, cheese, edible fats and oils including butter and canned fish with red coupons of the No. 2 ration book.

Each person, regardless of age, will be allowed 16 points a week for the whole group of new items to be rationed. There will be no exact meat ration, although Wickard estimated the amount of meat available will average two pounds per week per person for home consumption.

Actually, the public will be able to buy more or less meat, depending on how many of the same coupons are used for other rationed foods. The amount of meat also will depend on what kind of meat is purchased.

Just what the 16-point allowance will buy cannot be determined until OPA distributes in about two weeks the chart of point values—similar to the recent chart on canned goods—giving coupon values for the rationed items.

Restaurants will continue to be coupon-free to customers, although OPA will ration supplies used by restaurants.

Other details:

Weekly coupons will be good for a month. If any coupons are left over from the first week, they may be used with the second week's coupons. The same is true of the third and fourth weeks, until April 30 all the first month's coupons will expire together.

Because meat cutting is not exact, point costs of meat will be figured to the nearest full point. Thus, a steak which figured 10¼ points could be had for 10 points. But if it figures 10½ or larger fraction, it will cost 11 points.

Butchers will be allowed to give change coupons to customers not having the exact coupon price in their books.

Butchers will be required technically to trim fat and bone according to normal practices but this rule will be so difficult to enforce on a legal basis that officials are looking to the customer to get himself fair treatment or take the patronage elsewhere.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Boy Scout troops are promoting inter-patrol competition. Troop 60 has started a baseball tourney in which each batter quotes a scout law as it is called. Each batter has three chances to make a perfect quotation and three men out retires that patrol and the next patrol goes to bat. The score now stands at a tie with one run each. The game will continue until one side has run up twenty scores. Troop 47 has a contest in handicraft and the losing patrol will give a party for the winners.

The boys who are studying the compass will run a course which will come back to the starting point. They will write a description and the scoutmaster will designate another patrol to re-run the lines by the description given. When all patrols have had a chance, the accuracy can be checked by a study of the latitude and departures.

PRIORITIES? NOT TO REPAIR EGGS

Wadena.—Living as we do in an age of priorities one is apt to despair of doing anything without getting an A-1 or AA-1 priority rating. But that sort of thing didn't worry L. C. Stearns of a local hatchery, who is very busy hatching eggs these days. Bringing forth whole turkeys from broken eggs is his accomplishment. Mr. Stearns takes a broken egg, providing that the membrane is uninjured and gives the broken part a coating of waterglass. In three or four minutes it is on its way to become the mother of a little turkey.

A CASE OF EGGS FROM CALIFORNIA IS A SURPRISE

Verndale. — Local groceryman, Charlie Aldrich, has no trouble in getting all the eggs he needs for his customers right here in Minnesota and was amazed a few days ago when he received a case of eggs from Inglewood, California. That's the place where shoppers can only buy four at a time. How he happened to receive this case is a mystery but he surmises his son ordered a case of oranges shipped back home and someone slipped up in labelling the box.

RED CROSS NEWS
By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

Faced with a mounting shortage of doctors and nurses, American women are learning simple bedside nursing care and sickness prevention from the Red Cross. Nearly one million persons were so qualified during the fourteen month period ending Feb. 28. This sizeable nucleus is encouraged to take an active interest in community health, too, and its members help to guard the nation against another wartime epidemic.

They are being taught by thousands of professional nurses, experts in the mass teaching job they have undertaken to ready the nation for total war. Those who hold certificates feel secure in the knowledge that, come what may, they will be able to administer to ill loved ones with the surety of skilled laymen—and that there will be less sickness at home because of their practical knowledge in maintaining family health.

The devotion of nurses to duty was well illustrated last fiscal year when a call went out for 16,000 graduate nurses to teach Red Cross Home Nursing. Some 31,000 responded, many coming from retirement to serve their country.

Herman Kjos, chairman of Pennington county chapter of the Red Cross announced today that our share of the quota of the 1943 Red Cross War Fund Campaign will be used as follows: Administration $125.00; home service, $500.00; production, $4000.00; health nurse, $600.00; first aid and water safety, $250.00; contingencies, $200.00; home nursing, $150.00; roll call and war fund expense, $35.00; volunteer service, $35.00; disaster committee, $30.00; nurses aid, $25.00.

Mrs. George Werstlein announced today that the new shipment of gauze has arrived and that work on surgical dressings started Monday afternoon. She urges as many women as possible to come down and help.

Any group or individual wishing to help out and sew kit bags for our boys in service are asked to call Mrs. A. M. Aase, telephone 473-J.

Consumers Interest

If we learn to use our buying power wisely we will be contributing directly to the war effort. As we learn to use the point rationing system we are learning to make America strong.

One member of the consumers interest committee is in the Civilian Defense office each Monday afternoon from two to four o'clock. They are now prepared to explain and assist with the point rationing system. New literature and bulletins are coming in and may be seen at the office.

Salvage

That tablespoon of fat, oil, roast drippings or grease is big because it contains glycerine. Glycerine makes explosives for bullets and shells. So don't pour bullets down the drain. It doesn't matter how many different types of waste fat you put in one container—meat, bacon, fish, vegetable, fowl—so long as they are strained. Put into any clean tin can, removing the top so there are no jagged edges. Keep in cool place, save every drop. Take containers of a pound or more to any meat dealer—He'll pay you and send along your valuable contribution to help make shells and bullets for the boys.

Throwing away a tablespoon of fat can mean throwing away some boy's life.

Program

Miss Mary Liddeke and Mr. Alton Briggs will arrive Thursday afternoon. They will attend the Civic and Commerce dinner at the Palm Garden at 6:30 and the Victory Aides are expected to attend wearing their arm bands and caps.

FARM HELP PLAN BASED ON LOCAL ADMINISTRATION

Paul E. Miller, State Chief, Announces Details of Organization

Determined to keep the program as close to "grass roots" as possible, Paul E. Miller and his eight-man advisory board this week announced the basic plan for developing Minnesota's 1943 farm help mobilization, training and recruitment program. Miller, chief of the state's agricultural extension service, is placing much responsibility on a county committee in all agricultural areas of the state and thence on a similar but smaller committee, to meet the particular needs of each trade area.

Working with Miller are representatives of all the federal and state governmental agencies, whose chiefs have agreed to follow his leadership.

This week, following a series of area conferences with county agents, Miller began the formation of the new county committees. Each will be composed of the chairman of the county board, the county auditor, a representative of the county war board, a representative of the county office of civilian defense, the mayor, or his appointee, of each trade center in the county, representative farmers and representative farm women, and the county superintendent of schools. The local manager of the U. S. employment service in the area will serve ex officio. Community committees will have a similar makeup.

Under Miller's conception the "farm help" job, instead of being one statewide, abstract problem, is in reality a multitude of small, isolated situations. He feels that the needs of individual farmers will be met only as each such isolated problem is solved.

The initial step in the development of the program was the dispatch by Miller of a letter to the state's county board chairmen and to the county auditors.

All county agents will serve both the county and the community committees as all-around consultants.

Following are features of the 11-point program that Miller and his associates will develop:

Retain, in farm work, all young men, eligible for military service. This step is the basic concept behind new selective service regulations. It is vital to food production since these young men constitute the only remaining farm help fully qualified.

Recruitment of farm workers for industrial jobs must stop immediately.

Make it possible for schools to adjust their programs to a more flexible basis, so that young men and young women from rural homes will not be penalized if they stay out of school when their services are needed for farm work. boys for farm work this summer and, in this connection, set up suitable training programs to acquaint prospective workers with farm life, before they are placed in farm work.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

Don't plant your garden in the shade of the old apple tree—or in the shade of any tree or tall building, for that matter. Vegetables like sun, and they don't want to compete with tree roots for the plant food and moisture that's in the soil. It's well to keep the garden plot at least 25 or 30 feet away from big trees. After all, there's almost as much of the tree under the ground as above, and those spreading tree roots take a lot of the food moisture in the ground.

If the weeds grew tall in that vacant lot last year, that's a pretty good sign, vegetables will grow there, too. But you'll be out of luck if you plant vegetables on ground that won't even grow weeds.

It's time to get busy if you haven't bought your seed yet. Don't forget that it's poor economy to buy seed merely because it's cheap. Poor seed is really the most expensive in the long run because it doesn't give the results you'll get from good seed. Extension Bulletin 174 will give you suggestions as to amounts of seed to get.

In our first column we listed some recommended varieties of vegetable seed. It's a good idea, too, to find out from your gardening neighbors the varieties that have given them the best results.

If you are planting the early varieties of certain vegetables so you can enjoy them at the beginning of summer, you may want to get seed for later plantings of them also. The early vegetables for summer use are usually not the best ones for storing or canning. Some of the vegetables ready for early summer eating are bush beans, beets, early cabbage, carrots, early corn, lettuce, green onions, peas, early potatoes, radishes, spinach, turnips, rutabagas.

Caution: Don't rush to the hardware store to buy all the gardening tools you can get. A few simple tools will do the work as well as many fancy gadgets. If yours is a small garden, the only tools you'll need are a spade or a spading fork, a steel rake, a common hoe, and a strong cord. Since metals and tools are mighty scarce in wartime, get along on essentials. And once you have tools, take good care of them.

Have you thought of growing strawberries in your garden this year? There's no fruit that looks or tastes more luscious. Besides that, strawberries are high in vitamin C and contain vitamin A, riboflavin, calcium, and iron. Generally, it is best to plant varieties already being grown successfully in your locality. If you decide to go in for strawberries, write for Extension Bulletin 72, "Growing Strawberries in Minnesota."

Having trouble figuring out what will give you most food value for your money when you buy canned vegetables or fruits? Spinach is the best buy in food value, since it's high in A, B, C, G, and iron. When you use points for fruit juice, check up on the amount of vitamin C. Compare these figures. One pound of orange juice takes 8 points and give 160 milligrams of vitamin C; one pound grapefruit juice, 8 points, 150 milligrams of vitamin C; one pound pineapple juice, 11 points, 80 milligrams of vitamin C; one pound tomato juice, 11 points, 75 milligrams of vitamin C; one pound grape juice, 8 points 30 milligrams of vitamin C. Daily requirement for an adult is 75 milligrams.

ENROLLMENTS ARE SOUGHT IN SHEEP SHEARING SCHOOL

To be Held in This District Early in April, County Agent Says

Sheep shearing schools may be held in this area early in April to help meet the expected shortage of experienced shearers this spring, according to County Agent Ernest Palmer. While plans are only tentative as yet, definite dates will be announced as soon as enrollments are large enough to make a two-day session worthwhile.

Training will be given free both to individuals who wish to do custom shearing and to farmers who plan to shear their own flocks. The two-day training sessions will be sponsored jointly by the Minnesota agricultural extension service and the state department of education.

Various operations to be stressed during the school include shearing demonstrations, handling of equipment, grinding of blades, and the preparation of wool.

Those interested in taking this course in sheep shearing are urged to get in touch with the local county agent or high school agriculture teacher. Enrollments may also be sent to W. E. Morris, University Farm, St. Paul.

PEANUT BUTTER AGAIN

Peanut butter cookies and peanut butter bread, as well as peanut butter sandwiches, are known to almost everyone. And now here comes a Peanut Cream Cake — made with peanut butter in both the cake itself and the creamy smooth icing. It's really delicious, and I predict it will become a big favorite with everyone who tastes it. It looks like a carmel or light spice cake—but it has a distinctively rich delicious taste that's all its own. The icing is so velvety smooth and thoroughly enjoyable that you'll want to use it with other cakes. It would be yummy on a spice cake, a chocolate cake or a white cake.

PEANUT CREAM CAKE

- ½ cup shortening
- ½ cup thick smooth peanut butter (not oily)
- 1½ cups brown sugar (packed in cup)
- 2 large eggs
- 1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour or 2 cups sifted cake flour
- *3 or 3¼ or 3½ tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1¼ cups milk

*Smallest amount for double-action type: medium for phosphate: largest for tartrate.

Cream shortening and peanut butter together; add brown sugar gradually; cream until fluffy. Beat in well beaten eggs until thoroughly blended. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together, and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Pour into 2 well greased and floured round 9-inch layer cake pans. Bake about 35 minutes in a moderate oven at 350° F. When cake is cool, spread Peanut Butter Icing or any desired icing between layers and over top and sides.

PEANUT BUTTER ICING

Mix together ⅔ cup granulated sugar, ⅓ cup brown sugar, and ½ cup cream or milk. Boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Blend in ⅓ cup thick smooth peanut butter (not oily). Beat until creamy. Thin with more cream or milk if necessary to make easy to spread.

From the State Capitol

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

Hearings on the financial needs of our educational system occupied much of the time in Finance committee meetings this week and I am gradually acquiring a little understanding of our patchwork system of aids to schools. There are nearly as many varieties of school aids as pickleman Heinz boasts of in his soup and relish business. The purpose of these aids is to equalize both the costs and benefits of education but in these laudable objectives they leave much to be desired. Because of the manner in which these aids are distributed we find some school districts operating almost entirely at state expense while others struggle on under a heavy burden of local taxes.

Minnesota is near the top of the list in the amount of state aid given to local school districts, last year's total being in the neighborhood of 17 million dollars, most of which came out of income tax receipts. Besides these aids the state maintains the university, several agricultural colleges and too many teacher's colleges. The cost of these institutions of higher learning is not paid out of income tax revenue. Some of it is paid from the earnings of trust funds but most of it comes from other sources of general revenue.

I draw the conclusion that we have too many teachers colleges from the fact that they are all operating far below capacity. The war is blamed for this condition. A peculiar thing about schools of this kind is that, although enrollment is down 50%, it still is essential that teaching staffs be maintained at 100%. At the present time, as I average it up, these schools are operating with less than ten pupils per teacher. In 34 teachers training departments such as the one we have at Thief River Falls, the state trained nearly 500 teachers at an annual cost to the state of about $50,000. At one teachers training college it cost the state more than $200,000 a year for current operating expenses alone to train 405 teachers. Of all the departments and institutions that have appeared before us to date the teachers training colleges impress me as being the most wasteful.

In the Senate we have started holding afternoon sessions in an effort to get non-controversial bills out of the way. Some of these non-controversial problems occasionally cause an argument however. That happened to one of mine this week, a bill that would enable counties to apply gas tax monies on road debts. The original bill was a statewide measure that would have extended this privilege to all counties but this was objected to in committee and so the bill was re-written to apply only to those counties that are heavily in debt. By limiting it to counties that have a total debt exceeding 10% of their assessed valuation the bill includes Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater along with five or six others. But even this limited bill was objected to by those who feared it was a step toward diverting gas tax money for other than road purposes. However the bill was advanced to the calendar where it should be passed without further difficulty. Now that I have admitted I represent three of the hardest-up counties of the state I am being kidded a little about some of my big talk about our territory.

The really controversial questions are still ahead of us however and from now on I suppose I will have to listen to a lot of arguments. Occasionally these are interesting but too often they are long-winded appeals to the galleries. I am glad now that I learned to read. My father insisted that I learn to read so that I wouldn't have to listen to the barbers, his experience with barber shops, of course, dating back to the salty era of the Police Gazette, when the barber shop was strictly a man's club. I am glad now, however, that I followed my father's advice because it gives me something to do when a bum speech is being repeated for the fifth time.

I have already decided to vote no on two measures that will soon come before us. One would create a real estate board and the other a watchmaker's board, legalizing a closed shop for those who sell real estate or repair watches. I cannot see that such measures are in the public interest. I favor the idea of real estate men being honest and watch makers competent, or put it the other way around if you prefer, but I don't believe that we can accomplish one or the other merely by causing them to buy a license. The many various boards we have already legalized, presumably in the public interest, are, it seems to me, more interested in establishing a legalized monopoly than in protecting the public.

The public's interests in these matters will be served if the state provides the proper machinery for the examination of those who desire to serve the public in these various capacities, and issues diplomas that will inform the public as to the qualifications of those who receive them. Some standards must be maintained for general health and security but if we are going to retain some semblance of liberty in this country we should give to individuals the greatest possible latitude in contracting for whatever services they wish to buy or sell.

In the armed forces of our country there are several million young fellows who will soon be back with us looking for an opportunity to make a living. Being forced to apply for a license before they can go to work in any field will not be their idea of the America they are fighting to save. If they want to become newspapermen they should be permitted to become newspapermen without asking some of us older fossils if we will permit them to compete with us. I am not in favor of legalizing more closed shops than we now have and so I will gladly vote against the real estate men and the watchmakers.

Now that we have passed the deadline date for the payment of income taxes I suppose we can settle down to a consideration of what these taxes should be in the future. This year's revenue from this source will far exceed the needs for school aid as we are now paying these aids. Next year's revenue from this source will drop off very considerably however, unless incomes are materially increased by inflation and if the present inflationary tendencies continue it doesn't make much difference what happens. There will be a big normal decrease in revenue because of the larger deductions that will be taken for the big federal taxes paid this year. It is probable that federal income taxes will go higher than they are at present and will continue higher for many years to come. We may assume, therefore, that the state will receive less and less income from this tax as time goes on.

That means that over a period of years the present state income tax probably will not bring in enough revenue to pay aids to schools on the present basis, and that if these aids are to be continued the money will have to come from other sources. And to what other sources shall this cost be shifted? Now that the problem is no longer immediate we can take our time in thinking about it.

The tax on moneys and credits is largely a local problem, the revenue from this source being comparatively unimportant to the state. I think it would be better to abolish it outright. There was a time when a thousand dollars could reasonably be expected to earn fifty or sixty dollars a year and at that time a tax of three dollars was not excessive. Now, however, when a thousand dollars earns only ten or twenty dollars annually, the three dollar tax is a heavy load. It is pretty much a nuisance item that we could write off the books for the time being at least.

Postmasters Andy Anderson and Ferdie Brown blew in on me like a couple of lusty tornadoes Tuesday but their visit was as refreshing as a gentle spring zephyr. After they had completed their job of removing my hide for various sins of omission or commission they settled down to singing praises for the minstrel show they had seen the night before at Thief River and while I know that you can't depend much on what a postmaster tells you, I was impressed by the evident sincerity of their favorable report on the home talent venture. More reliable sources of information have confirmed their statements. The venture was even a financial success, my operatives tell me, netting a tidy sum for worthy purposes, and, best of all, none of the receipts went to outside producers. A round of cheers to those to whom the credit is due.

Steamed up with an interest in the theater that had been aroused by my visitors, on Wednesday night I paid nearly three bucks for a seat in the ninteenth row to see Boris Karloff do his stuff in Arsenic and Old Lace. It was a delightful comedy until the final fade-out, which to me was a disappointment. Twenty-four murders had been committed and the suspense of the play was created by the question as to who would be the twenty-fifth victim. The hero was in hot water all the time but he, himself, was not so hot as an actor and my sympathies gradually shifted to the insane Boris. For me it would have been a better play if the hero had not survived. The minstrel show, I think, was a better buy.

NO ROOM FOR FRAUDS
(Eveleth Clarion News)

Fraud in dealing with the government should be punished severely, and the time for prosecution is now. So says Francis Biddle, attorney general of the United States, and he is right.

There is no room for black markets, profiteers, ration-card loopholers and chiselers in general. What a disgrace to have any of this practice going on at home when our men are facing death on distant battlefields. Why should we have to fight enemies within when the safety of the nation is threatened by enemies from without? The fact that such grafting has been prevalent in past wars does not "legalize" such treachery now. Any cheating now is just that much too much.

What happens when the acts of these cheating industries, groups, firms and individuals have their cases brought to public attention? Well, the greatest reaction is the weakening of public morals toward our form of government. It invites government control over things which we like to boast belong in the hands of the people.

If we want our beloved form of democracy to stand, these cheaters had better be exterminated the minute they show their hand.

FIRST LADY OF CHINA
(New Prague Times)

No woman in modern history has comported herself with greater dignity, charm and ability under difficult circumstances than the gracious Madame Chiang Kaishek, First Lady of China, in her public appearances in the American national capital. Presenting the cause of China with forceful clarity and discretion, the American-educated wife of China's leader sensed public sentiment of our nation and swayed American opinion already warmly sympathetic to China's glorious cause. The long-standing friendship existing between the United States and China has been forged into yet stronger bonds by the official visit of the brave and talented wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kaishek.

IS IT FAVORITISM?
(The Waseca Herald)

It may be all right, but to many people the elaborate program which Washington has outlined for training of 17-year-old aviation cadets smacks of favoritism. According to Cedric Adams, Star-Journal columnist, it will spend $27,000 on a two-year training program for each one. This includes a $75 a month salary and a free $10,000 insurance policy while at school getting an education that will prove valuable in later life. And in the meantime, the 18-year-old boys who are drafted must face all the hardships and dangers of war during the next two years at a wage of $50 a month.

LITTLE CRABBING

"These are sore days for our friends in the gasoline filling stations, and yet they are doing very little complaining," says Burt D. Parson in the Virginia Enterprise. "Other people, so much more fortunate, might take a tip from the attitude of these folks, who from now on will be doing out gasoline by the cup."

YEAR-AROUND JOB

"One thing that seems to have been overlooked in considering the manpower shortage on the farm", says J. C. Morrison in the Morris Tribune, "is that the livestock products which the country must have are the very products which require the most year around labor."

Don't Fail to Use a Bit of Blarney In Your Invitations. A Little Ingenuity Will Mean a Lot of Fun.

Come the seventeenth of March, how about inviting your friends for an Irish evenin'. With a little ingenuity you can weave a spell of music and fun that will rival the magic of the leprechauns.

Invitations, decorations and refreshments should give you little trouble. Don't forget to put blarney in the invitations, shamrocks in the decorations, and potatoes in the menu (a salad is a good idea here)!

Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly? As each guest arrives pin on his or her back an Irish name, such as Kelly, O'Reilly, O'Connell, Moore, etc., and then give him a sheet of paper on which to get the autographs of other guests as they arrive. The autograph must include the first name of the guest and his adopted Irish name. The first one to get every autograph wins.

A Trip to Limerick. As his passport to this famous Irish city, each guest must present a limerick stanza. Ask each one to choose a name from his list of autographs and write the poetry about that name. Let guests vote for the best one.

Irish Stew. Pass a large bowl of uncooked vegetables down the line of guests, giving each one a short time to study the contents. Then have them write from memory the names of the vegetables in the "stew." The guest with the longest list wins. This game may also be played by blindfolding the guests and letting them handle the vegetables—one by one.

Erin Go Bragh. Many of the cities, lakes, and historical scenes in Ireland are famed in song and story. Check your guests' knowledge of Irish geography by giving them a list of familiar places and asking them to write a phrase or song title containing the word. Thus:

Blarney—The . . . Stone
Kilkenny—The cats of . . .
Tara—The hall of . . .
Tralee—The rose of . . .
Shannon—Where the River . . . Flows
Kildare—The round tower of . . .
Dublin—The rocky road to . . .
Killarney—The lakes of . . .
Erin—Come back to . . .
Tipperary—It's a long, long way to . . .

Irish Music. Give the guests a list of familiar phrases from well-known Irish songs, such as "The sweetest flower that grows" from "My Wild Irish Rose." After the game is over, you won't have to urge the guests to start singing!

"A Nice Kiss for Grandma"

Young Mr. Arnold came bouncing up the steps with his three year old daughter, Ellen, on his shoulder, and was met at the door by his mother, whom he had not seen for some time. This was a big occasion. The Arnolds lived in another part of the state, and there had been few visits with relatives since Ellen had been born. Of course they were eager to have Grandma see their little girl, and Grandma herself had been looking forward to their visit with great excitement.

"Hello! Hello! Here we are! here's Ellen... Have you got a nice kiss for Grandma, Ellen?" Mr. Arnold, who was still holding Ellen, started to place her in Grandma's outstretched arms, when he suddenly paused, noticing her withdrawal—"or is it a little too soon, Grandma. Wait just a little while."

Then he put Ellen down and drew her attention to the kitten who had just walked into the room.

Needless to say, before many hours had passed, Ellen was feeling at home and quite ready to warm up to Grandma of her own accord.

Would anything have been gained if Mr. Arnold had forced Ellen both to give and to receive unwanted caresses from some one who was a perfect stranger to her? It might have given Grandma a little pleasure a few hours sooner, to be sure, but the pleasure would have been all hers.

We adults, who seem to experience an indiscriminate urge to pick up and fondle any attractive baby or small child we see, regardless of who it is, forget that the small child is not at the same time experiencing an urge to bestow caresses upon any adult who happens along. And we are apt to forget that Grandma, who is so dear to us, can seem as strange to a small child as any stranger, until he has a chance to get acquainted.

Ellen is very lucky to have a father who thinks of her as a separate individual with feelings of her own that should be respected, even though she is only three years old. What a haven he will be to her as she goes through childhood, if he continues to spare her these small ordeals, and what a rush of gratitude she will feel toward him in adolescence when, in the midst of her big ordeals, he stands ready to see her side, respect her urge for independence, and look upon her as the individual she so wants to be, standing on her own two feet.

I wonder how many of us remember the fervor with which we sometimes used to ask, as children and young adolescents, "Why can't mother and daddy treat me with as much respect as they would if I were someone outside of the family?"

'ONE IN A MILLION' EXPERIENCE FOR OFFICER

Atwater. — Attending his parents' silver wedding anniversary celebration in an army uniform while serving in one war and coming back twenty-five years later to attend their golden wedding anniversary wearing a navy uniform is an experience that hardly a man can boast of. That is just what Dr. H. H. Jensen, now lieutenant commander, formerly of this town did recently when he attended the golden wedding party of his parents who reside in Iowa.

First Military Draft

Death Came

The death of Sandow, famous strong man, was attributed to injuries received while lifting single-handedly an automobile from a ditch.

Quiz Kids Ruthie Duskin, 8, and Joel Kupperman, 6, who live in crowded city apartments in Chicago, think they've got "city farming" licked. They've just raised tomato plants ready for transplanting in their victory garden without using any soil at all. "A specially-prepared soilless Transplant Ball does the trick," explains "se ret trick" expert Joel. "You just add water and chemistry does the rest."

CLIMAX NOSES OUT PROWLERS TO WIN IN DIST.

Fighting Quint Defeats Locals in Finals Friday; Score 31 to 29

CLIMAX AND BEMIDJI TO MEET IN REGIONAL

Prowlers Defeat East Grand Forks 27 to 17 in 1st Round of Tourney

Climax made basketball history here Friday night by defeating the Prowlers, 31 to 29, in the 31st district championship finals and earned the right to represent the district in the regional tourney which gets under way at Bemidji tonight. Climax will meet the favored Bemidji Lumberjacks: while Roseau will clash with the defending regional champion Bagley Flyers (with the two winners meeting tomorrow night for the regional title.

Climax reached the district finals by defeating the Crookston Pirates, 23 to 22, in a tingling overtime contest Thursday night, winning when Gust Olen dropped in a free throw in the overtime period. The Prowlers, in the lower bracket, eliminated the defending champion East Grand Forks team, 27 to 17, to win the other finals' position. In the consolation game Friday night, preceding the championship game, Crookston, with Bill Reynolds tallying 10 points, defeated East Grand Forks, 31 to 27, in a rugged game and won the third place trophy.

The Prowlers and the Vikings were both tense as the two teams opened play in the finals and it wasn't until three minutes of play had elapsed before a point was scored, with Don Berg taking a pass from Jack Melby and popping a goal into the west basket. Berg, fouled by Olen, added a Prowler free throw. Del Glasrud, after 6½ minutes of play, marked up the first Climax point, getting a gift toss. Milt Reierson, from the south side of the court, hit the net and the locals led, 5 to 1. Climax appeared to be nervous and jittery, passing and shooting wildly. Bob Nelson connected with a long shot from the north side-line; and seconds before the end of the period, he hoisted another goal into the ring, tying the score at 5-all.

Bill McKechnie opened the second period with a one-handed shot; but Olen, driving into the lane, found the basket with a one-handed lift, knotting the count, and when fouled on the play, Olen made a free throw. Taking a pass from Nelson, Olen rang up a long shot. Nelson, on a jump-ball received the tap from Howland and dribbled nearly the length of the floor to score on a push-up shot, giving the Vikings a 12 to 7 lead. Milt Reierson arched a long shot into the basket. Berg failed to convert on a two-shot foul, but high-reaching Jack Melby tipped in the rebound after Don's second try. Howland, from the lane, boosted a one-handed shot into the goal. Reierson passed in to McKechnie and "Kegger" flipped in a basket; but Nelson, on an under-the-basket shot, hooped in a backhand try. Bye and Nelson exchanged free throws, and Climax had a 17 to 14 lead at the half.

Virg Evenstad nipped a one-handed shot into the net from the north side-line to open the second half scoring. Nelson, who was "red-hot", found the basket with a shot from the side-line. Glasrud and Nelson marked up free throws, and when Al Runes' long shot caromed off the backboard into the net, the Vikings led, 23 to 16. McKechnie converted on Glasrud's foul; and bounced in close to connect with a field goal seconds later. Nelson looped in a shot from the side of the court. Bill Bye drilled a shot into the basket, and Berg, picking off a rebound, scored on a pivot shot. Bye tallied on a free throw and the Prowlers trailed by a 25 to 24 score as the two teams entered the fourth period.

Evenstad made both tries good on Glasrud's foul, giving the Prowlers the lead. Olen, with four minutes to play, knotted the score on a free throw; and Nelson, recovering a rebound, connected with a one-handed shot. Olen, on McKechnie's charging foul, made the point, and Climax led, 29 to 26, with two minutes to play. McKechnie, on Olen's fourth foul, made the try; and then flashed in to break up a Climax play, recover the ball and dribbel to score a goal, tieing the count at 29-all.

The Prowlers took over the ball when Climax was called for "travelling", and handled it carefully, but with 25 seconds of play remaining, a try for the basket failed, and Climax drove down the floor and Nelson, from the south side of the floor, and out on the court, looped a shot cleanly into the basket, to score the winning points. The Prowlers, with 15 seconds to play, charged back up the floor but three hurried shots failed to connect and the game ended on a held ball.

Bob Nelson and Jack Melby, on offense and defense, respectively, turned in performances that must be rated with the district's all-time "highs." Nelson, with some uncanny basket shooting, counted 18 points; and Melby, going into the air like a kite on some of the plays, smothered numerous Climax field goal tries, and controlled most of the defensive backboard play.

Lions Handicap Bowling Tourney to Start Friday

A handicap singles bowling tournament, sponsored by the Lions, will be rolled on the Mint alleys on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The entry fee will be $1.60, which will include the cost of bowling; and a portion of the prize money will be given to the Red Cross. The tournament will follow ABC rules, with four games being bowled on four alleys. The handicap has been based on a 190-pin scratch, with two-thirds of the total pins being allowed. As an added feature of the event Friday evening, heads of various local civic organizations have been invited to be present and roll a ball or two down the alleys.

A Few Tears

There were a few tears shed Friday night when the Prowlers were edged out of the district championship by Climax, losing by two points, 31 to 29; but after the first shock of the defeat had passed, most of the local fans seemed to agree that it was a good and healthy thing for basketball, and the district, that Climax won. And it wasn't "sour grapes" either, for they were sincere in congratulating Ralph Miller and his trim-looking Vikings.

Tonight Climax will meet one of the regional favorites, the Bemidji Lumberjacks, and on the strength of their play here last week, it doesn't appear that the Vikings will have a chance of upsetting Glenn Barnum's powerful outfit. Climax was very jittery during the first period of last Friday night's game, and they'll probably be as nervous when they take the floor tonight. And you don't win ball games from Bemidji when you're nervous. The other half of tonight's regional bill, the game between Roseau and Bagley, should be a hum-dinger, with a slight edge, perhaps, to the defending champion Bagley Flyers. Roseau, it must be remembered, defeated Bemidji in the regional consolations last year, and they have lost only one man from that line-up.

Melby Ends Cage Career

The only regrettable result about the Climax win in the district is that it ended Jack Melby's basketball career as a Prowler, and it would have been a treat to have watched Jack play in the regional this week. Ray Kiland, who has witnessed all the local high school basketball stars perform during the past twenty-five years, states that Melby's play on Friday night was the finest defensive play he'd seen. And coming from Ray, that's quite a compliment. The tournament officials, Jolly Erickson and Red Wilson, said that they had never seen a high school athlete with such perfect timing in blocking shots. Yep, it would have been fun to have seen Jack pound the ball down Phil Feir's throat tonight.

Individual Bowling Averages

The local bowling leagues concluded their season's schedules this week and, starting Monday, the playoffs for the city championship will get under way. Considering the fact that a number of the city's top-flight bowlers are in the service, and that a number have left town to be employed in defense work, the individual bowling averages held up well.

The Business league, which was the "top" league, had Emil Dostal of the Eagles as its high average bowler, and Emil posted a fine 179 average. Cal Colvin of the Times was the runner-up, having a 174 mark; while Frank Kobliska, the Pharmacy pilot, had a 172 average. Ed. Carlson, also of the Pharmacy, had a 169. Bush Hallstrom of the Eagles had a 171 average, but the Busher only bowled in 21 games.

The Harts Bakery team took over most of the individual honors in the Commercial league, with three of its bowlers listed among the top five. Ed. Carlson's 169 average paced the league, with Wally Carlson and Vern Williams, with a 167 and 166, respectively, in third and fourth places. Math Barzen's Kobliska, with a 168 pin average, earned second place. Wally DuChamp, of the Schmidt's City Club, had a 174 pin average in 21 games, and Bush Hallstrom, bowling with the Western Oils, had a 166 pin mark in 25 games.

Bowling with the Lions, Ed. Carlson topped the Service league with a 171 pin average; followed by St. Hilaire's Arlo Jacobson and the Eagles' Bush Hallstrom, each of whom posted a 167 average. Ebba Erickson of the Elks had a 172 average, and Vern Williams of the Eagles had 168 average, but they only bowled in 27 games.

I Had the Answer

The only reason that I was named to the "Information Please" board on last Monday night's PTA program was because I was supposed to give the right answer if somebody should ask who won the first flight championship in the city golf tournament last summer. I had the answer, but nobody asked the question. The correct answer: Lloyd Bennes.

Worth Entering

The Lions are sponsoring a singles handicap bowling tournament at the Mint alleys on Friday, with a portion of the entry fee being allotted to the Red Cross. There will be four games across four alleys, with the handicap being based on a 190-pin scratch and an allowance of two-thirds. The entry fee, including the bowling, is $1.50.

Local Bowlers Compete for City Championship Starting Monday Night

Eight teams, with the pairings being arranged on the basis of the teams pin averages, will begin the city championship bowling playoffs Monday night. The first shift Monday night will pit the Thief River Pharmacy against the winner of the Bratrud Clinic vs. Catholic Men match; with the Monday night Eagles team rolling against the Friday night Eagles team (the Eagles sponsored two teams this year, one team bowling in the Service league and the other rolling in the Business league.) The second shift Monday night will have the Harts Bakery bowling against the Poppler Furniture; and St. Hilaire bowling against the Thief River Creamery. The semi-finals will be rolled on Tuesday night, with finals being slated for Friday night.

Prowlers Pile up 603 Points in 18 Games to 565 for Their Rivals

In the eighteen games played this season, in which the locals won nine games and lost nine, the Prowlers piled up 603 points; while their opponents were scoring 565 points. Don Berg, with 141 points, was the season's individual scoring leader, with Milt Reierson's 126 points in second place, and Bill McKechnie counting 116 points for third. Last year Johnny Campbell's 123 points won the high point honors, being the only Prowler to score over a 100 points during the season.

These bank debit figures, released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today, represents the dollar values of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, etc. Throughout Minnesota, bank debit totals for February stood 16 percent above February of last year. Totals for 1943 to date were 112 per cent of the same 1942 period.

PROGRAM SET FOR FARM AWARD DAY NEXT WEDNESDAY

40,000 Farm Operators in the State Will be Honored at Capitol

Minnesota's agricultural award program comes to its climax at the state capitol at 12:00 M., Wednesday, March 24, when presentation ceremonies will be held. Invited are farmers to whom awards have been made and who are living in counties adjacent to Minneapolis and St. Paul.

At the conclusion of the capitol ceremonies, service flags and lapel insignia will be mailed, all at one time, to the other award recipients. The program will honor the war food production efforts of approximately 40,000 farm operators and 120,000 farm workers in the state, under plans that have been developed under the state's official program, of which Ole A. Flaat is director. Flaat himself is a farmer at Fisher.

Presentation ceremony plans call for the participation of Governor Stassen, members of the Legislature, persons prominent in farm organization circles, and representatives of business, civic, and service organizations. The ceremonies are to be broadcast over a national hook-up, and newsreel pictures will be taken.

The purpose of the program, and especially Wednesday's ceremonies, is to spotlight the great job done by farmers in 1942, in increasing the production of vital war foods. A further purpose is to help bring about a better understanding of the importance of the farmers' efforts as well as the difficulties with which they are faced, as in 1943, they again put their shoulders to the wheel in response to the nation's need. The award itself is in recognition of a previous effort, rather than an incentive for future operations.

By the week's end, farmers and farm workers all over the state will have for display the service flag—a maroon "A" on a field of gold—and workers will receive, from the farm owners for whom they worked, the neat lapel insignia, which is a silver shield, about the size of a quarter and bearing a raised maroon "A"—for agriculture.

ASK the ski trooper why he welcomes ice-cold Coca-Cola. He will tell you what every ski enthusiast knows. Few things can make you thirstier than skiing. The dry cold, the exertion, the altitude do it. Experienced skiers know that Coca-Cola is the perfect refreshment after a ski run.

Coca-Cola not only quenches thirst. It adds refreshment that goes into energy. It is refreshment that tastes good, feels good, is good. Coca-Cola is made with choicest ingredients put together with a finished art.

Each time you raise an ice-cold Coca-Cola to your lips, you'll agree that the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

Even with war and so many Coca-Cola bottling plants in enemy-occupied countries, our fighting men are delighted to find Coca-Cola being bottled in so many places all over the globe.

Even with snow and ice outdoors, it's summertime indoors. Ice-cold Coca-Cola is the year 'round answer to thirst that everybody welcomes.

NOTABLE DECLINE IN DRUNK DRIVING SHOWN BY REPORT

Drop Exceeds Decline in Motor Travel for the Past Two Months

A decided drop in drunken driving and inebriacy, considerably in excess of the estimated decline in motor vehicle travel, has been reflected in drivers' license revocations for the first two months of 1943 as compared with the same period of 1942.

Total revocations and suspensions during January and February, for all types of traffic violations, showed a decline just about paralleling the estimated drop in volume of passenger car travel due to war restrictions, the drivers license bureau of the state highway department reported this week to Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann. Total license revocations dropped 52 per cent and suspensions 48 per cent. Passenger car travel in Minnesota is estimated to be down approximately 50 per cent.

Revocations for drunken driving, however, declined 54 per cent, and those for inebriacy 65 per cent. During the first two months of the present year 207 motorists were barred from the wheel for driving while intoxicated and eight for habitual inebriacy, as compared with 448 revocations for drunken driving and 23 for inebriacy during the same two months of last year.

Speed "repeaters", that is those motorists who suffer either revocation or suspension of their licenses for two or more speeding offenses, also declined sharply. Outright revocations for excessive speed during the two months totalled 12 as compared to 28 a year ago, while suspensions for speed violations totalled only 94 as compared with 334 a year ago. This was a drop of 62 per cent in revocations, and 72 per cent in suspensions.

Farmers Now Can Get Batteries for Needs Other Than in Autos

Farmers of Minnesota will now be able to get new or rebuilt electric storage batteries of the type generally known as automotive replacement batteries for use in operating electric fences or other farm equipment, regional officials of the War Production Board were notified by Washington today.

Amended WPB orders permit the purchase of electric storage batteries for farm uses formerly filled in whole or in part by dry cell batteries. The original order considered replacement batteries only as automotive equipment and required the purchaser to turn in a used battery with his purchase. Farmers will not be required to do this.

Farmers will be required only to sign a certificate stating that the batteries are "for use in connection with an electric fence or other farm equipment."

Upon opening it she found the box empty except for the following typed censor's note: "Exports of food stuffs including confectionery of all kinds is at present prohibited." The box had been mailed to Miss Swehla by Sylvia Pellitt, an English WREN. It originally had contained a piece of her wedding cake.

ECONOMY BLOC IS MAKING HEADWAY IN LEGISLATURE

Sharp Reduction in Levy on Real Property in State Is Proposed

With more than 900 bills introduced in the state senate and over 1100 in the house, the Minnesota legislature now is grinding out new laws at a speedy pace as the eleventh week of the session starts.

The proposal to reduce the state property levy, (H. F. No. 1) has been amended in tax committee which if passed as now written, would effect reductions of $12,500,000 in the state property levy during the coming biennium. Under the bill as it now stands, the state rate would be cut from 9 to 4 mills for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944, and to 1¼ mills the following year, according to a legislative report from the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

The senate tax committee has recommended a reduction in the state income tax under provision of S. F. No. 7. This bill proposes an increase in exemptions allowed to $1,000 for single individuals; $2,000 for married person, or head of a household; and a credit of $500 for each dependent. No action on this has as yet been taken by the House.

Pending also is a proposal to exempt the first $1,000 from money and credits taxes, permitting amount of this tax to be deducted from state income tax, and a provision making it a misdemeanor to make a false return.

RATIONING BRINGS REUNION TO KIN

Faribault. — A stranger-than-fiction episode unfolded at a Duluth rationing board recently, reuniting a father and daughter who had been separated for 19 years. While making application for war ration book No. 2 at the Nettleson school, Erick Wodeen, and his daughter, Mrs. Nels Norbl, who was assisting with the registration discovered they were father and daughter. They not not seen each other since Mrs. Norbis was a child of 9. They found they lived only a few blocks from each other.

A woman member of the methods group at a large war plant offered suggestions for manufacturing operations that more than cut operator-time in half.

Fourteen banks in the United States have assets, respectively, of more than $1,000,000,000.

For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by General Electric have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps [illegible] times as efficient as Edison's, vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Victory Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

NEWFOLDEN

Roseau Wins District 32 Championship

Newfolden high school basketball team lost the first game of the tournament at Roseau Thursday evening to Roseau by a score of 47 to 20. Roseau has a tall and well balanced basketball team, the shortest man on the team being about six feet and the other four well over six feet. Comments by some of the Roseau fans were that Roseau played one of their best games of the season and Newfolden seemed to be somewhat out of form as they had played better ball during the season. Roseau should have a good chance to win when they meet Bagley at the regional Thursday evening. Bemidji meets Climax the same evening and the winners will play Friday evening for a chance at the state championship held in Minneapolis next week. Bemidji seems to be favored to win.

Stephen Wins Second Game

The Stephen team won from Lancaster by a score of 37 to 32. This was a close game all the way with either team in the lead many times. Stephen finally pulled out in front in the last minutes, and hung on to their lead to win the game.

Newfolden Wins Consolation

Roseau Beats Stephen

The scrappy Stephen team were unable to compete with the tall Roseau team and came out on the short end of a 37 to 12 score. Roseau lost only one player from their strong last year's team. They have a strong defense as well as a sharp shooting team. They may be a little handicapped on a large floor, but the team that beats them will have to play basketball.

It Takes a Lot of TELEPHONING to Win a War

War has increased telephoning so tremendously that telephone lines and equipment in many places are overloaded with calls.

More lines and equipment can't be built now because of the wartime shortage of copper and other materials which must be used to make planes, tanks, and shells. This means we must get along with substantially what we now have.

Effect on Service

Long distance lines to war activity centers are so busy that some calls are delayed. However, essential war calls are being handled with dispatch.

In some places local service at peak hours may not always be as prompt as in normal times.

Thank You

Whenever service has been affected, our customers have been very understanding. They know that war needs must come first. This fine cooperation is helping a lot. Thank you.

'Creeper's Ball'

One device called the "creeper's ball," is heavy enough to provide a crawler with physical exercise but is light enough for a baby to pick up easily. The ball holds its shape but is filled with soft kapok so that it can't bounce violently and so that its owner can safely use it as a prop while mastering the first problems of locomotion.

Getting the Most from your

GARDEN PLANNING IMPORTANT

The Victory garden should be large enough to raise all the fresh vegetables a family can use, but not so big that it cannot be well cared for. According to tests made at Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Station near Detroit, Michigan, a 15-x-30 foot garden will produce plenty of vegetables for a family of two or three; a 20-x-40 or a 25-x-50 foot garden is ample for a household of four or five and sometimes more. Farm families with no lack of space are urged to plant and use in one way or another all the vegetables possible, but to plan in advance to use seed to best advantage.

A standard size packet of radish seed will plant at least a 25-foot row, according to Ferry-Morse findings. The same is true of carrot, summer squash, spinach, and snap beans. Of such vegetables as require quite wide spacing in the row, as beet and Swiss chard, a packet of seed can be made to plant as much as fifty feet of row.

If one packet of radish or lettuce seed will produce more than the family can use while the vegetables are tender and tasty, sow only part of the seed the first time, and the rest in about two weeks. This is also a practical plan with carrots and beets so that young roots will be coming on for use at frequent intervals instead of all at one time.

Seed packets of such vegetables as parsley and the kitchen herbs often produce more plants than a family can possibly use. Seed of tender vegetables—tomato, pepper, egg plant—started indoors for later transplanting outside frequently yield many more plants than most home gardeners have room for. Surplus plants might be shared with gardening neighbors to good advantage. An exchange of varieties as well as planting experiences over the backyard fence gives added zest to home gardening and definitely helps avoid waste.

Hints on Successful Raising of Spring Pigs Given by County Agent

Spring pigs must have their iron today and every day up to weaning time if they are to escape one of the early hurdles in the hog business. According to County Agent Ernest Palmer, pigs fed entirely on sow's milk must have additional sources of this element until they are old enough to eat feeds that supplement the low iron of the milk.

Best additional source is clean soil fortified with iron and copper salts. Ferrous sulphate, obtainable at most drug stores and lumber yards as copperas, is recommended for this purpose. A saturated solution, or as much of the fresh crystals as will dissolve in a quart of warm water, can be used to sprinkle over the clean soil.

To prevent spring pigs getting this disease, it is important to keep clean soil before them at all times during the first three weeks. Covering the floor of the pens with several inches of soil or keeping a box filled with dirt near the pigs at all times will do much to prevent pigs from unthriftiness or death.

Signs of pig anemia may show up during the first week. Pigs lack vigor, tire easily. They may have difficulty breathing and also exhibit jerky movements. Wrinkling of the skin over the neck, shoulder and legs is also a sign that anemia or thumps is at work.

Because treatment is simple and because pork production in wartime is more important than ever before, farmers are urged to watch this condition in their young pigs and provide the additional sources of iron needed in the diets of young pigs.

SOLDIER FORGOTTEN WHEN REGIMENT GOES ABROAD

Hallock.—Dale Bronson visited his mother last December on furlough and at the proper time returned to his camp to find the regiment to which he belonged had moved, "destination unknown". Not a file or document remained. Later he learned the regiment had been ordered to leave the country for a European battlefield and someone had slipped up in notifying him. The young soldier had immediately reported to another camp and recently when the FBI investigation found he had violated no law.

PLUMMER PLANT PRODUCES LARGE OUTPUT LAST YEAR

Creamery Turns out 415,547 Pounds Butter, Earns Nice Profit

The Plummer Cooperative Creamery association, it is revealed in the recently completed annual report of Gust Craft, operator, enjoyed an excellent volume of business in 1942, producing a total of 415,547 pounds of butter and realizing a net income from dairy products of $4,133.76, compared to $2,584.43 the preceding year.

In 1942 an average net price of 40.52 cents per pound was paid for butterfat compared to 38.72 cents in 1941. Total expense per pound of butterfat produced last year was 2.212 cents.

Officers guiding the affairs of the institution during the past year include George H. Orr, president; John M. Hegen, vice president; H. H. H. Frederickson, secretary-treasurer; and Carl Sorenson and Mike Michelson, directors.

'U' Poultry Authority Gives Tips on Purchase of Chicks This Spring

Half of the six million chicks that die annually in Minnesota could be saved if poultry raisers would follow a few simple precautions, says County Agent Ernest Palmer. Time for taking these precautions is at the beginning of the chick season.

Of first importance, according to Cora Cooke, poultry specialist at University Farm, is getting good chicks from tested flocks. Heavy death losses from pullorum disease, ranging from 20 to 90 per cent, may be avoided by purchasing baby chicks from pullorum-tested flocks.

Chicks, should also be secured from flocks with good egg production records, she says. Though these chicks will be more expensive, at present prices the increase in egg production will more than pay for the slightly increased cost of the official grade certified chicks. Another tip to remember when buying chicks, says Miss Cooke, is to get all of the same breed.

To save transportation, chicks should be bought as near home as possible. Miss Cooke stresses the importance of ordering at once and through hatcheries under supervision of the Minnesota Poultry Improvement board. A list of these hatcheries may be obtained by writing Poultry Improvement Board, State Office Building, St. Paul.

New Editors' Group Is Appointed in Campaign to Cut Traffic Deaths

James L. Markham, Hopkins publisher and editor of the Hennepin County Review, has been named chairman of a new statewide committee, appointed by Wayne Peterson of Moorhead, president of the Minnesota Editorial Association, to direct the coordinated efforts of Minnesota's 500 newspaper editors to reduce the state's toll of deaths and injuries from traffic accidents during 1943.

Membership of the new safety campaign committee was announced this week by Ralph Keller of Minneapolis, secretary of the State Editorial Association. Editors and publishers selected by President Peterson to direct the drive throughout the year, in addition to Chairman Markham, are:

Russell Mills of the Cambridge North Star; William Noonan of the Baudette Region; Lewis Carden of the Gary Graphic; Joe C. McGowan of the Benson Monitor; N. E. Nelson of the Cloquet Pine Knot; C. G. Mann of the Hinckley News; Max Casey of the Jordan Independent; and Ben Determan of the Morton Enterprise.

INCENTIVE PAY TO FARMER IS NEEDED TO REACH '43 GOAL

C. W. Stickney, State Food Production Chief, Makes Statement

Minnesota farmers will not meet 1943 food and fibre production goals unless incentive payments and an additional allotment of feed wheat are made available in the very near future, Charles W. Stickney, Minnesota food production chief, said Saturday.

Mr. Stickney said that AAA farmer committeemen had visited 60,000 farmers to date and that farmers in signing their intentions to meet war goals on their farm plans indicated possible record breaking production on the basis of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's program calling for incentive payments, plus stabilized prices for other food and feed crops.

"Every report from the field indicates farmers may not follow their intentions to produce vital war crops unless they have Secretary Wickard's incentive payment program," he said.

"Higher farm prices, which will result in increased food costs to consumers, will not bring about the production of food and fibre so important to the 1943 war effort," Mr. Stickney warned.

"I have been at several meetings of farmers in the past few days and everywhere I heard genuine concern expressed of the inflationary aspect of any parity formula that would tend to increase food costs to consumers.

"Farmer committeemen making farm-to-farm contacts report farmers are willing to go all-out for production of vital war crops but they feel the government should give them incentive payments to compensate for their changing regular farming practices to the production of the essential war crops." In explaining this sentiment, Mr. Stickney pointed out there is considerable risk to the farmer who plants a war crop he has never grown before in place of a crop which he knows will give him a good yield under normal growing conditions.

"Farmers on the most part are satisfied with present prices and report they are making a good profit," Mr. Stickney said. "Farmers point out higher prices would not help the labor situation on the farms, but would probably end up in a demand from organized labor for higher wages to meet higher food costs and the inflation merry-go-round would be under way."

POINT VALUES FOR NEW MEAT RATION LISTED

OPA Explains Ration Plan for Meats, Butter and Cheese

PROGRAM IN EFFECT MONDAY, MARCH 29

Butter, Cheese and Popular Cuts of Meat to Cost 8 Points Per Pound

The Office of Price Administration today announced the point values for the rationing of meat, butter, cheese, fats and oils.

Rationing of these commodities gets under way next Monday, March 29, and each person will have 16 points a week to distribute over his requirements. The points to be required will range from one on the most plentiful cuts of meat to 12 on the choicest and hardest-to-get cuts, with eight points applying to most popular cuts of meat, butter and cheese, per pound.

All point values enumerated are the red stamps in War Ration Book Two.

For a family of four, this would allow the following purchases as an example of the way the new rationing program will work: (The family will have a total of 64 points for the week.)

It could buy four pounds of T-bone, sirloin, round steak, lamb chops, pork chops, pork roast for a total of 32 points; one pound of bacon for 8 points; two pounds of butter for 16 points and a half pound of cheese for 4 points and have 4 points of the 64 left over to apply on an extra requirement or as a holdover for purchases the next week. There are a few items, such as boneless ham and Canadian bacon that would use up more than eight points, but a number of meat cuts are available for much less than eight points which, OPA officials said, will mean that the family can divide up its allotment so that a greater amount of meat can be bought or a smaller amount of point values used.

The point value of meat, OPA officials stressed, will cover the bone, as well as the meat. The dealer will weigh the cut of meat the housewife has ordered, bone and all. If she then has the dealer "bone" or grind the meat, the dealer will not figure the point value again. He must, however, give the buyer the bones if she wants them, because she has paid points for them.

The list does not contain a point value for rolled rib roasts. That is because this type of purchase must be made with the rib in and points charged accordingly, after which the butcher will bone and roll the roast.

The popular hamburger, ground from cheaper cuts of meat, cannot cost more than five points a pound. However, if a housewife wants her hamburgers from ground round steak, sirloin or some other better grade of meat, she'll have to buy the meat whole, turn over the right number of points, and have the butcher grind it for her.

Because meat and cheese cannot be cut to the exact pound, the dealer will have a chart showing the exact number of points for ounces, so that a piece of meat or cheese that varies a little from the exact poundage may be had for the exact number of points. A cut of sirloin intended to be two pounds, but actually came out two pounds, four ounces, would require 18 points. Each pound would be eight points, for a total of 16, the extra quarter pound would require two more points.

Fractions of a point, if less than half a point, will be dropped. If more than half a point, the dealer will collect a full point.

T. J. Welsh Addresses Group of 70 Children at Library Story Hour

Adressing a group of 70 older children at the story hour in the public library Saturday morning, T. J. Welsh gave an interesting discourse based on his experiences with the Indians in former years. He stressed the resourcefulness of the full-blooded Indian as well as his high sense of honor. A similar group of smaller children was entertained at the same time in the library basement by three members of the Lincoln high school teacher training department, who dramatized several stories.

$230,000 Bond Quota Is Set for Pennington

Historical Society

Missing in Action

PVT. ALVIN DICKEN

Who early last week was reported missing in action on the North African front in a message received from the war department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dicken of this city. He had been in the army since January, 1942, and went overseas last summer. The picture was taken in Ireland in August.

A quota of $175,000,000 to be raised from the general public during the second war loan drive, was set for the northwest today, as business and banking leaders prepared to meet in Minneapolis Saturday to lay final plans for the campaign. The Pennington county quota has been fixed at the record total of $230,000, while Marshall county will be expected to raise $260,000.

This section of the state will be well represented at the war finance conference, called by John N. Peyton, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis, and chairman of the Ninth district war finance committee.

Representing Pennington county will be E. O. Peterson, district chairman; Paul Lundgren, county chairman; and George W. Werstlein, cashier of the Northern State bank.

The national goal for the April campaign, which opens on April 12, is $13,000,000,000. Of that total $8,000,000,000 is to be sold to the public, with banks asked to take the balance.

The Ninth district's share of the $8,000,000,000 is $175,000,000, the treasury department announced today. This is apart from bank purchases. The Ninth district includes: Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, northwestern Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

An intensive sales campaign is being planned to reach every person in the northwest, and a variety of government bonds is being offered, to fit every need.

Paul A. Lundgren announced this morning that the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in connection with the April bond campaign, would take over the drive in Thief River Falls, with Wayne Anderson as chairman. The junior group will sponsor a "Buy a Fighting Ship" campaign, with a goal for the city of $175,000, the price of a medium bomber which would be given the name of this city.

50 BUSINESSMEN OF THIS CITY AID IN SNOW REMOVAL

Council Street Department Stages Downtown 'Bee' Tuesday

A lot of local business men were nursing sore muscles yesterday after turning out to the number of nearly fifty Tuesday morning, together with a dozen trucks, to participate in a volunteer snow removal bee in the downtown district, arranged by Alderman Bob Petersen, chairman of the council street committee.

Many tons of snow piled up in last week's blizzard were removed by the hard-working men to give access to storm sewers so that water from the melting snow will drain off rapidly.

Mayor H. W. Kinghorn and the city council expressed their deep appreciation to the men for providing their services and the use of trucks. They also thanked Philip Larson of the Rex Cafe for providing lunch to the workers during the afternoon.

Since last Thursday most of the county highway system has again been opened to traffic, altho snowplows were still at work early this week widening the lanes. Only in a few places were the roads plugged so badly that plows were unable to get thru.

Bring in Tin Cans by Monday, Kiewel Urges

An urgent appeal was directed to local housewives today by B. J. Kiewel, district chairman of the tin can salvage drive, asking them to make every effort to deliver to their grocers the tin cans they have accumulated during the winter months. Mr. Kiewel stressed the need of bringing them in by Monday, March 29, so that they can be taken to Crookston to fill a freight car now being loaded there. The cans, he added, should be clean and flattened.

TRINITY CHURCH CHOIR PLANS FOR SACRED CANTATA

Miss Grace Omundson to Direct Senior Group Sunday, April 11

The sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ", by DuBois, will be sung again this year by the senior choir of Trinity Lutheran Church. The program is scheduled for Sunday evening, April 11th, at 8:00 o'clock. Miss Grace Omundson, vocal music director at Lincoln high school, will conduct the chorus of some 40 voices. Soloists will be Mrs. Arthur Berg, Orville Berg, and H. M. Hitterdal. Mrs. Allan Purdy is the accompanist.

The cantata gives the gospel narrative to the tenor solo, the prophetic comment to the soprano solo, and the Seven Words from the Cross to the baritone solo. Several duets, with and without the chorus join the solo voices in melodies that catch the poignancy of the Passion Story. The chorus represents the mob, clamoring for the crucifixion of our Lord. To many, the cantata has become a significant part of the Passion experience each year.

The Trinity choir invites singers who would like to join with them in the singing of the cantata to attend rehearsals each Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Two Sunday afternoon rehearsals before the rendition are also contemplated.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL PLAN WINS SUPPORT

Lower House Passes Measure Designed to Improve Procedure

COUNCIL PERSONNEL IS PLACED AT TWENTY

Senate Passes Measure Relating to Liquor Sales in Minnesota

Provision for a legislative council to supplement and improve Minnesota's legislative machinery is made under terms of a bill passed by the Minnesota house of representatives this past week.

The measure now goes to the senate for consideration and sponsors of the measure have hopes of a favorable vote there. The bill passed the house two years ago, but got lost in the senate in the final jam of bills at the close of the session.

Hailed as one of the major improvements in legislative machinery developed in recent years, the legislative council has proved effective in other states, sponsors of the bill say. Purpose of the council would be to study important state problems the year round and furnish each legislative session with factual reports upon which its decisions can be made.

The plan, it is contended, would not only give the legislature information needed upon which to make its decisions, but would enable it to get at the heart of the many problems involved much earlier. In Kansas and some other states where the plan has been tried, sponsors of the plan say, it has enabled committees to get most of the major bills before the legislature early in the session instead of the closing weeks. The council also would obviate necessity for the many interim committees such as have been appointed in Minnesota.

Speaker Lawrence Hall, a leading sponsor of the plan now as two years ago, led the fight for the bill in the house. He and his associates were able to get the bill through with only one material change. An amendment was adopted changing the method of selecting members of the council.

As the measure now stands, the legislative council will be composed of twenty members, ten senators and ten members of the house, of whom the speaker will be one. Under the amendment adopted, one representative will be chosen by the members of the house from each congressional district. One senator will be chosen by senators from each district in the same way, and the tenth will be named by the committee or committees.

Authors of the bill in the house are Mrs. Mabeth Paige, Frederick P. Memmer, John A. Hartle, Joseph J. Daun and Lawrence F. Haeg. Sponsors in the Senate include M. J. Galvin, Archie Miller and William L. Dietz.

Other measures looming large in action taken by the two houses during the week were beer and mining tax bills. The house passed with little opposition the bills recommended by its tax committee, setting the occupation tax on iron mining and the royalty tax at 10½ per cent, the rates that have prevailed during the past two years.

The senate passed the bill giving the state liquor control commissioner power to revoke licenses of 3.2 beer places. It provides for issuance of a special $1 license. The senate has not acted on mining taxes, and the beer measure still must pass the house.

Richard Noel, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Noel, left Tuesday night for Minneapolis from where he will be transferred to the Naval Training School at Farragut, Idaho.

COUNTY DRIVE FOR RED CROSS GOES FORWARD

Chairman Stanton R. Dahlen Reports Campaign at Half-way Mark

TOTAL OF $3,420 IS CONTRIBUTED TO DATE

Drive in Village of St. Hilaire First in County to Go over Top

The combined Red Cross annual roll call and war fund appeal campaign in Pennington county Wednesday afternoon had reached the halfway mark toward attaining its quota, it was announced by Stanton R. Dahlen, chairman of the drive, who reported that $3,420.20 had been turned in to date.

Of the total, the city of Thief River Falls, with a quota of $3,700, had supplied $2,948.25, while scattered reports from the rural districts yielded $471.95. Of this latter figure the campaign in the village of St. Hilaire, headed by Mrs. M. H. Jackson, the first to file a complete report, netted $164.50 against a quota of $150.

The figure for the city of Thief River Falls, Chairman Dahlen stated, includes no reports from the women solicitors in the residence districts. When received, he added, these returns will undoubtedly put the city over the top.

The team of Andrew Anderson and L. G. Larsen, covering LaBree av., has submitted its final report, showing total collections of $547.25, thus leading all other teams in the canvass. In second place was the team composed of G. Schilbred and Paul Couvrette, which turned in $372.75.

With the campaign in the rural sections of the county hampered by bad road conditions, Mr. Dahlen today urged all solicitors to make a special effort to get in their reports by March 31, when the drive is officially slated to end.

BUTTER SALES ARE FORBIDDEN UNTIL MONDAY, MAR. 29

OPA Halts Sales This Week in Preparation for New Rationing Plan

OPA Sunday banned for a week retail sale of butter, margarine, lard and other edible fats and oils which go under point rationing March 29.

The government order, issued without any advance warning, forbade retail buying of these foods between 12:01 A. M. Monday, March 22, and the same hour March 29, when they will be rationed along with meat, cheese and canned fish. The order was made public Sunday at 3 P. M.

An official explained OPA, in timing the announcement, had to choose between "risking a short run" on the relatively few stores open Sunday or not getting word by the sales suspension to all the 600,000 stores in the country by Monday.

Restaurants are not affected by the order, and may continue to get butter and the other foods from their wholesalers.

Office of price administration said suspension of sales was necessary because stocks of these foods were insufficient "to support heavy public buying during the week remaining before rationing." Prentiss M. Brown, OPA administrator, had expressed hope at the time rationing of these goods was first announced that no "freeze" of sales would be necessary, and called on housewives not to hoard.

Plans for Community Gardens in City Made

Definite plans for more and better Victory gardens for Pennington County were arrived at during the garden conference held in Thief River Falls last Saturday afternoon. In reporting the conference County Agent Ernest Palmer stated that nearly all of the agencies of the county were represented and that an active interest was shown.

Because of the demand of city residents for garden space those in attendance decided to make an effort to organize a community garden. W. R. Ferber was appointed chairman of this committee and will have his working committee named by the end of this week. Mr. Ferber is also contacting the local office of civilian defense in asking for the cooperation of the Victory Aides in making complete canvass of the city in order to determine how many people desire garden space and would be interested in taking a plot in a community garden.

In connection with the victory garden program in rural areas plans were made to stress the program through the cooperation of the 25 4-H clubs and rural school teachers of the county. County Superintendent Mrs. A. C. Matheson has asked that each school teacher be furnished with material to be distributed to pupils.

Because of the possibility that there may be a shortage of workers to plow and harrow gardens in Thief River Falls this spring, those in attendance at the conference decided that a local system should be worked out whereby all the gardens in a certain part of the city could be taken care of while the worker was in that neighborhood. Mr. Ferber's committee will work out details of this plan and announce the results at a later date. It was also decided to have victory garden no-trespassing markers printed.

BOB PETERSEN NEW CIVILIAN DEFENSE HEAD

State Chief Announces Appointment to Succeed Major Schilbred

BRIGGS ADDRESSES C & C HERE THURSDAY

Women's State Director Is Also Guest at Dinner Meeting

Appointment of J. Robert Petersen, alderman from the second ward, to the office of chairman of the Pennington county civilian defense council, succeeding Major Gustav Schilbred, resigned, was announced last Thursday evening by Allan Briggs, chief of staff of the Minnesota civilian defense office, at a meeting of the Civic and Commerce association in the Palm Garden Cafe.

Mr. Petersen already has taken over the duties of the position from Major Schilbred, and he announced this week that he will proceed at once with the appointment of an advisory council made up of members of representative local groups.

In announcing the retirement of Major Schilbred, who has served the county organization since its inception, Mr. Briggs said he had done a good job of organizing the county and that he had promised his cooperation to his successor.

In his address Mr. Briggs stated that the experience of England had shown the need of an adequate civilian organization in time of enemy attack, and that to meet this need the civilian defense set-up was created early in 1941, to act in time of disaster, thus relieving agencies otherwise involved in the war effort.

Other guests at the meeting were Miss Mary Proal Lindeke of St. Paul, state director of the U. S. women's civilian service corps, and a group of officers of the local Victory Aides, including Mrs. E. C. Karwand, Mrs. Emmett Wright, Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Clarence Knudsen and Mrs. A. M. Holte.

Miss Proal also spoke briefly, praising the excellent work done by Mrs. Karwand and her staff, and her remarks were seconded by Mr. Briggs.

RED CROSS NEWS

By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

The American people have contributed a total of $50,000,000.00 to the 1943 Red Cross War Fund, Walter S. Gifford, national chairman of the War Fund, announced as the campaign reached its halfway mark.

"That leaves a long way to go," he said, "but campaign workers everywhere are carrying on with enthusiasm and there is an increasing understanding by everyone of the importance of the Red Cross in the war—of the service it renders to our men in the armed forces, especially to those on the fighting fronts."

Anoka County Chapter of the American Red Cross, is the first county in the state to go over the top.

The campaign chairman and workers are very pleased at the response they have received from the people of Pennington County.

Herman Kjos announced the appointment of Mrs. Orrin Lynde as chairman of home nursing, replacing Mrs. Palmer Anderson who recently resigned.

Mrs. Harvey Patten will start a new class in home nursing Friday, March 26, at 7:30 P. M., at the Knox school. All ladies interested should call her at Phone 604. She is anxious for a good turnout Friday.

Mrs. L. W. Rulien and Mrs. Geo. Werstlein, surgical dressing chairman, announced today their quota for March is 27,000 dressings. The rooms will be open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week for a while, both afternoon and evening. They realize the weather has been bad lately, but this quota for March must be completed on time, so they are sending out an urgent appeal to more women to come down and work. It has been very discouraging to the instructors this past week when only a half dozen women come down.

I wonder if many of the women really realize how much they can help in this project. In Chicago, a soldier wearing a distinguished service cross stopped in the Red Cross surgical dressings room. "I want to thank you women for supplying surgical dressings," he said, "If two of you worked all day you couldn't begin to make all the dressings I needed when I was wounded."

To show how interesting the work is: Mrs. Karen Driscoll, chairman of Red Cross Surgical Dressings Production, Chicago, fell and broke her arm. The following morning, her arm in a sling, she was back on the job and has been working regularly since.

Don't forget the regular meeting of the advisory committee Wednesday, March 31, at 8 o'clock in Mr. Kjos' office. All chairmen of various committees are urged to attend.

River Valley Creamery Churns 190,982 Pounds of Butter in Past Year

The River Valley cooperative creamery in 1942 produced a total of 190,982 pounds of butter, it is revealed in the annual report of Raymond Gordon, operator, prepared for submission at the annual meeting of the association this afternoon. An average net price of 45.08 cents per pound was paid for all butterfat received during the year. Officers who served the association during the past year include Ole Nesland, president; Gilbert Hanson, vice president; Benjamin Bendrickson, secretary-treasurer; and O. M. Mandt, Martin Geving, Ralph Hofstad and F. W. Lundeen, directors.

SMILEY

A dandy meeting was held at the Gust Hallberg home Friday afternoon of last week. The hostess, Mrs. Hallberg provided work for the women for the afternoon after which she served refreshments. A novel feature of the afternoon that was really enjoyed was a ten cent usable gift presentation to Mrs. John Ranum and Mrs. O. N. Olson who have their birthdays this month. Each member brought a gift as well as the guest, Mrs. E. Askre. The women have really accomplished something for the Red Cross. At each meeting they are given an article of clothing to take home and sew and return to the next meeting. So far they have made 24 blouses, 10 slips, and are now working on dickeys. The next meeting will be Wednesday April 7 at the home of Mrs. Agnes Waring's mother, Mrs. Isaac Olson, in Thief River Falls.

Ed Grundhaus recently returned to his home from a month's stay in Wabasha and Lake City with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Clara Swanson, teacher in Dist. 4 and her pupils played their rhythm band at the Teacher's Institute in Thief River Falls a week ago Friday. They made quite a hit with their peppy musical numbers. Miss Swanson spent the week-end with her friend Miss Esther Mosbeck, a normal trainee.

Sunday dinner guests at the O. N. Olson home were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grundhaus and sons Roger and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum and youngsters, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Olson and children, Wayne and Judy, and Ed Grundhaus, Sr.

Quite a gang attended the town meeting at the annual session. All officers were reelected except the post of supervisor where Olaf Snetting succeeded Walter Lendobeja. Others are W. E. McCrum, chairman of town board; Ole Helgeland, supervisor; Frank Hardisty, clerk; L. O. Stenseth, treasurer; Jim McCrum, assessor; Adam Lendobeja, constable.

The teacher, Miss Gunda Enger, and pupils of Dist. 26 Hiawatha school gave a farewell party for Norman Chester last week. He received a wallet "to remember them by". Norman is leaving soon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chester for Coff, Wisc., where they plan to go into defense work. A daughter, Elfa, will remain with her aunt and uncle, the Bill Grundhaus' until the school term in Thief River Falls is over. She attends Lincoln high.

U. S. GOVERNMENT OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR PHONOGRAPHS

Donald Rogers Heads Local Drive for Spring-wound Machines

Launching a drive to meet a vital war need, the U. S. government announces a goal of 50,000 spring-wound phonographs and appeals to the American public for assistance in procuring the machines in the shortest possible time.

Spring-wound phonographs are required to be sent along with the armed forces to far corners of the globe where electricity is not always available. Old machines donated by the public must be depended upon to make up the bulk of the 50,000 needed as most manufacturers are now engaged in war production and the machines take strategic materials.

Donald Rogers, high school band director, has been selected to organize and carry through the drive in Thief River Falls. In outlining the program, Mr. Rogers said, "Everyone will be approached in a city-wide canvass and will be given an opportunity to donate old spring-wound phonographs. This campaign will be conducted through the co-operation of the Larson Music store. Each person will receive a folder telling the story of the campaign and an information slip on which he can indicate the type of machine he will donate.

With the mercury mounting above the 40-degree mark three days this week, heavy inroads were made on the winter's accumulation of snow, and much surface water was in evidence.

Exams for Navy College Training Program Apr. 2

The Bureau of Navy Personnel has arranged with Lincoln high school to administer qualifying tests for the Navy college training program, known as the V-12 program. The purpose of the program is to produce naval officers. High school seniors, high school graduates, and college students who appear to have potentialities for ultimate selection as officers will be chosen for college training. The plan contemplates that this college training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline.

The test used for this preliminary selection of the men who are to be given this college training will be administered in high schools and colleges throughout the United States between the hours of 9 and 11 A. M., on Friday, April 2.

Only the following groups are eligible:

(a) High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are now attending college.

(b) High school and preparatory school seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, provided they will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by that date.

(c) Students who will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

Furthermore, to be eligible for selection each applicant must:

(a) Be a male citizen of the United States.

(b) Be morally and physically qualified for this program, including a minimum uncorrected visual acuity of 18-20 for each eye.

(c) Be unmarried, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned, unless sooner released by the Navy Department.

(d) Evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Men now enlisted in any branch of the armed services, including V-1, V-5, V-7 reserves on inactive status, are not eligible to take this test.

Since the announcement of the Navy V-12 program, the program has been expanded to include the army as well.

The new plan provides for the examination of all male students who have attained their 17th and have not reached their 22nd birthdays by July 1, 1943, and who have graduated or are expected to graduate from secondary schools prior to that date. It is designed to provide information useful to the armed forces in—

(a) selecting students for college training under the army specialized training program,

(b) classifying all others in respect to relative trainability.

Any young man in the Thief River Falls community who can qualify and wishes to take the examination should secure blanks in advance from the office of W. G. Claffy, Lincoln high school principal, and request his name be added to the list of those taking the examination.

PENNEY'S 41st ANNIVERSARY
it's lovely dresses... smart pajamas... new clothes for the kids.
NOT just a bolt of Yard Goods, it's much more than that! It's the hundreds of useful and pretty things into which the clever fingers of women can transform it. In a sense, this simple bolt of Yard Goods symbolizes a great American business—the J. C. Penney Company.
Yard Goods were a major part of the stock in trade of Mr. J. C. Penney's first little store—opened 41 years ago in Kemmerer, Wyoming.
From the outside this first Penney store looked far from impressive. Inside, though, people discovered it was different. For it set a new pattern of low-cost retail store service as neighborly and as typically American as ride-sharing and quilting bees!
Mr. Penney didn't think "How much can I take?" but "How much can I give?" He cut out useless frills, charge accounts and deliveries; pared prices on the home; preferred many sales at small profit to a few at large profit.
THE PENNEY IDEA GREW—TODAY PENNEY STORES DOT THE MAP!
Kemmerer took to that first Penney store! So did Moscow, Idaho later on. And Salt Lake City, Utah. And San Antonio, Texas. And today there are over 1600 Penney stores in all 48 states.
For every hundred dollars worth of sheets, or blankets, or shoes, or yard goods the Penney store sells in Peoria, Illinois or Scranton, Pennsylvania, or Savannah, Georgia, it pays back honest and substantial savings. . . .
For every hundred dresses, or shirts, or overalls it sells in Waltham, Massachusetts, or Stockton, California, or Chillicothe, Ohio, it pays back rich dividends in local salaries, advertising, rent and taxes.
Today Penney stores from Coast to Coast, in neighborly fashion, are helping to balance the household budgets of millions of Americans. Today Mr. Penney's 41 year old idea of success through giving rather than taking, is still the Penney way.

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

Spring arrived officially Sunday and for whatever consolation you can get out of the report I can tell you that the lilacs are not yet in bloom nor is the grass green in southern Minnesota. The sun cut deeply into the south exposure of the snow banks here in St. Paul Sunday afternoon but where the sun did not reach there was no thaw. In a season like this a fellow gets a lot of comfort out of his faith in the law of averages. According to this law, in three weeks the grass will be greening and the ice will be out of the river at Thief River Falls. Incidentally I have heard more complaints down here about the severe winter than I ever heard up home where, occasionally, a winter does get a little rough.

In the legislature we have now arrived at the point where, they tell me, it is futile to introduce more bills because, unless they have widespread appeal they will not be acted upon because of the time limit. There are nearly 300 bills ahead of us now that have been recommended by committees and that await action on the floor of the Senate. The Saturday morning session was dedicated to non-controversial measures in the hope that this number could be materially reduced but we ran into a snag on the second such bill proposed. This bill would have authorized the director of the division of Game and Fish to permit hunting in state parks under certain conditions, the idea being to keep the deer herd in Itasca park in proper balance with the food supply. This proposal opened the gates to a flood of oratory that killed not only the bill itself but most of the morning. At this rate we would pass only twenty or thirty more bills between now and the end of the session. To speed up progress two night sessions have been called for this week and from now on I gather that night sessions will be a common thing.

One might properly ask why seemingly endless arguments are permitted. If restrictions were imposed there no doubt would be an upsurge of sentiment against gag rule. It perhaps is necessary that one and all be permitted to speak their piece. Whatever shortcomings this freedom of expression may have, it is one of the democratic processes that we would not be denied. And those who become impatient with the result should temper their wrath in the knowledge that the legislature itself is pretty much a cross-section of the people.

The make-up of the two legislative bodies is interesting. In the Senate, of the 67 members, there are 30 lawyers, 13 farmers, 4 educators, 3 editors, 3 farm implement dealers, 2 locomotive engineers and one each of the following: banker, grocer, credit manager, office holder, insurance man, hotel landlord, hotel bellhop, real estate man, merchant, dentist, preacher and papermaker.

In the house the membership of 131 classified as follows: 45 farmers, 23 lawyers, 6 merchants, 5 office holders, 4 editors, 4 union leaders, 4 salesmen, 3 locomotive engineers, 2 dentists, 2 school teachers, 2 cafe operators, 2 grocers, 2 insurance agents, and one each of the following: preacher, printer, farm implement dealer, newspaper circulation man, wholesaler, feed mill operator, bricklayer, student, veterinary surgeon, barber, electric employee, medical technician, railroad stockholder, hotel operator, plumber, railroad conductor, laundryman, funeral director, painter, summer resort owner, electrician, Red Cross instructor and carpenter.

It is not strange that in groups that are so diversified there is a wide range of opinion on almost any conceivable subject. In fact I think it is quite remarkable that they agree on anything, except that they all are underpaid—all people of course, agree that they themselves are inadequately compensated. The fact that there is some semblance of order in these groups may probably be attributed more to the experience of the individual members than to their inclinations. Law making is a sideline to most of the members but it is a sideline with which all but a few of us have had considerable experience.

Chester Wilson has now assumed his duties as Commissioner of Conservation and has issued a statement outlining his general purposes, asking for co-operation from the public. Here is a part of his statement that I think deserves general consideration:

> "Opinions differ widely on many controversial questions. Consideration of all sides of every problem, tolerance of other people's views, and full knowledge of the facts are essential to reaching the right solution. On matters of public interest it will be our aim, before making a decision, to get all the facts, to give a hearing to all who desire it, and to make the final determination on the merits.
> "We wish that before expressing their own views all people concerned with controversial matters would consider first how the case looks from the other side of the fence, and second what action would be for the best interests of the people of the state. The latter is what must control our decision.
> "We cannot expect that everyone will be satisfied with what we do, but we hope that the public will have confidence that we are doing our best to manage the great natural resources of the state so as to produce the greatest possible benefit to the greatest number of people."

Mr. Wilson enters upon his new duties with the full confidence of those who know him. The majority group in the Senate is numerically strong, but there still is a minority group, and it was significant to me that the appointment of Chester Wilson to this difficult office was approved by the Senate without a dissenting vote. He believes Northern Minnesota is an asset worth developing and he has a good understanding of the problems of our territory. I think, when you meet him, you will be as favorably impressed with him as I have been.

There have been several brisk skirmishes between the wets and the drys in this session but no battles involving major issues. The drys have sought increased regulation of beer taverns and have passed two measures in the Senate, one providing for a state permit that can be revoked only in case of a conviction of a liquor law violation, and another that empowers the state hotel inspector to revoke the food license of any place of refreshment located outside municipalities that is convicted of a liquor law violation. Both of these bills appealed to me as being reasonable and I supported them. I also have opposed the granting of additional hard liquor licenses in several towns that now are served by the legal limit of dispensaries. One town that now has thirteen on and off sale liquor stores wanted three more. I cannot string along with either extreme of the wet and dry fight but it strikes me that in this session the drys have been the most reasonable.

In the labor law controversy that is drawing to a head there is considerable bitterness among members of the Farm Bloc who feel that the Governor has sold them down the river. They say that their program had the Governor's blessing at the beginning of the session but that he is now doing an about-face on some of the questions. It is my guess that some anti-racketeering legislation will be adopted. One such bill, for instance, was taken out of the labor committee this week and re-referred to the committee of Crime and Crime Prevention. By this committee the bill will probably be given a speedy blessing. It is not likely, that anything drastic will have a chance of passing. Labor leaders naturally are opposed to any regulation that limits their activities or increases their responsibility.

As time goes on I am beginning to think there is a chance of knocking out the so-called daylight saving plan and getting back to the hours of the sun. In the early days of the session most of my mail consisted of appeals from people who either wanted the state to spend more money or wanted taxes reduced. These are now being outnumbered by the letters and cards I receive in favor of sun-time. The demand for a repeal of the present law seems to be becoming general thruout all the northern farm states and Congressman Fred Gilchrist of Iowa recently urged a return to sun-time in a speech that is being widely quoted. Congressman Gilchrist admitted that Joshua had done tricks with the sun and did not deny the nursery rhyme reports that the cow had jumped over the moon. He inferred however that modern cows prefer sunshine to moonshine and declared the whole present arrangement to be "haywire", concluding that, "Astronomical time and gastronomical time agree that noon is the time for eating dinner on the farm."

The Minnesota sun-time bill has passed the house and I think we now have a fair chance of getting it passed in the Senate.

Auxiliary Notes

The regular meeting of the auxiliary was held in the memorial rooms March 18. Before the meeting the members listened to interesting talks in the Civic and Commerce rooms by Allan Briggs and Miss Mary Lindeke. Both are connected with the Civilian Defense Office at St. Paul and they were in attendance at the meeting of Victory Aides. Mr. Briggs was formerly state commander of the American Legion.

Due to the fact that the previous auxiliary meeting had to be postponed, Mrs. Leverson gave a belated report on the Hospital Association party stating that the sum of $25.00 was netted. Mrs. Plough expressed thanks to Mmes. Schilbred and Steinhauer for taking charge of the lunch.

Special tribute was paid to Mrs. Gust Schilbred, who has the honor of having one daughter in the WAACs, one in the WAVEs, and a son in the Signal Corps.

The unit voted to donate ten dollars to the American Red Cross drive.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mrs. V. C. Noper, who is the County Farmer Field Woman in connection with the AAA program, gave an interesting talk in regard to her work and also a recent trip which she made to the Army Training Camp at Fort Snelling.

The next meeting, April 1st, will be in form of a "welfare" meeting.

Pennington Boasts 210 Winners of Farm Award

A list, arranged by townships, of the Agricultural Production awards to 210 farmers of Pennington county, was announced Wednesday in St. Paul by Ole A. Flaat of Fisher, director of the award program.

With each service flag, which will be sent in a mailing tube, there will be included a number of "A" merit badges — a shield about the size of a quarter, with a raised "A" in maroon on it.

The service flag is designed for display in homes, and the lapel insignia are to be presented by the farm operator to the persons whom he listed on his original application, as having played a worthwhile part in the 1942 production. MAVIE

This reporter was unable to get last week's news letter in because the mail man couldn't take the mail from Mavie until Thursday evening after the storm had stopped and the snow plow had gone through. The happiest moment of the stormy week in Mavie community was Wednesday evening approximately 10:30 when the snow plow finally came through. The people of the Germantown community were blocked in until Saturday evening however.

Jens Johnson returned about one week ago from Bremerton, Washington where he has been employed since last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pomerenke and daughters Fern and Ardell of Odessa, Minnesota and Mr. and Mrs. Wangen and son Durante of Bemidji, are visiting at the Ed Ristau home. From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernethy always said: "Curiosity may kill a cat—but I'm no cat." Which is Sam's way of saying that when he's curious about something he goes out and gets the facts.

Seems our government feels the same way. After hearing rumors about our soldiers drinking too much—government people went after the facts. They got the evidence on what our boys drink... and don't drink.

The government found out our Army's the best behaved in history. More's half of 'em drink beer—nothing stronger. And the government found that selling 3.2 beer in Army camps is one reason why our Army is so temperate.

From where I sit, there isn't much cause to worry about our men in the Army. Looks like they can take care o' themselves—and take care o' the Nazis and the Japs, too.

Joe Marsh

A wide variety of products essential to the construction and armament of airplanes, tanks, ships and other implements of modern warfare, will be manufactured from the contents of these box cars, en route from Butte to the copper and zinc mills at Great Falls, Montana. The heavily loaded train is seen crossing a mountain summit north of Butte.

A Bomber is Born

A good idea of the symphony of industry that goes into the making of an airplane comes from a high official of the War Production Board.

More than 1,500 concerns, he says, take part in the production of a single airplane.

It begins, of course, with raw materials, drawn from many parts of the Nation. Finished materials and parts take form in hundreds of plants in widely scattered cities. These flow in endless procession to the assembly plant. And in a surprisingly short time a completed bomber rolls onto the flying field—ready to join the fight for freedom.

An important part of this symphony of production begins in the Northwest. It is reflected in the tasks assigned to the railroads.

The Great Northern hauls iron ore from northern Minnesota to the boats on Lake Superior, lumber and important lumber products, such as plywood, from western forests and mills, copper and zinc from the mines at Butte, aluminum from the recently completed plants in the Pacific Northwest, and other products that have their roles in the making of an airplane. Plants for the production of magnesium, another vital commodity, are nearing completion in the Pacific Northwest.

The Great Northern participates also in the assembling of the finished materials and parts, transporting them in an uninterrupted flow for airplane manufacturers in other parts of the country, as well as to the Northwest's famous airplane plant which is filling world-wide skies with Flying Fortresses.

Thus from forests, fields, and mines—from gondolas, box cars and flat cars—from more than 1,500 widely scattered manufacturing establishments—from inventive and organizational genius—and from labor—a bomber is born.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister Mrs. Rose C. Kjans who passed away twelve years ago March 23.

The sun and moon are shining
On a lone and silent grave,
Beneath lies one we dearly loved,
But whom we could not save.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile,
Little do they know, the heartaches
That our smile hides all the while.
Loving hearts will always linger,
Around her grave.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by her father and sisters, Joseph Vakoch, Mrs. Joe Cernousek, Mrs. Alex Kosanda and Mrs. Frank Horejsh. 12c

BEMIDJI NOSES OUT BAGLEY IN REGION 8 FINAL

Teams Play on Even Terms in First Three Quarters; Score 38-31

Climax, District 31 Winner, Is Whipped by Bemidji Friday Night

A fourth period scoring spurt, which found the Lumberjacks outpointing the Flyers by six points, carried Glenn Barnum's Bemidji team to a well-earned 38 to 31 triumph over Bagley Saturday night in the eighth regional basketball finals at Bemidji. Saturday night's consolation game was won by the burly Roseau team, marking up a 27 to 23 win over Climax. This afternoon, in the state high school tournament being played in the University of Minnesota field house, Bemidji will meet Virginia in a first round game.

Tommy Corrigan's sensational basket shooting featured the nip-and tuck championship game, with the lanky Lumberjack co-captain dropping in 8 field goals and a free throw to tally 17 points. Bagley battled the Lumberjacks on even terms throughout most of the game, holding a 16 to 14 lead at the intermission, and trailed by only a point, 28 to 27, with a six minutes of play remaining; but rapid-fire baskets by Phil Fair, Harlan Grover, and Corrigan, pushed Bemidji into a safe lead, with the Lumberjacks content to play "possession" ball during the final minutes.

The first round regional game last Friday night saw Bemidji, using its superior height to good advantage in playing the backboards, subdue the 31st district champions, Climax, 50 to 29. Climax started fast, holding a 5 to 2 lead during the opening minutes of play, and held Bemidji to an 8 to 5 score at the end of the first period. Corrigan, with 17 points, and Fair, with 13 points, paced the Bemidji scorers; while Hilding Hagen, connecting for six field goals in the second half, tallied 12 points for Climax; and Bob Nelson added 10 points to the Climax total.

The veteran Bagley team, the defending champions, were barely able to out-finish Roseau in the second game Friday night. The Flyers, with Cy Chapleski and Orland Solum doing the bulk of the scoring, held a 25 to 14 lead at the half, and a 31 to 17 lead midway in the third period; but then coach Orville Lindberg's green-and-white team made its bid. Roseau, with big John Dahlgren controlling the rebounds, drove through the Bagley defense to outscore the Flyers 10 to 4, in the final period; losing the game by a 37 to 31 score.

Two Freshman Quintets Battle It out for Class Championship Tuesday

.... With HUCK OLSON

Plenty of Heat

With the Bratrud Clinic, Poppler's Furniture, Eagles, and St. Hilaire reaching the semi-finals in the city bowling championship playoffs, the matches scheduled for tonight, and the finals tomorrow night, should generate plenty of heat on the Mint Alleys. Tonight's matches will have the Eagles meeting St. Hilaire, and the Bratrud Clinic rolling against the Poppler's, and both of these matches are "naturals."

First roundmatches, rolled on Monday and Tuesday, found the Friday Eagles pounding out scores of 777 and 819 to eliminate the Monday Eagles; the Bratrud Clinic, the defending city champions, in a roll-off for a place in the tournament, defeated the Catholic Men taking two games, 810-891 to 728-737; and in Monday night's final shift, St. Hilaire scored a two-straight win over the Creamery, 827-887 to the Creamery's 703-738. Tuesday night's matches witnessed the elimination of the Pharmacy, who lost to the Clinic, 847-940 to 787-841; and in the most exciting match to date, the Poppler's had to go three games in order to defeat the Hartz Bakery, 752-719-827 to 744-737-801. In fairness to the Pharmacy and Hartz Bakery teams, it must be added that they were forced to bowl short-handed, having only four men in their line-up.

Just a Formality

The interclass basketball games are tentatively scheduled to be played this week, on Thursday and Friday, and the result is pretty much of a foregone conclusion; the Seniors, Homer Matheson, Mark Leverson, Pete Michalsky, Don Aasland, and company, should romp through the games; but you can't be too sure. Any game that Homer enters you can't mark down as a sure thing, because Homer makes his own rules. The Juniors, with Norm Furuseth and Pork Weffen, may cause a bit of trouble for the Seniors; and so may cause a bit of trouble for the Seniors; and so may the Sophs, with Chuck Richards, Phil Kays, and Woody Schmeltzer. The Freshmen, coached by Art Forsberg and Billy Byer, will have the advantage of some smart bench work, but the only splashes the Frosh will make will be when they walk home in the slush after the games.

Dr. Amesbury's 100

Dr. Amesbury bowled only one game in the Lions' Red Cross tournament last week, and posted a score of 100. But you have to give him credit for being a 300 bowler in spirit, for it was the first time in a dozen years that he had bowled, but he felt that the Red Cross tournament was for a splendid cause and so entered the event.

They Respect the Eighth

With the Bemidji Lumberjacks in the state high school basketball tournament, the eighth region is undoubtedly represented by its best and strongest team. The Lumberjacks play Virginia this afternoon, and the winner of this game has been installed as a favorite to reach the finals, with Austin or Edison, perhaps, in the lower bracket. Bemidji will be handicapped by the loss of their reserve forward, Myron Bakke, and his absence may hurt because the Lumberjacks are short on reserves. But they rolled through the regional tournament without Bakke in their line-up, so they'll perhaps be able to manage this week, too.

A few of the more rabid Roseau fans disagree with the statement that the Bemidji team is the region's strongest outfit. Roseau fans contend that the luck of the draw was against coach Lindberg's team, being pitted against Bagley in a first round game. Their argument being that if Roseau had drawn Climax for their first game they, the Roseau team, would have gotten the "feel" of the floor in a comparatively easy game, and then would have made it tough for Bemidji in the finals. Roseau, you know, had a team that was as big and rangy as Bemidji's.

TRUCK OWNERS TO RENEW GAS RATION BOOKS BY MARCH 31

Rau Gives Instructions on Filing Applications for Renewal

All truck owners holding certificates of war necessity are requested to renew their gas rationing books now as the expiration date on these books is March 31, states A. J. Rau, gas specialist with the local ration board. Otherwise, they may experience a delay in getting their new books if they all file their applications on the last day of the month.

Form OPA R-536 must be used in renewing the gas books. These forms are obtainable at all garages and filling stations. In filling out this form, care must be exercised in filling in column G on the face of the application. The certificate of war necessity must show that the tires were inspected for the second period as the requirements are that truck tires are to be inspected every two months.

This certificate must be attached to the application and filed with the rationing board located over the Northern State bank.

MINNESOTA PAYS TRIBUTE TO FARM PRODUCTION IN '42

Pennington County Farmers and Farm Workers Are Honored

Farms and farmers in Pennington county will receive awards for increased production of vital war products as the Minnesota agricultural award program reached its climax when symbolic presentation ceremonies were held at the state capitol in St. Paul at noon Wednesday.

Approximately 840 farm workers in the county will receive "A" awards of merit and 810 farmers will get service flags, according to announcement made by Ole Flaat, director of the program.

This symbolic presentation will be followed by the mailing of awards to more than 30,000 farmers and 120,000 farm workers. It will require from ten days to two weeks to complete the mailing, Mr. Flaat said.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a list of Pennington county farmers, who have been recommended to receive the award.

At the ceremonies Wednesday, representatives of the legislature, the state's business interests, service and civic organizations and farm leaders joined the governor in an hour's review of the state's major contribution to the war effort and in the formal presentation. Thereafter, workers at the award program's state office began the big job of mailing the service flags and lapel insignia.

Awards are being sent to all farmers who filled out applications and whose production statements were approved by town officials. With each service flag mailed will be an "A" badge of merit that the farm operator will present to the workers whose names he had listed on the application as having had a worth-while part in the 1942 production. The award is based on increased production in 1942, over 1941, rather than on plans for future production or competition between farmers.

To The Editor, Thief River Falls Times:

For the benefit of your readers I would appreciate space in your paper to make a reply to the editorial of recent date, written by Senator W. E. Dahlquist, wherein he states that, "I believe Townsend National Recovery Plan is economically unsound and would in fact retard recovery rather than promote it . . ."

It is most regrettable that Senator Dahlquist did not see fit to give at least one reason why he considers the Townsend Plan to be economically unsound. Until the Senator does provide your readers with this information, your readers are entitled to know—and should be given the facts—regarding the Townsend Plan, so that they may judge for themselves as to its merits and feasability.

Let us first consider the tax structure of the Townsend Plan, which is a gross income tax levied upon all salaries (over $100 per month) and the gross income of business. Now, one may ask, "Is such a tax sound?" To that question we point to its unparalleled success in the Hawaiian Islands, where the gross income tax has been in operation for eight years. In 1934 the Hawiian Islands were in the red and virtually bankrupt. At that time Mr. S. W. Borthwick, Tax Commissioner of Hawaii, came to America and, after a conference with Dr. Townsend, he returned to Hawaii and succeeded—over much opposition—in putting the gross income tax into operation ther in 1935.

In 1937, Richard J. Jacker, a patent attorney in Chicago, wrote for Mr. Borthwick's opinion of the Townsend Plan. Mr. Borthwick's reply in part follows: "You ask whether I believe the Townsend Plan would be a good thing for the United States to adopt, and I unhesitatingly tell that I do. I believe not only that the Townsend Plan is a good thing, but that it is the only plan that has been offered to the people that has any semblance of permanence. It has brought us out of the red . . ." On January 18, 1943, Mr. Borthwick wrote Jno. C. Cuneo, Townsend National Representative in Calif., as follows: "I am sending under separate cover, two copies of the gross income tax law (in effect in Hawaii). It is still working wonders for us. Regardless of whether it is used for, it should be a Federal law. It is the solution of the tax problem, due to its simplicity and the fact that it will produce revenue for the war effort.

"The gross income tax has more than doubled our receipts from that source. In fact, it has jumped from an estimated five million to over fourteen million in a biennium. California needs this type of tax. So does the U. S. A. Sincerely yours, S. W. Borthwick, Tax Commissioner."

Commenting upon the wonderful success of the gross income tax in Hawaii, M. W. Jess, financial editor of the Illustrated Daily News, Los Angeles, Calif., published Dec. 21, 1937, wrote in part as follows: "The United States could wipe out its national debt and be money ahead within 6 years if the Federal Government would adopt the Hawaiian Taxation system . . . The islands have solved their tax problem by instituting a gross income tax . . . Not only has it saved the Territory from bankruptcy but it has simplified the revenue collection to such an extent that the most ignorant oriental peddler in the street knows how to make out his tax return . . . In Hawaii they have discovered the weakness in most forms of taxation to be the extreme technicalities and the tiny loopholes that soon grow big enough for trucks to be driven through . . . Now they have changed all of that . . ."

Now does Senator Dahlquist consider it "economically unsound" to replace our present antiquated, ineffective and burdensome tax methods of raising money for old age pensions, with this modern tax system now being used so successfully in Hawaii? Does the Senator consider it "economically unsound" to pro rate this tax revenue every 30 days among our American citizens who are no longer needed or wanted in our modern scientific production world because of their advanced years or serious physical handicaps? Does Senator Dahlquist consider it "economically unsound" if these pensioners were to receive, say, a $50 a month pension so they could purchase more needed farm products, manufactured goods, medical services, etc., after the war, instead of the inadequate $22 per month average pension which our elders receive now?

Finally, if we can spend 50 per cent of our national income for a program of world-wide destruction and human slaughter, and thereby create our greatest era of prosperity while we are doing so (see report of Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank, January 27, 1943) does the Senator still insist that it is "economically unsound" to invest 2 per cent of our national income in a constructive program especially designed to eliminate post-war poverty, unemployment and human suffering in America — wherein every citizen would be constantly benefited in some manner throughout his or her life?

Help Production

This year it is the duty of every person, every farm and every business institution to employ every effort to help produce the food products that will be needed to keep our army and navy properly fed. In addition to our military forces, there are hundreds of thousands of destitute civilians in the war torn countries who look to us for food to keep them alive.

That northwestern Minnesota, of which we are all a part, will do its full duty is a certainty. Our share in this effort is to help finance agricultural production and to this we pledge our earnest endeavor.

BE A Good NEIGHBOR

Uncle Sam has pointed out a number of ways you can be a good neighbor—and therefore a good citizen. By sharing rides to save tires and gasoline, by sharing the available food—buying only what you need—so there will be enough to go around, and by investing in War Bonds and Stamps every day.

You can be a good neighbor, too, by inviting your friends to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in your own home. This simple entertaining, wholesome and entirely appropriate during wartime, is being adopted in thousands of patriotic homes. In addition to the pleasure it gives at small cost, beer possesses the nutritive elements of natural barley, malt and hops.

SALVAGE PROGRAM BEING PLANNED ON LONG RANGE BASIS

Vorpahl Says Farm Salvage Is Highly Important in War Program

A long range continuing salvage program—not a drive—for collecting farm scrap in Minnesota, North and South Dakota has been planned by the regional salvage department of the War Production Board, L. E. Vorpahl, regional general salvage manager, said today in Minneapolis.

"This is a program and not to be considered as a campaign or drive," Mr. Vorpahl explained. "Our objective must be all the scrap from all the farms. It is from the farms that the bulk of general scrap will come. Farm scrap is extremely important for the war program because it is heavier and more desirable than household scrap.

"Proper execution of our long-range farm program will provide an even and constant flow of scrap to dealers' yards, eliminating the tremendous peaks and valleys which have alternately swamped our transportation and processing facilities and then left them idle with insufficient material on hand to insure continued operation," Mr. Vorpahl said.

Rural scrap requirements for region No. 12 of the War Production Board have been set at 1,000 pounds per farm. Diminished manpower and gasoline rationing, among other causes, will make it necessary for everybody concerned to work much more intensively to reach this goal, Mr. Vorpahl said.

"It is recognized that minor changes and adjustments will have to be made in any over-all plan to fit local conditions," Mr. Vorpahl explained. "In some communities, the committees will need to be enlarged, and in some of the smaller communities it may be necessary for one person to perform more than one committee job or function.

"We in the War Production Board feel that the regional plan is fundamentally sound and with minor changes will result in the salvage of a greater amount of scrap than any of us now realize is possible," Mr. Vorpahl said. "It will require tremendous effort and wide-spread cooperation. It probably is not amiss to point out that wars are not won without effort and an effective salvage program will be a substantial and vital contribution to Victory."

A high school in Hazelton, Pa., started a tin can collection contest between rooms and wound up the week with 29,000 cans.

By curtailing manufacture of metal church goods, 280 tons of brass, and 80 tons of aluminum will be saved every year.

Highway Patrol Arrests Confirm Big Decline in Drunken Driving in State

The war-time decline in drunken driving in Minnesota since January 1, reflected last week in the drivers license revocations by the State Highway Department, was substantially confirmed this week by the report of the state highway patrol.

Patrol Chief Elden Rowe reported to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann that during the first two months of the year drunken driving arrests had declined 44%, dropping from 115 for January and February 1942 to 64 for the past two months. During this period drivers license revocations for drunken driving declined 54%.

Total arrests by highway patrolmen for other offenses, as well as the number of verbal warnings and warning tickets issued to motorists, increased during the past two months over the same two months of the previous year. The largest increase, however, was in the arrests and warnings of motorists driving without proper 1943 registration tags.

Total arrests so far this year increased from 1,375 in 1942 to 1,627; written warning tickets from 1,012 to 1,170, and verbal warnings from 3,785 to 6,764.

MINNESOTA STATE AUDITOR REPORTS TO LEGISLATURE

King Reveals State Debt Has Declined $28,000,000 in Five Years

Though in active service in the air transport command of the U. S. Army at Hamilton Field, California, Stafford King as state auditor was able to submit to the Minnesota legislature this week biennial report that included many improvements in presentation of the state's extensive financial transactions. John L. Meader, deputy state auditor, and the other men King put in charge when he went into service worked out details of the report, and Meader presented it to the legislators in behalf of King.

Among the highlights brought out were:

1. State debt has declined $28,091,339 from the peak of $134,155,892 which it reached at the close of the 1937 fiscal year. The total on June 30th, 1942, was $106,064,553.

2. Total expenditures of the state for current operations, including state aids, were $106,821,853 in the 1942 fiscal year, compared to $100,760,849 in the previous year. Figuring in the change were an increase of $5,400,000 in the funds devoted to highway construction, $1,000,000 more for education, some addition in welfare funds and, of course, the increase required for civilian and military defense activities.

3. Out of the total state expenditures, a considerable portion goes to local units of government. In the 1942 fiscal year, fully $39,909,603 was paid out in various forms of state aid.

13 Million Insurance Benefits Paid in State

Minnesota families received $13,692,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during 1942, compared with $16,027,000 in the previous year, it was reported today by the Institute of Life Insurance. Of the aggregate payments to families in this state, $10,525,000 was under 5,012 ordinary policies, $2,150,000 was under 1,316 group life insurance certificates, and $1,017,000 was under 4,224 industrial insurance policies. The national total was $1,002,990,000 paid under 1,001,461 policies compared with $1,009,636,000 under 1,074,606 policies in 1941.

WIND LIFTS WOMAN FROM DOOR TO CAR

Worthington—Winds cut queer capers and a very unusual one is this story. Mrs. Harry Johnson opened the front door of her home recently when she saw her husband drive into the yard to ask him to bring in the mail. As she did so, she held onto the storm door to keep it from blowing open. A huge gust caught the door and before she could relax her grasp, had flung it wide, hurling her off the porch into the driveway, against the car. Injury was sufficient to call a doctor but not serious.

A lucky fisherman, getting his full allowable catch of all species every day of fishing season, could take 23,545 fishes in Minnesota in a year.

WOULD REVISE STATE SCHOOL AIDS SYSTEM

Bills Introduced Revising Present Complicated System

PLAN RECOMMENDED BY INTERIM GROUP

Would Reduce the Number of Forms of Aid from 37 to 7

Members of the Minnesota legislature will be asked before the present session ends to pass a bill reorganizing the state's complicated system of school aid along lines recommended in the report of the interim committee on education.

Bills providing for the change made their appearance in both houses this past week, and sponsors of the measure indicated a belief that they can be passed. Earlier plans did not contemplate presentation of the measures this session, but response to the report of the interim committee, submitted early in the session, has been so good, sponsors of the school aid reorganization reported this week, that they have decided to push the bills this session.

Authors of the bill introduced in the senate were Senators A. L. Almen and Norman J. Larson. The house sponsors were Representatives R. T. Hart, C. C. Baker and E. B. Herseth. Senator Almen is chairman of the senate education committee and also was chairman of the interim committee on education. Representative Hart also served on the interim committee. He is chairman of the House committee on education.

The bills introduced this week follow closely recommendations of the interim committee, which asked that the present complicated school aid system, with 37 different forms of aid, be abolished and an entirely new system established, with but seven different types of aid. Under the plan proposed, there would be a general aid system, designed to give each district in the state a minimum basic educational program; and six special aids.

A notable feature of the plan proposed is the requirement that each school district in the state must levy a tax of at least 10 mills for school purposes. Many districts receiving state school aid now make but small levies, authors of the bill point out, and so require but a small local contribution toward school costs. The plan, it is contended, will require at least a minimum of 10 mills as a local contribution, and the state help would operate as a supplement merely above this point.

The plan proposed is designed to provide a basic educational program. In elementary school districts enrolling 18 or less pupils, for instance, payment to the district of $60 per pupil in average daily attendance is suggested, providing it employs a teacher with the proper Minnesota certificate. For districts with more pupils, a payment of $1,200 would be made to the district for each elementary class room unit where the school term is nine months and where the teacher has a certificate based on two years or more of training, and slightly lesser amounts where the school term is shorter and the teacher's training is less. Under the schedule suggested, the allowance would be based on a class room unit of from 18 to 26 pupils in the smaller schools and 26 pupils in the larger schools, those with 78 or more pupils.

A similar plan would be followed in the case of high schools, where the allowance would run from $1,800 to $1,800, depending on the number of special departments carried, such as agriculture, commercial and home economics.

The new program contemplates retention of transportation aids, aids for high school teacher training departments, aid for special classes for the handicapped, gross earnings tax aid and aid for isolated districts with low valuations. The present one-mill school levy would be dropped under the bill.

High School Paper Pulls Fast One on Its Readers

Lincoln high school students rubbed their eyes this week when they saw in the Lincoln Log, student publication, a black headline informing them that this month they would enjoy a three-weeks Easter vacation, a shortage of janitors being the professed reason. On further perusal, however, they found they were reading a special April Fool's edition of the Log, which changed its name for the occasion to the Lincoln Fog.

Complete plans for the community Victory Garden program for residents of Thief River Falls were arrived at during a meeting Monday evening of this week of the community garden committee called together by Chairman W. R. Ferber.

The committee selected by Mr. Ferber, which represents local service organizations, fraternal organizations, and the office of civilian defense, is composed of the following local men: J. Robert Petersen, Wm. Ferguson, E. A. Palmer, county agent, Martin Bothun, Archie Henarod, Wm. Thompson, W. G. Claffy and Andrew Anderson.

During the meeting initial plans were made to provide for a survey of every home in Thief River Falls to determine those who need additional space for a Victory Garden. This survey has been approved by the local office of civilian defense and the Victory Aides will contact each family in the city during the week of April 5 to April 10.

When this survey is completed the community garden committee will know the people needing additional space for a garden and can then rent land adjacent to the city for this purpose. The committee has several garden plot spaces under consideration but will not rent any land until the survey indicates how many residents are interested. The land for the Victory Garden will not be more than a mile from town and possibly closer. Martin Bothun is placed in charge of securing land for the garden.

Mr. Ferber announces that a set of regulations in connection with the community garden program were drawn up at the Monday evening meeting. All these regulations will be given to the Victory Aides at the time the survey is taken.

After the city-wide survey has been completed and the garden site has been selected, the registrations of those wanting a plot will take place. This probably will be about the middle of April. All those interested in a community garden are requested to watch for this announcement. It is also planned to hold a meeting of interested gardeners to discuss gardening problems such as better planting methods and care of the gardens.

The whole hearted cooperation of everyone in the city wide poll is solicited.

CO. RED CROSS GOES OVER THE TOP WITH $6.135

$6,050 Quota Exceeded with Many Townships Yet to be Heard From

THIEF RIVER FALLS GIVES $4,070 TOTAL

Final Reports Expected to Put County $1,000 over Quota

With reports from numerous townships still lacking, the combined Red Cross roll call and war fund appeal in Pennington county Wednesday was already well over the top, it was announced today by Stanton R. Dahlen, campaign chairman.

With a county quota of $6,050, he said, contributions received to date aggregate $6,135.13, of which the city of Thief River Falls supplied the excellent total of $4,070, while donations from residents of the remainder of the county to date amount to $2,065.13. Bad roads have delayed the solicitation in the rural areas, Mr. Dahlen explained, and a week or ten days more will be required before final reports are available.

Expressing the hope that final returns will put the county $1,000 over its quota, Mr. Dahlen stated that any residents of the city who were away from their homes when the solicitors called may leave their contributions at the office of the First Federal Savings & Loan association.

In connection with the showing of a short feature dealing with the work of the Red Cross at local theatres during the coming week, a group of Girl Scouts will be stationed at both theatres to receive contributions.

Pennington Is Asked to Buy Huge Total of $230,000 Bonds in April

'BUY A BOMBER' DRIVE IS SCHEDULED IN CITY

Junior Chamber to Sponsor City Campaign to Sell $175,000 Bonds

The U. S. treasury department has announced that the month of April has been set aside for the biggest war loan drive in American history. The nation's quota for the drive is 13 billion dollars, approximately one-tenth of the nation's entire gross income for one year. Eight billion of this loan will be raised from the general public, while the remainder will be subscribed by banks.

Pennington county's share in this quota has been set at $230,000, which is more than three times the highest monthly quota that has been assigned to the county heretofore. The individual's share in this quota is going to be based on ability to buy, as it is clear that the purchase of $25.00, $50.00, or even $100.00 bonds is not going to do the job, said Paul A. Lundgren, county war bond chairman.

In order to finance this gigantic task the government has introduced some new series bonds to fit the individual needs, and a committee is being formed for Pennington county to study the various bond issues, so that they can be thoroughly explained by the solicitors during the course of the campaign.

Since a farm-to-farm campaign was conducted in November, a similar campaign is not now contemplated, Mr. Lundgren stated, but individual lists will be prepared for the country for those whom the committee deems able to buy additional bonds. There having been no house-to-house canvass in the city of Thief River Falls, the Jr. Chamber of Commerce has been enlisted to conduct a canvass in the city. The county's quota of $230,000 has, therefore, been broken down so that $175,000.00 has been assigned to the city and $55,000.00 to the remainder of the county.

The county committee will consist of: Paul A. Lundgren, chairman; Paul Roy and Mrs. Oscar Gunstad, representing St. Hilaire; Russel J. Simcox and Stephen Singer, representing Goodridge; Ole Odegaard, representing Hazel; Carl R. Anderson, Hans C. Solberg, and Patrick Culkins representing the rural area; and Harry Kinghorn, Mrs. C. W. Vorachek, Morris Bye, and Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson representing the city of Thief River Falls.

A special committee has been formed for the city with Wayne Anderson representing the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, and E. O. Peterson as co-chairman. The other members of the city committee are George Werstlein, Archie Henarod, Merle Lindbergh, Andrew Anderson, Stanton Dahlen, and Arthur Johnson.

The committees are now preparing prospect cards, and all available manpower will be enlisted to carry out a thorough solicitation. The solicitors will merely secure the pledges for the purchase of bonds during the month of April, and the actual purchases will be made through the post office, banks or savings and loan association, as heretofore. The banks have been authorized to loan money for the purchase of the new negotiable bond series which has been introduced by the government for the April campaign.

The cost of the building of a medium bomber is $175,000.00. If the City of Thief River Falls is able to make its quota under the sponsoring organization, the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, it will be awarded a plaque and the city of Thief River Falls will have the distinction of having one of the bombers named after the city, and a record of its achievements will be kept.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Girl Scout Membership Increases in 1942

According to a recent poll taken at the close of 1942, girl scout membership has reached the all time high of 717,657, a gain of 46,910 over 1941. In Thief River Falls our membership at the end of 1942 was 145 compared to 117 at the close of 1941. To those who have worked in girl scouting for many years, these are nice figures and pleasant to think about.

Girl Scouting is the largest nonsectarian character building movement for girls in United States. In a time when moral standards are being challenged and divided in many parts of the world, it is pleasant to record that this group of American girls and the women who lead them have voluntarily pledged themselves to try to do their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times, and live in accordance with the code of honor, loyalty, courtesy, friendliness, kindness, cleanness of thought, word, and deed. It is so important that the President of the United States himself has said "I should like to see Girl Scouting made available to more girls than are now participating in it." Our local girl scout council are helping to increase the facilities of the girl scouts to reach more girls.

We are having a girl scout trainer in April, Miss Lolita Warner, who is a trained leader and will conduct classes to train girl scout leaders and council members. If you would like to take this course, and are interested in girl scouting, the council will be happy to have you call Mrs. Ferguson.

Leo Langevin arrived this week from Kodiak, Alaska, where he has been employed the past 8 months on a naval air base. He will visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Langevin before going into the service.

Mrs. Minnie Kirby arrived Sunday from Seattle, Wash., en route to Minneapolis where she will attend a Bible school. Following this course, she will return to the city for an indefinite visit. She has been employed in Seattle for the past two years.

At the close of the program lunch will be served by the music group. All members are urged to be present.

The Current Events group will meet at the club rooms Tuesday, April 6, at 2:30 P. M. with Mrs. E. C. Karwand as hostess. Mrs. Karwand and Mrs. Vogen will present the program.

MILADY'S Spring Wardrobe

With spring making its annual debut on March 21, feminine interest turns naturally to clothing. This year however, the wardrobe is far from complete without a good supply of attractive wear for Victory Garden work.

This "flapjack" coverall of striped bird's-eye cotton pique is one of the brightest of the farmerette modes.

D. E. F. BLUE STAMPS IN EFFECT MARCH 25

OPA officials are reminding consumers that the blue stamps D, E and F in War Ration Book Two, totaling 48 points and used for processed canned goods, will be good from March 25 through April 30. Consumers are now using stamps A, B and C, which will expire March 31. Consumers therefore can use stamps from A through F during the last week of the month. That will permit using up of all the A, B and C stamps by combining them with D, E and F points before the expiration date.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Try a Little Praise

Though our minds are busy these days with grand-scale problems of war and peace, security and freedom, the small daily concerns keep bobbing up and can't be ignored. Take the matter of eating, for instance. Possibly we ourselves have created some of the difficulties that revolve around this business of getting our small children to eat — but there the problems are, nevertheless, to be coped with. Every day many of us are faced with the child who fusses, the child who dislikes so many foods, the child who refuses to eat, or the dawdler.

Perhaps this last problem of dawdling is one of the most aggravating in any household where a certain schedule must be adhered to and unlimited time simply cannot be taken.

I was visiting in a nursery school the other day and watching one of these dawdling children—a little boy four years old. So far as I could tell he was not playing for attention; certainly he was not fussing. But the food just didn't go down. I gathered that the menu on this day contained some of his dislikes, but he was well aware of the nursery school expectation that even disliked food should at least be sampled, and he was not refusing to eat. It was just that he had a hard time keeping at the business at hand.

The student teacher sitting at his table knew that the boy's father would arrive to take him home right after lunch. I could see that she was trying every method she could think of to help Peter get through his meal promptly. She used gentle and constant reminders, exclamations over the delicious-looking dessert the other children were eating, etc. But nothing seemed to have any effect. Peter sat there, fork in hand, mind-wandering, and plate discouragingly full of food (though as a matter of fact he had been given a rather small portion to ward off too much discouragement at the outset.)

Suddenly the teacher turned toward him with an exclamation of surprise: "Why Peter, while I wasn't looking you ate up a lot of that dinner, didn't you! Where did it all go?"

As a matter of fact, he had taken but a bite or two, and her "surprise" was something of an exaggeration to be sure. Yet it did the trick. It gave him a new feeling of encouragement and made the task look less hopeless. Then, too, it must have made him feel that he was "doing all right"—no longer the slow child who must be constantly prodded. He attacked his dinner with real purpose and had it down in no time.

Of course, this procedure can't be offered as a general cure for all slow eaters or even for Peter's slowness at all times. There may be other factors involved in the problem, requiring in the long run several modes of attack. Yet it is well for us to remember that children thrive on legitimate praise and encouragement just as we do; that many times what appear to be problems will evaporate if we praise rather than prod, if we concentrate on pointing out success rather than error.

Sunny Weather Removes Much Snow During Week

Sunny weather, with the mercury on several days mounting up toward the 50 degree mark, made heavy inroads on the winter's accumulation of snow during the past week, leaving the ground bare in wide areas. 'BULLDOG CALF' ATTRACTS LARGE CURIOUS CROWD

Aitkin.—A 30-pound freak calf closely resembling a bulldog was born alive on the Tom Hicks farm recently. The legs were short and stocky, and the head on the body was almost perfectly that of a large bull dog even to the formation of the mouth and ears. The legs without joints, had the hoof of a calf. It lived only a brief time but was brought to town the following day where several hundred people viewed it with amazement. The freak was the first calf of a guernsey heifer purchased last fall by Mr. Hicks.

270 pounds of nylon and silk stockings shipped from Pennington county March 25, making total shipped since January 1 353 pounds. Those worn-out stockings are big because they make gunpowder bags and parachutes. Your old silk stockings make powder bags, used chiefly by the Navy. They hold powder to discharge shells from big caliber guns. Only silk can be used, for only silk burns without leaving an ash. Your old nylon stockings make parachute fabric, parachute parts, and rope used for glider take-offs. Makes no difference if your old stockings are full of runs and holes. If they contain silk or nylon, they're needed urgently! Wash them and leave them in the silk stocking salvage depot of any store selling stockings. They'll send them along to people who will put them right into the fight.

Continue bringing in your tin cans, waste fats, and nylon and silk stockings.

Consumers Interest

It is the responsibility of the women of Pennington County to ration their time, energy and their ideas to win this war. Budget your food, clothing and health. Buy wisely and sell.

Feel free to visit our office between 2 and 4 o'clock any Monday afternoon and see the new material coming in every week.

There is to be a meeting in Minneapolis at the University for the Chairman of the Consumers Interest and the Director of Citizens Service Corps. Mrs. Abbie Wassgren and Mrs. Bertha Karward will attend this meeting to be held April 1-2-3.

103-YEAR-OLD WOMAN GETS RATION BOOK 2

Appleton.—Probably the oldest person to register in the whole state for War Ration Book No. 2 was Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, Fairfield township. Mrs. Hoffman is 103 years old, is still active, does her own housework and cooks for her son.

Florida farm families grew about twice as many gardens in 1942 as they did in 1941.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Scout Troop 60 enjoyed a film together with its sponsors, the Trinity Brotherhood, showing the highspots of America's great outdoors. Rev. Lindholm of Red Lake Falls also gave a movie narrative of the Passion week of Christ.

Troop 47 went for a ski hike March 22 after school. Each scout brought his own grub and cooked his own supper. This kind of activities will find great favor with the boys as the days become longer and the warmer winds blow.

County Agent Ernest Palmer has made arrangements with the Crookston Agricultural School for the use of their heated swimming pool on Saturdays from 10 to 12, for the scouts who wish to pass the first class swimming requirements. We are happy to have friends who will prove their faith in scouting by doing these good turns, and demonstrating that they are Scouters.

Several of the scouts of troop 47, went to the Crookston Agricultural School last Saturday for instruction and training in swimming and life saving.

Hiking and cooking will soon be the order and the scouts will reflect their ability as each one will eat what he prepares.

A court of Honor will be held in Thief River Falls early in May for the scouts that are ready for advancement.

The approach of Arbor day brings the thought of tree planting. It has been suggested that a tree be planted for each soldier in the service. The scouts will be willing to aid in a tree planting program.

GARDEN and TABLE

By
ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

Tomatoes, carrots, and beans are the Big Three of vegetable gardening fame. If yours is a real Victory garden, you'll include them. They give you most food value for the space they take.

Watch your diet now before spring fever gets a foothold. Eat plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables and drink milk to bolster your diet and to get your vitamins and minerals.

Make a special point of providing your family with greens early this spring. Plant beets for greens about April 15 (the roots make good summer eating) and chard about May 1. Broccoli, which has been planted indoors, can be transplanted to the garden about April 15. These dates apply for the region around St. Paul.

If you haven't already started your transplants in the house, today isn't any too soon. Sow your seed for tomatoes, eggplant, early cabbage, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower and head lettuce in hot beds or flats right away.

The foundation of a good garden is good soil plus fertilizer. You can't beat manure for fertilizer—and you don't need to worry about getting too much of it on your garden (inmost cases).

Plow or spade the garden plot six to nine inches deep, applying manure or well rotted compost 20 to 25 tons per acre, or about a bushel per 25 square feet, and working it well into the soil. Crush the spaded-up masses as you go along and level it off roughly. If the land was plowed in the fall, apply manure that is well rotted and disk it into the soil before the seed is planted.

If you find it's hard to get manure, there's a special Victory garden fertilizer on the market, restricted for use on Victory gardens (so don't get the idea you're going to use it on your lawn or your flowers). It should be applied in amounts of about three pounds for every 100 square feet, or 1200 pounds per acre at the time of seeding or after the plants are established.

Beware the Victory garden itch which makes some people want to work the ground too soon. Never work it when it's too wet. If you do, the soil becomes lumpy, hard, and compact, and loses much of its potential productivity. Wet soil is ready to cultivate when it has dried sufficiently so that it crumbles apart slightly as you hold it or press it between your fingers.

Want the latest suggestions for Minnesota gardeners? Extension Pamphlet 122, "Victory Garden," is just out and may be obtained from Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul. A table included tells you when to plant and how much seed to use.

FARMERS GET PLENTY GAS FOR FIELD WORK

Gasoline for spring planting and subsequent cultivating and harvesting of crops will be available in plentiful quantities to northwest farmers, the Office of Price Administration has pledged the growers. Farmers can mail applications for gasoline for off-the-highway farm machinery and tractors to their local rationing boards or to the county war board. The farmers will get a six-months' supply of gasoline, eliminating the necessity of applying for ration renewals every three months as required until recently. If an individual farmer's needs increase at any time during the six month's period, he need only apply to his board for additional rations.

TWO DESSERTS FROM ONE JAR OF BERRIES

This is one of the hardest seasons of the year for desserts, a woman told me the other day. She lives in a small mid-western community. The nearest store carries none of the fresh fruits and vegetables available in the markets of larger towns. She said she still had a stock of canned berries and fruits on hand—but her family was getting tired of them. She has eggs and milk for custards. But they get tired of custards and bread puddings, too. Did I have any suggestions she wanted to know?

FOR A CHANGE FROM SAUCE

Yes, I did have some suggestions. I thought of the Alaska Berry Cake I gave in my radio program recently. Surely her family would find this a pleasant variation from fruit sauce. And then our Simple Fruit Parfait is a delightful Sunday dinner dessert that can be made with the juice left over from the berry cake.

ALASKA BERRY CAKE

Sift together
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
½ tsp. salt
3 tsp. baking powder
Cut in 4 tbsp. shortening—the way you cut shortening into biscuits or pie crust
Mix in 1 well-beaten egg—and ½ cup milk
Pat dough into greased deep 8-inch square pan
Arrange over top, 2 cups well-drained canned berries
Sprinkle with cinnamon (if desired)
Pour over it a mixture of —
1 egg, beaten
½ tsp. salt
1 tbsp. cornstarch
½ tsp. vanilla
Dot with 2 tbsp. butter (or margarine)
Bake 35 to 40 minutes—in a moderate oven, 350° F.

The Left-Over Berry Juice Makes Another Dessert

Whether we've pledged ourselves to clean our plates and starve the garbage can or not, we simply cannot see all the luscious juice drained from those berries thrown away. So here's a dessert you'll have occasion to serve often—whenever there's a pint of left-over fruit juice.

SIMPLE FRUIT PARFAIT

2 cups fruit juice (from canned fruit, such as raspberry, plum, etc.—or a combination such as plum and grape juice)
2 tbsp. cornstarch
Sugar or syrup to taste
Few drops lemon juice
Whipped Cream

Heat the fruit juice. Mix the cornstarch with a little cold water and stir into the hot juice. Cook a few minutes until it thickens. Add sugar. The amount will depend on the sweetness of the fruit juice. Add lemon juice if the juice seems too sweet. Chill thoroughly and serve in parfait glasses, alternating the thickened fruit juice with sweetened whipped cream. Top the last spoonful of whipped cream with a few of the berries—or with a red cherry—or bit of bright fruit—even bright jelly will do.

To Whip Plain Cream

To 1 cup fresh cream add ⅛ tsp. cream of tartar—or ½ tsp. lemon juice. Be sure to have your deep bowl for the cream and your beater well chilled. Whip with a steady motion, increasing the speed as the cream begins to thicken.

From the State Capitol

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

Four extra sessions of the Senate this past week, two in the afternoon and two in the evening, reduced by a considerable amount the mass of unfinished business that had piled up before us and cleared the way for action on such important matters as taxes and appropriations which are still ahead of us. The Senate tax committee has put in much time in the consideration of tax problems but tax bills must originate in the House. None of the tax measures has cleared the House as yet and so the argument on these questions has not started yet in the Senate.

Appropriations are acted upon in five general appropriation bills and one of these, covering semi-state activities, has been reported out of committee. Another, providing for state institutions, is in the process of preparation. In estimating the needs of our institutions, involving millions of dollars, there is a difference of about fifty thousand dollars in the recommendations of the House appropriations committee and the Senate finance committee, and these differences, considered small by the old timers, will be ironed out in conference.

This week two sessions of the finance committee were devoted to hearing the needs of the University. At the first of these sessions President W. C. Coffey and seven members of the Board of Regents spoke on various phases of the University's problems. It was one of the most interesting lecture courses it has ever been my privilege to attend and I came away from the meeting satisfied that our University, including farm schools, experiment stations, a hospital and many departments and agencies that provide special services, is well managed by an exceptionally able group of public spirited men.

The thing that impressed me about these reports was the fact that our University is more than a mill for manufacturing doctors and lawyers and engineers. The diplomas that are issued and the degrees that are conferred represent only a part of the University's purposes. An athletic program that is exaggerated far beyond its importance by the enthusiasm of fans and sports writers, is merely a bit of relaxation in an otherwise serious endeavor. Besides the service it performs in the field of education, the University is tremendously important as a laboratory for practical experiment. In a quiet, constructive way, the University has contributed more to the welfare of Minnesota agriculture than have all the state's politicians, and I think we are justified in looking forward with greater confidence to the benefits we will receive from research work by the University and its subdivisions than from the laws all future sessions of the legislature may pass.

These, of course, are not the things that were said to us by the Regents. What I have said here is merely my impression of what they probably were thinking. I agreed both with what they said and with what I thought they were thinking.

Getting back to what they actually said, much emphasis was placed on the justification for increased appropriations for research work, especially in an effort to find new uses for the farm products and raw materials that we have in such abundance. I can go along with them all the way in this direction because I believe that money spent wisely for such purposes will pay substantial dividends to all of the people of the state. On another proposal, however, I could not become enthusiastic. They would like to erect a new engineering building and expand in the field of aeronautical engineering. I was not greatly impressed by the argument that because we are nearer to the north pole than most states we should become the nation's laboratory for arctic flying. There are a lot of other uses that several million dollars could be put to, it seems to me, that would better serve the economic interests of the people of Minnesota.

My experience with the distribution of the state's money has confirmed my opinion that Minneapolis and St. Paul are not being discriminated against in our system of taxation. Citizens of these cities complain that they pay too large a portion of the taxes that build our highways and support our schools. It is true that a large portion of the state's revenue from income taxes and the taxes we levy on gasoline comes from the large cities. But it is also true that a large portion of what the state spends is spent in the large cities.

For Minneapolis the University of Minnesota alone justifies the large portion of the cost of state government that is paid by the city, for not only are millions of dollars, collected by the state, poured back into the city but the people of the city are provided with first class educational facilities that are available to them at much less cost than to people living in other parts of the state. St. Paul, which gripes less about such things than Minneapolis, has a state maintained payroll of enough millions to compare very favorably with whatever the capital city pays into the state's coffers. I am satisfied that our large cities are not being badly treated by our state.

This past week I enjoyed the interesting experience of rushing through the Senate a memorial to Congress asking for special consideration for Minnesota and other dairy states in the rationing of butter. The proposal ran into opposition on the floor but carried with only three dissenting votes. The appeal was based on the theory that in the rationing of foods the government should consider the normal eating habits of people. If it becomes necessary to ration fruits and vegetables, those parts of the country which depend more upon fruits and vegetables for their regular diet should be allowed larger quantities of such products. If it becomes necessary to ration sea foods then those communities along the coast that probably depend much upon the products of the sea should be given more of them than would be allowed to us who live inland. That sounds reasonable and so I think it is reasonable to ask that in the rationing of butter we should be allowed more than some other parts of the country.

The average butter consumption for the country as a whole is only about sixteen pounds a year and our rationing program allows nearly fifteen pounds to a person a year. In terms of national averages that isn't much of a reduction and in most of the country such a small reduction will mean little or no sacrifice. But in Minnesota the average consumption of butter is more than forty pounds a year, compared to less than seven pounds in some states. This means that while the people of Minnesota must reduce their butter consumption nearly two-thirds, some states will be allowed more than they ever used before. That doesn't sound reasonable. Maybe it isn't right to complain about such things in the period of the emergency but we are having so much government chucked at us these days by short haired women and long haired men that now and then a little complaining seems justified.

A couple of weeks ago I asked for opinions on a proposal to regulate June grass harvesting with the view of eliminating the weed spreading hazard. I have received quite a few replies, some favoring the proposal and some opposing it. After considering the arguments on both sides I have concluded that the proposed method of regulation was too drastic and I therefore will do nothing more about it. Thanks for your interest. It's nice to get a few letters that do not want us to spend more money and at the same time reduce taxes.

For the information of people in the east country I can report that the Highway Department has decided upon a streamlined type of construction for the Goodridge road as far east as the Banner School and black top the rest of the way to the Goodridge corner. I am informed that this job is going to be a part of the post-war construction program and the plans are being completed so that it will be ready for an early letting.

Thanks to Morris Bye I attended the state basketball tournament Saturday night and enjoyed watching George Lee call them in two of the games. George is as good a referee as he was a coach and I thought he helped the game along rather than hindered it as so many men with a whistle do. One of the officials was definitely unpopular with the crowd and took the usual panning. One of the "beefs" that gave Morris and me a chuckle came from a guy with a fog-horn voice who bellowed at the ump, "What d'ya do in the summer time, burn hospitals?"

And that reminded me that I will soon have to start thinking about what I will have to do in the summer. In another three weeks the session will end, my vacation will be over and I will have to start living among you again. Maybe I should start trying to be agreeable. From now on I will be more careful in what I say.

CONGRESS RESUMES FUNCTIONS

(Brainerd Journal-Press)

War news no longer commands exclusive dominance of page one of our daily newspapers. A self-assertive congress is also getting its share of publicity and this definite trend back to a government of checks and balances is almost as heartening to a discouraged and long-suffering public as is the war news from across the pond.

Particularly heartening is the way congress is demanding the why and wherefore of many things that too long have been taken for granted. Heretofore, for years, we have seen functionaries appointed by the executive department issue orders and decrees that were never created through any process of orderly legislation. We have seen these same bureaucrats probe into and domineer over the economic life of the nation in ways that have positively been to the detriment of the nation. We have seen bureaucracy spread into an unwieldy and uncontrollable menace, until its personnel is almost as vast as our wartime army. Congress has begun to question the motives behind this wasteful and inefficient phase of government.

Congress is asking these bureaucrats: "Are you worthy?" "Do you know your stuff?" "Is your job necessary?" "What are your qualifications besides loyalty to the New Deal?" These questions are sometimes very embarrassing.

The beauty of the present congress is that the lines of political cleavage are so sharply drawn that passage of ill-advised legislation is extremely unlikely, and that nothing will or can be done to hamper the successful prosecution of the war.

THEY SAW IT COMING

(Montevideo News)

Looks as if all of us will be thinking and talking about food more than ever. And it always was a popular topic.

Under the circumstances those who saw the food shortage coming are justified in saying "I told you so." Not as a matter of personal satisfaction; if they were foresighted before, it may well be that their ideas for meeting food needs in the future are worth listening to.

John Brandt, Land O'Lakes president, says that leaders of many farm organizations as much as two years ago began to warn against neglect of "food production and the possibility of food shortage." By January of 1942, he said, those closest to the dairy and livestock industry knew these products would be on the shortage list. He recalls:

"As these warnings were repeated by farm leaders and farm minded senators and representatives in congress a public disfavor was built up against them to the extent that their utterances were classified as being almost criminal and disloyal to a nation in war."

LIFE IS SIMPLE

(By Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek)

In a pamphlet issued by the Methodist Board of Missions

Life is really simple, and yet how confused we make it. In old Chinese art, there is just one outstanding object — perhaps a flower—on a scroll. Everything else in the picture is subordinate to that one beautiful thing.

An integrated life is like that. What is that one flower? As I see it now, it is the will of God. But to know His will, and do it, calls for absolute sincerity, absolute honesty with one's self, and it means using one's mind to the best of one's ability.

I used to pray that God would do this or that. Now I pray only that God will make His will known to me.

PRECIOUS FARM MACHINERY

(Alexandria Echo)

It is almost unbelievable the prices farmers are paying for used farm machinery and equipment offered at auction sales. Almost every sale brings out an incident in which the bidding was so keen for certain pieces of machinery that the buyer actually paid more for it than he would have to pay for a new machine in town.

Since the Nazi occupation of Denmark, barber shop customers in many places must bring their own towels.

The youngster who undertakes to be the last to cross the river ice should bear in mind that the feat also may be the last of him.

It looks now, observes the Mahnomen Pioneer, as tho Italy is playing the game with duces wild.

Short-handed as they are, local grocers and meat dealers are getting nothing but a headache out of the rationing program.

Only a bust, they tell us, will be an appropriate monument to Hitler.

Since the buying of war bonds is an investment rather than a donation, it doesn't seem impossible that Pennington county will attain its $230,000 quota in the April campaign.

Many a yearning look was cast at the local creamery last week when butter sales were halted by the OPA.

The low-income folks will agree that soaring prices are as effective a rationing device as any.

One project over which there should be no division of opinion is the community garden program headed by W. R. Ferber.

The Ruml plan seems to be having as hard sledding as the Rommel plan.

Looking Backward

1933—TEN YEARS AGO

Pederson, city clerk.—Sentiment of local citizens is strongly in favor of replacing the Auditorium recently destroyed by fire, it was brought out at an open meeting called by the city council.—Oscar R. Four Sledge Dogs from Red Lake Game Refuge Go into Army Service

The last four dog employes of the Minnesota conservation department have gone to war! Spooks, Mutt, Bozo and Prince, 65-pound cross-bred malemutes, samoyedes and shepherd dogs, until recently employed as sledge dogs for the division of game and fish in the Red Lake game refuge, were packed in crates and sent via train from Waskish to the war dog reception and training center at Camp Rimini in Helena, Montana.

The dogs are a gift from the game and fish division to the United States army. At Camp Rimini they will undergo rigorous training prior to going on active duty as sledge dogs with the K-9 division of the army.

It is likely, too, that the master of the dogs, Supervisor James Laughy of the Red Lake refuge, will have a chance to go to Alaska or some other northern clime with them. Although he was considering an Alaskan war job, Laughy changed his mind when he heard that Camp Rimini needs sledge dog trainers.

OPA FIXES PRICES ON RAYON HOSIERY

Rayon stockings, which more and more will become milady's standard hosiery, have been put under specific price ceilings by the Office of Price Administration. These prices range from a low of 12 cents a pair for the cheapest construction on seamless "thirds" to a top of $1.43 for the most expensive continuous filament full-fashioned rayon. The average types of rayon hosiery will range in price from 65 cents a pair for 39-gauge grade "B" hose to $1.05 a pair for 51-gauge grade "A" hose. Each pair must have imprinted on the welt the price and standard of the particular stocking.

EXTRA RATIONS FOR HIRED FARM HANDS

The northwest farmwife who might be concerned over the adequacy of her ration points when she tries to feed a crew of hungry harvest hands this summer can cease worrying. The Office of Price Administration assures her she can get extra points for the rationed foods she'll need when there are extra mouths to feed for periods of less than 30 days. Permanent farm workers turn their War Ration Book Two over to the farmer's wife so that she can apply the stamps to her purchases of rationed commodities.

WAITS 40 YEARS TO THANK HIS RESCUER

St. Cloud.—Forty years is a long time to wait to thank a fellow for saving your life. Paging through the Times recently Carl Doerner's eyes fell upon the "Forty Years Ago" column and noted a story "Four Pals Save Lad From Death." Four decades ago, at age eight, young Doerner fell into a lake one cold March day and four young lads rushed to his aid. Not until he read the item mentioned did Mr. Doerner realize that one of his best friends, Fred Kuerwer, had done the actual dare-devil rescue.

MISSING POWELL HEIRS

We want to get in touch with the heirs of John Homer Powell, who lived in or near Iowa Falls, and Marshalltown, Iowa, and Thief River Falls and Warren, Minnesota, about 40-50 years ago. His wife may have been Myrtle Melery before her marriage. It is thought he had two daughters named Edith and Edna, who would be around 45 years of age now, if living.

Anyone putting us in touch with the daughters, or other children if any, of John Homer Powell, will be doing them a favor. Write us if you have any information that might help.

INTERCLASS CAGE TITLE IS WON BY SENIOR QUINTET

Win Championship by Whipping Frosh 32 to 20 Wednesday

The Seniors, with a fourth period scoring spurt, defeated the upstart Freshmen team, 32 to 20, Wednesday afternoon to win the interclass basketball championship. The Frosh, after trailing by a 15 to 12 score at the half, tied the count early in the third period on Roger Tunberg's field goal; but the bulky Seniors began to sift through the Frosh defense for numerous set-up shots. Pete Michalsky looped in 13 points, and Don Aasland totaled 9 points, to lead the winners; while Johnny Powell connected for 7 points for the Freshmen.

The Seniors edged out the Sophomores, 15 to 11, in a defensive game Tuesday afternoon. In the upper bracket, the Freshmen surprised the Juniors by marking up a well-earned 25 to 21 victory.

WASHINGTON TEAM OF ST. PAUL TAKES STATE CAGE TITLE

Bemidji, Region 8 Champion, Is Consolation Winner in State Event

A "dark horse" St. Paul Washington team won the Minnesota state high school basketball title Saturday night by scoring a one-sided 52 to 33 victory over the Alexandria entry in the finals of the tournament played in the University of Minnesota field house on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Alexandria reached the final round by winning from Mankato, 29 to 20, and upsetting a favored Virginia team, 38 to 32; while St. Paul Washington was scoring a 41 to 25 win over Hutchinson, and a 23 to 18 triumph over Austin.

Bemidji, the eighth region's representative, and one of the pre-tourney favorites, was eliminated in a first round game, losing to a hard-driving Virginia team, 43 to 39. The Lumberjacks won the consolation trophy, defeating Mankato, 37 to 28, and Hutchinson, 47 to 38.

In one of the best played games of the tournament Bemidji, on Thursday afternoon, was taken out of the tourney by the Virginia Blue Devils, losing by a 43 to 39 score. The Lumberjacks, with Tom Corrigan and Phil Feir leading the scoring drive, held a 10 to 5 lead at the end of the first period, and a 24 to 22 margin at the half. Virginia opened the second half scoring with Bill Conner and Bill Willis, connecting with a pair of field goals apiece, giving the Range team a 32 to 29 lead as the final period began. Conner, Harry Roskoski, and Charles Silvola then clinched the game for Virginia, breaking up several Lumberjack plays and driving in for set-up shots. Corrigan pumped in a couple of long shots for Bemidji, but coach Barnum's team wasn't able to regain the lead.

Bemidji's co-captain, Tommy Corrigan, was honored by being selected on the all-state basketball squad, being placed at center. Other all-state selections were: forwards, Harry Roskoski and William Conner of Virginia, and Gerald Gelbmann of St. Paul Washington; centers, Hal Haskins of Alexandria, and Corrigan of Bemidji; and guards, Richard Kaess of St. Paul Washington, Pat Geraghty of Austin, and Clarence Jenike of Hutchinson.

OPA CALLS FOR MORE FARM TIRE RECAPPING

Office of Price Administration officials are advising northwest offices that replacements for farm tractor and implement tires will not be issued where the tires are suitable for recapping. Heretofore, recapping of rear wheel tractor tires was not required and replacements were granted even though the tire was suitable for recapping. Recapping material hereafter will be of a material made almost entirely of reclaimed rubber. OPA officials said a rationing certificate is not necessary to get a farm tractor or implement tire recapped with the reclaimed rubber material.

Cincinnati Reds Train in Indiana

Bratrud Clinics

For the second straight year the Bratrud Clinic team is perched on top of the local bowling heap, having won the city championship by defeating St. Hilaire in the finals Monday night. And you have to give Ben, Oscar, Cliff, Hovald, and Homer credit for being a gang of "pressure" bowlers, for they rode through the championship playoffs without the loss of a game. In fact, the Clinics have lost only one game in two years while competing in the championship matches and that was to the Poppler's Furniture team last year. This year the Bratrud team opened their campaign by defeating the Catholic Men in a roll-off for a place in the championship bracket; then knocked off the Thief River Pharmacy in a first round match; eliminated the Poppler's Furniture in the semi-finals; and subdued the St. Hilaire team in the finals.

That St. Hilaire team, though, is a stronger outfit than they showed in their match Monday night. It probably didn't make any difference in the outcome of the match, but the Saints were a bit "upset" when they rolled the final series. Just before they were to leave for Thief River Monday night a fire broke out in the St. Hilaire high school, and being members of the volunteer fire department the boys had hurried to the school and assisted in putting out the blaze. As a result they were forty minutes late in reporting for the bowling match.

Wally Against the Field

That appears to be the set-up as the city's twelve top-ranking bowlers square off for three four-game blocks to determine the city's individual bowling champion. In the qualifying round Wally DuChamp marked up scores of 198-217-168-222 for a huge 797 total, and judged on that form, Wally's the bowler to beat. Proprietor Oscar Cerny has donated a splendid trophy for the winner, and as there isn't any entry fee connected with the tourney, the bowlers paying only for their lines, the tournament is pretty much on an everything-to-win and nothing-to-lose basis.

While Wally has been installed as the favorite, there are several other bowlers that are capable of winning Oscar's trophy. Emil Dostal, Wally's uncle, can pile up a lot of pins when his strike ball is behaving properly; and so can Frank Kobliska, Ed and Wally Carlson.

"Indian" Wrestling

Harry Hendrickson, manager of Clarence "Busher" Hallstrom the "Indian" wrestler, reports that he is anxious to arrange several bouts for his protege. In a couple of informal bouts last week the Busher was unbeatable. There is one provision that Harry insists on before signing for a match, and that is that the bout be held in a high-ceilinged room, because his long-legged "wrestler" is handicapped by a low ceiling.

Is-My-Face-Red Dept.

The Freshmen made me look and feel like a tomato on Tuesday afternoon when they thumped the well-thought-of Juniors, 25 to 21, in an interclass game. I thought the Frosh were only in the tournament to provide a fourth team, but Minak Carlson, Roger Tunberg, Cliff Aase, Wes Hovie, and Johnny Powell, proved to be a bunch of hot-shots, pumping in eleven field goals while the Juniors were able to score but seven times from the field. The seniors, though, brought me back to normal by defeating the Freshmen in the finals, winning the interclass basketball championship.

High Scores Are Posted in Qualifying Round for the City Bowling Title

Wally DuChamp, Ed Carlson, and Wally Carlson posted scores in the 700's, to lead the qualifying round in the city's individual bowling championship. It is expected that all the bowlers entered will have rolled their qualifying scores by Friday night, and then the twelve high scoring bowlers will begin the tournament proper. The championship will be awarded to the bowler with the greatest total-pin counter after three four-game blocks have been rolled; and the winner will be given a fine trophy, which is being donated by Oscar Cerny.

Win Title for Second Year by Defeating St. Hilaire Bowlers

The Bratrud Clinic team—Ben Froiland, Oscar Cerny, Drs. Cliff Jacobson, H. Helseth, and Homer Hedemark—won their second successive city bowling championship Monday night when they defeated St. Hilaire in a two game match. The Clinic, carrying an 18-pin handicap, squeezed out a 14-pin victory in the first game, 818 to St. Hilaire's 804; but in the second game the medics pounded out an 832-pin total, while St. Hilaire had a 752 total.

In the semi-finals the Clinics scored a two-straight win over the Poppler's Furniture. St. Hilaire moved into the finals by upsetting the Eagles team in a three game match. The Saints lost the first game, and then came back to roll scores of 864 and 855 to eliminate the Eagles.

AIR RAID WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM IS REVISED BY ARMY

Allan Briggs, State Chief of Civilian Defense, Outlines Plan

By order of the army central defense command at Omaha, a revised air raid warning signal system has been inaugurated and established in Minnesota under a general order issued by the Minnesota office of civilian defense, announced Allan Briggs, Chief of Staff.

"The new blackout regulations," stated Briggs, "will afford a uniform air raid protection to the citizens."

Three major advances promised by the new regulations include: (1) minimum of time loss and interference with essential war production and transportation; (2) earlier blackout and more complete mobilization of the Citizens Defense Corps; and (3) uniformity, eliminating confusion caused by variations developed in several states.

Adoption of the new regulations by all communities throughout Minnesota takes effect immediately, and the order directs local defense councils to adopt these regulations in the future in the event of any blackout, practice blackout, or air raid warning of any kind.

When the air attack is "probable," the first blue signal is given, which is an audible, steady note of a siren, whistle, or horn, for at least two minutes. All units of the Citizens Defense Corps mobilize, at which time buildings are blacked out, but traffic, vehicular and pedestrian, may continue to move.

This blue signal is followed by a red signal, when the raid or air attack is "imminent" and raiders may not be more than five minutes away. It consists of a series of short blasts of a horn, whistles, or a warbling of the siren, and lasts for two minutes. When this signal is given, all traffic stops, persons seek shelter, and a complete blackout is in progress.

The second blue signal of a steady note of siren, whistle, or horn, following the red, indicates that the air attack may still be probable and enemy planes may return or a new wave of planes may be headed in your direction.

After the raiders have left and the danger has ceased, the white signal is given indicating "all clear." This may be given by radio, telephone, the turning on of street lights, or other means of public transmission decided upon by the local community.

High School Seniors Are Still Eligible for U. S. Naval Aviation Program

"V-5", the naval aviation program for high school seniors will not be closed until June 30, it was announced by Lt.-Cmdr. G. R. MacDonald, officer-in-charge of the naval aviation cadet selection board.

"Despite rumors, this program has not been closed," he added, "and 17-year-olds are eligible for it if they are in the upper-half of the senior class of boys. It is also open for 17-year-olds who have been graduated from high school."

V-5 is designed for those young men who want to fly, and offers a program unexcelled for training, Lt.-Cmdr. MacDonald added. It leads to a commission as an ensign in the naval reserve or a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps reserve, and permits the graduate to wear his Navy "Wings of Gold." The training requires more than 17 months, but when it is completed the new officer-pilot is a trained navigator, gunner, radio operator, as well as a pilot.

"If a young man really wants to become a flier, this is the program that he should enter, and as quotas are limited, he should not wait until June to do so. He may obtain full information by writing the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, 1645 Northwestern Bank Building, Minneapolis," Lt.-Cmdr. MacDonald said.

Sleet Storm Brought $400,000 DAMAGE To Telephone Lines

The sleet and snow storm which struck Sunday evening, March 14, and reached its peak intensity on March 16, brought $400,000 damage to Bell System telephone lines in Minnesota, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Greatest damage, approximately $300,000, was centered in the southern half of Minnesota. During the heaviest period of the storm more than 1,000 long distance circuits were put out of service and approximately 140 communities were isolated from telephone communication.

As ice began to form and wires were snapped off by heavy winds, telephone linemen, construction workers and materials were rushed into the storm area. Repair crews were quickly summoned from other states, some of them coming from as far away as Indiana and Missouri, and under blizzard conditions repair work was started. Blocked roads and driving snow made movement of men and materials extremely difficult and for three days heavy wind continued to break ice laden wires as fast as they could be repaired.

Because of the urgent wartime need for long distance service, repair effort has largely been centered in restoring these lines. Long distance service is again available over all routes, but local telephone service still is affected in many southern Minnesota towns and rural communities.

While repair work is being carried on as rapidly as possible, we realize that telephone service has been impaired at a time when it was needed badly. We thank telephone users for their patience and for their help in avoiding long distance calls during the storm period.

VICTORY TAXES ON SALARIES, WAGES ARE DUE IN APRIL

Employers Reminded to Make Payment to Revenue Collector

Since January 1, employers have been withholding the new victory tax from payments of salaries and wages made to employees. During the month of April, employers will forward tax withheld during the first quarter to the office of the collector of internal revenue in St. Paul.

Shortly after March 21, the collector will mail to all employers included on present mailing lists two copies of Form V-1, Return of Victory Tax Withheld, and an appropriate instruction sheet. V-1 is a very simple form containing space for the name and address of the employer, his signature and its acknowledgment, and the amount of victory tax withheld during the first quarter of the year. The form which has been imprinted in the collector's office and which contains the employer's name, address and filing number for the quarter, should be used by the employer in filing his first return; any necessary corrections in the name and address of the employer should be made on this form. The blank copy may be retained by the employer for his files.

Remittance, which may be in the form of check or money order, should accompany the return when filed, made payable to the collector of internal revenue. The remittance may not include other taxes such as income, employment (social security) or miscellaneous taxes; each tax must be paid by means of a separate remittance. Returns for the first quarter are due on or before April 30, 1943.

Two other Victory Tax forms, Form V-2, Statement of Victory Tax Withheld and Form V-3, Reconciliation of V-1 and V-2, should not be filed with the first quarterly return of the employer. These are to be filed with the last quarterly return for the year and are not due until after the close of the year, unless the employer quits business during the year, in which case these forms together with a "Final Return" V-1, are to be filed within a month after the close of his business.

Failure to receive blank forms does not excuse the employer from liability to penalties provided by law for failure to file returns on time, and any employer who does not receive blank forms on or before April 10, should request them from the collector of internal revenue, St. Paul, and they will be promptly forwarded.

TEN-YEAR-OLD SAVES PLAYMATE'S LIFE

Red Wing.—Modest ten-year-old Ernest Roesner of Goodhue, isn't posing as a hero these days, but nevertheless he's just that. His quick thinking saved his nine-year-old playmate, Jimmy Lohman from drowning in a deep cistern on the Roesner farm. Jimmy sliding off the ice-coated roof of a shed came off at an angle and fell directly through the cistern opening, 26 feet below and into 12 feet of water. He sank to the bottom of the icy water and then bobbed up to the surface, grabbing hold of the pump pipe. Ernest, seeing the plight of his playmate, pleaded with him to hold on while he ran for help. Fortunately, his father was close by and Mr. Roesner raced to the barn where he procured a rope, ran back to the cistern and pulled Jimmy to safety, little the worse for the experience.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Well," says Judge Cunningham. "I see they've got it!"

"Got what?" I says.

"Look," beams the Judge. And he pulls out an article about a special kind o' lie detector—an "Alcoholometer" they call it.

When a fellow gets haled into court for doing mischief, and blames it all on a "couple of beers," this scientific machine proves whether just a "couple of beers" is really the true answer.

From where I sit, I certainly agree with the Judge. The fellow with the alibi about a "couple of beers" is reflecting on good citizens everywhere who enjoy a quiet glass of beer with their meals—sittin' with their friends or just relaxing after a day's work. Moderate folks like that are entitled to consideration.

OPA CLARIFIES ITS RULING RELATING TO MEAT GRADING

No Grading Needed if Farmer Slaughters for Use in Own Home

Northwest farmers who slaughter livestock or have a custom slaughterer or a locker plant do the job for them do not need to have the meat graded if it is intended for their own family consumption, the Office of Price Administration said today.

However, if the farmer sells any part of the meat to another person, he must have the meat graded, OPA officials said. This is true also where locker plants obtain live animals for slaughter for sale to their customers.

Erratic interpretations on OPA rulings, the officials said, have led to assumptions that a farmer, bringing his own cow or pig to a locker plant or custom butcher for slaughtering, would have to have the meat graded just as the packers do. The requirement applies only when the farmer can consume only a part of the animal and sells some to other persons.

The OPA officials also said there are no restrictions on the handling of rationed foods in locker plants. Food may be removed from the locker plant without the surrender of ration point stamps by the patron. Families using meat from frozen storage plants are asked to retain red stamps in the family's ration books that are not spent because food direct from the farm has been used. The amount of food stored in locker plants is too small to justify the inconvenience surrendering stamps would entail, officials said.

OPA officials explained that all livestock slaughterers, including farmers and butchers who sell meat and who are not now registered with the OPA under meat restriction order No. 1, should go to their local boards and register. When meat is sold, the slaughterer must stamp his permit number on each wholesale cut after March 31. Permits to farmers and butchers and small meat packers will be issued by county war boards. A farmer who slaughters only for the use of his own family is not required to register.

TREAT SEED GRAIN THIS YEAR, URGES CO. AGENT PALMER

Condition of Seed [illegible] Worst in Many [illegible], He Reports

Don't take a chance on untreated seed grain this year. That's the advice from County Agent Ernest Palmer who reports the condition of this year's seed supply the worst in years. Wheat and corn are particularly bad, he says, with numerous reports from the State Testing Laboratory indicating low germination. Average wheat germination is only 79% and that of corn only 83%.

Wheat is badly infected with disease fungi, and corn hit by frost last fall is unusually subject to attack by soil fungi. Farmers who take chances without first treating wheat, oats, barley, flax and corn to control these seed and seedling diseases may experience serious crop losses later, M. B. Moore, plant pathologist at University Farm, states one of the commonest causes for nongermination of seed is parasitic fungi that attack the seed before harvest and again just before planting.

Much good is to be gained from seed treatment, says Moore, who points out that small grains treated over a period of years have given average increased yields of five per cent. In a few cases, wheat yields have been increased as much [illegible] per cent. Over a period of [illegible] treatments have [illegible] increase of three [illegible] is serious [illegible] farmers [illegible] by treating [illegible] treating [illegible] than 2 [illegible] Seed grain can be treated [illegible] between now and planting time.

New Improved Ceresan [illegible] ounce per bushel is recommended for wheat, oats, barley, and flax. For corn, Moore recommends New Improved Semesan Jr. or Barbak D (or Barbak C) at 1½ ounces per bushel. Any method that will get the dust thoroughly mixed with the seed is satisfactory. Farmers using these mercury dusts are urged to observe the same safety precautions as when using any other fungicide. Plans for a homemade seed treater which can be built for $3 may be obtained from the county agent's office. Two men, says Moore, can treat 30 to 50 bushels of seed in an hour with this homemade device.

Smut diseases are also controlled by chemical treatments, but with the introduction of newer resistant wheat varieties and with Vicland and Tama oats coming in, covered smut of barley remains about the only one to be controlled by chemical treatment. Treatment of flax seed, while it does not only have any effect on flax rust, does improve the stand considerably. Particularly yellow-seeded varieties which in some cases have been increased from 100 to 300 per cent after treatment.

TO MAKE 150,000 PRESSURE COOKERS

War Production Board officials authorized manufacture of 150,000 pressure cookers this year to aid housewives with their canning of Victory garden produce. While admittedly insufficient to meet anticipated demand, WPB officials said there is uncertainty as to whether more can be manufactured because of the scarcity of critical materials required in manufacture, such as metals and synthetic rubber rings required to seal the cookers.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

"SPOTLIGHT Bands", the radio program broadcast over Blue Network every week night for Coca-Cola, features the nation's favorite name bands. Their names mean something because their bands have something extra to offer. Coca-Cola got where it is by offering something that more than quenches thirst. It brings a delightful after-sense of refreshment, too.

In ice-cold Coca-Cola you find quality you count on. You find delicious taste that sets it apart. You find refreshment that goes into energy. Anybody can make a soft drink, but only The Coca-Cola Company makes Coca-Cola. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Both mean the same thing... "coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

Lines are put in, stages fixed, loudspeakers hooked up, and rehearsal begins. Soon, the boys in uniform will hear their favorite band in person just as their families will on their home radios.

RED CROSS NEWS

By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

Mr. Kjos announced that the Avalon and Falls Theatre will co-operate with the American Red Cross by running a trailer called "Somewhere in this World", along with their regular pictures, from April 1 to 7. Girl Scouts will pass collection plates through the audience. The donations will go to the Red Cross. The Pennington county chapter expresses its appreciation to all those taking part.

I think many people would be interested in knowing that no Red Cross worker in this chapter receives pay for the work he or she does. Whether its being chairman of the various services, soliciting for the War Fund drive, making surgical dressings or knitting etc., its purely voluntarily. There is a large number of people in our county doing all these services regardless and doing a mighty fine job of it. We are proud of them.

Mrs. A. C. Matheson reports the rural teachers and their pupils are working on an afghan for the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Harvey Patten still has room for a few more ladies in her home nursing class Friday evening at 7:30 at the Knox school. The Red Cross home nursing course is quite different from the first aid course. First aid teaches immediate temporary care to be given before the doctor arrives, while home nursing teaches how to recognize symptoms of illness and how to care for minor illnesses in the home under direction of a doctor. Mrs. Patten hopes to have a full class this Friday.

Mrs. Geo. Werstlein urges more women to help with surgical dressings. Young women and girls should feel that they are welcome too. Many of them have husbands, brothers or fiance in the services, and doing this work would be one way of doing their bit for their loved ones. Remember that even if its only two hours a week it helps a lot. Monday was a big day. They made 1200 bandages.

Mrs. L. W. Rullen has been absent several days due to illness.

The Concordia Ladies Aid of St. Johns Lutheran church will serve lunch in the basement of the auditorium Thursday evening to the Red Cross workers. Mrs. W. Lubits, Mrs. F. Harbott, hostesses.

With military and naval welfare service on the war fronts and home service on the home front, the Red Cross bridges the distance between the service man and his family. Liaison personnel, field directors, medical and psychiatric social workers, and recreation workers, know that the devoted energies of millions of Red Cross volunteers back home are theirs to command. Carrying their work to the far-flung fronts of the world, their activities reveal a cross section of the war itself, a story of human, personal needs and how the Red Cross helps to meet them.

During the year 1942, the American Red Cross:

Mobilized the resources of its 3,755 chapters and 6,000 branches to help the families of service and ex-service men.

Word has been received that Dolores Lendobeja is making her home with an aunt and uncle in Akron, Ohio, the Al Gerends, (Agnes Lendobeja). She is at present attending a school for specialized work and is getting good pay for that.

Mrs. W. E. Chapman returned Thursday from Mason City, Iowa, called there by the death of a relative. Mrs. Chapman spent a week visiting with relatives before returning here. Mr. Chapman has purchased a home in Thief River and they expect to make their future home there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Chapman spent Saturday evening at the Lester Jasperson home near Plummer.

The song of the Meadow Lark and soft warmth of the air, reports of baby lambs and pigs, and the many hundreds of baby chicks arriving give abundant proof of the long awaited arrival of Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Grinde were Saturday shoppers in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christophers visited Sunday of last week with relatives at Holt.

Anne Peterson and Irene Helgeland spent a week in Thief River Falls at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Lee Swedberg during a week's vacation from school because of blocked roads.

Rara Woolson was a caller Saturday at the home of Mrs. E. Zeh in Thief River Falls.

The fire department drive for funds for the new bed equipment met with very good success in the rural section with nearly every family on the dotted line.

The several Chapman families gathered Sunday at the Nelius Johnson home at Goodridge to celebrate the birthday of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mildred and Myrtle received many lovely gifts. During the afternoon all the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson gathered to bid them God speed and happiness in their new home as they and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hanson are leaving at once for Emerado, N. Dak., where they have rented farms.

ONE HAIRPIN CAUSES MAJOR OPERATION

Hallock.—No doubt, Mrs. Helmer Larson of Lake Bronson has held hairpins in her mouth for the last time. Through a costly and painful ordeal she has learned that it is unwise to do so. Suffering from intense pain and high fever recently she entered the local hospital for examination where an X-ray revealed the presence of a hair pin that had punctured the intestine. A successful operation was performed for its removal.

NECESSARY GAS FOR FARM TRUCKS ASSURED BY OPA

Will Receive Gas Essential to Needed Operation, Agency Reveals

Minnesota farmers may schedule their 1943 crops with the assurance of enough gasoline for all necessary truck operations, local fuel supplies permitting, the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington notified northwest regional war agency officials today.

"Farmers may request adjustment of their certificates of war necessity whenever changing conditions warrant," said a statement from Joseph B. Eastman, national director of ODT. "The ODT's mileage control program for commercial motor vehicles is completely flexible."

Farmers requests for gasoline, load or mileage adjustments should be made to the farm transportation committees of the USDA county war boards in the farmers' home counties. These committees ODT officials explained, are composed of the farmers' neighbors. Their recommendations will be accepted by the ODT district offices in making adjustments.

If a farmer's allotment is still insufficient, he may appeal thru his farm transportation committee to his ODT district office or directly to the district office. A final appeal can be made to the ODT regional manager. Emergency gasoline rations may be obtained from local war price and rationing boards while requests for adjustments or appeals are being considered.

NAZIS CAN'T LURE NORWEGIAN YOUTHS

Short of seamen, the Nazis in occupied Norway are striving hard to recruit boys between 13 and 18 in northern Norway to join Quisling's maritime service. So far, the effort has had little success because the boys have learned their lesson in patriotism the hard way, according to underground information collected by the Office of War Information. Quisling's year-old drive to get Norwegian boys to join the Nazi youth service has failed, only some 600 in the entire country joining up. Stiff parental opposition keeps up the morale of boys coming under Nazi influence.
